Moseley Honored at Washington

Receives Letter of Invitation From Wallace

Edwin L. Moseley, professor emeritus in the College of Agriculture, D. C., this week attending the 15th anniversary of the Association of Land Grant and Universities. Reputed for having taught school 49 years without a single absence, Prof. Moseley is among scores who are honored for their research in and contribution to agriculture this week in Washington.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of his research is a cycle of weather cycles, also that each alternate 45-year period is very dry, and the corresponding period is dry so that 90 years elapsed between the beginning of one wet period to the beginning of the next. The period just begun in 1938 will be probably very dry.

The sun spots may not be the only cause of this climate, since the sun was very quiet during the 15th century and three-quarters of the past century and three-quarters of the present century, and this is based on the fact that the corresponding period from 1890 to 1940 was also very quiet.

These weather cycles are due to the sun, or cycles of the sun. The sun spots may not be the most important cause of this cycle of weather change (Continued on page 2, col. 3).

Baldwin-Wallace Debates Here on Unions

Walnut Grove College will meet a Bowling Green debate squad in a practice match on the local campus Thursday at 4 o'clock. The B. G. team composed of Robert Bender, Steve Penton, and Lawrence Wilkinson will uphold the affirmative side of the Ohio College Debate. Question, Resolved, That the principles of no closed shop be adopted in American labor unions employing more than ten men.

Prof. Carmichael is in charge of the debate which is open to the public.

Dr. Offenhauer to be Introduced

Dr. Offenhauer will be formally introduced to the faculty and board of trustees at The Ohio State College by Dr. Robert Bender, president of the Practical Arts building.

The Committee on Curriculum is "Rethinking of Situation"

The Committee on Curriculum in Education has been established in order to bring the University and Training School in closer cooperation and to build a good curriculum that will be most effective.

This may lead to possible readjustments in the courses now offered.

The somewhat elaborate set-up is headed by President Offenhauer and the Dean of Education who are subordinated by the Committee on Curriculum and Reference Committees. The Production Committees are probably the mainstay in this new organization. There is a committee for each department, with committees from both the University and the Training School. It is from these committees that new adjustments will come. As Dr. Offenhauer put it, "It is a question of the whole situation."

DELHI ORGANIZE ALUMNI GROUPS

At the business meeting held following the Homecoming foot- ball game the constitution was submitted and approved for the formation and organization of a Delhi Alumni Association.

B.G. Passes Down Princess in Grid Season Final

Passing continuously throughout the game, a determined Falcon eleven caught Heidelberg off guard and defeated them, 12 to 0. For the first time this season he has even beaten a Student Prince team when the two elevens met Armistice Day at Tiffin. Thus the orange and brown closed a mediocre season of three wins, nine losses and one tie. The hilltoppers showed little power and were held completely in check throughout almost all the game, while the Falcons passed them dizzily with no less than 28 aerial attempts. The first B. G. tally was scored in the 1st quarter. After passes had brought the oval down to the six yard stripe, Harlan Kinney scrambled off his right tackle, cut back, and went over untouched. In the second period Dale Kuhlman dropped back to his 44 to lose a 15-yard pass to Young who dodged and side-stepped his way for 40 yards and the second score. Both times the attempted placement was no good.

Three seniors, Bob Young, Dale Kuhlman, and Harlan Kinney, playing marvelously, closed their college football careers while injured Captain Johnny Chestwood, the other senior, watched the game from the sideline.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Some of the girls from Toledo University will be guests of the W. A. A. Friday afternoon. At three o'clock will be the intercollegiate hockey game, and any spectactor, who are interested, are quite welcome to come out and watch the game. Rita Snyder, who is the head of hockey and who is the Captain of the varsity team, "We have a good team and are planning to defeat T. U." After the game the Toledo girls will be guests at a speacial Sports supper sponsored by the local W. A. A.

The soccer and hockey season will close with Thanksgiving vacation. Thus for this season the "Lugs" have only one defeat.

To hear their record, while the "Red Devils" are close behind them with only two set-backs.

Captain Wayne Stewart was the last one on the squad to hear, he was elected captain.... he had left for home before the 20 other lettermens had elected him to lead the 1939 edition of the Falcon super grid machine.

FROSH GRIDDERS LOOK GOOD

This year's Freshman squad is a good one. Although only 25 men are listed on the roster, many of the candidates show promise of becoming real varsity material if they are eligible next year.

There is a high numerical proportion of backfield men, some of whom have real ability. The line candidates are experienced with several big, tough

Studies go to Chicago

Miss Grace D. Wills spent the week-end in Chicago with her aunt. Among those with whom she was entertained were Dorothy Fortman, Tony and Virginia Francis, who were guests of Dorothy's brother, a chaplain in one of the hospitals. Tony and Virginia were also guests of Miss E. Vaughn, associate professor of English at Northwestern University.

HERE AND THERE

The U. of Toledo bemosored forth with a bureau to provide dates, suited according to mental, physical, and spiritual qualities. A small fee is charged by the student partners of the business affair, but the results, they say, are worth the asking.

B. G. S. U. isn't the only school in the state with a new student center. Our next neighbor, the U. of Toledo, has one also which was dedicated Oct. 16.

Bigger and better beauty contests now seem to be the vogue at the U. of T., where five junior women were judged selecting the most handsome male freshman.

The Central State Teachers College of Oklahoma initiated a new English placement test this year. Its purpose is to find the student's knowledge of English as used in written composition, not to find out his knowledge of grammatical terms. Since the terms taught in different schools or courses will vary, this may be such a bad idea.

The Vista, the paper of the Central State Teachers College of Oklahoma, has this bit of encouraging news for our educational department, "... at this time the demand for good educators is at the greatest since the war. This condition... will help the qualified and experienced teachers in obtaining increased salaries... will also bring into the profession beginning teachers in order to fill the vacancies."
