Werrenrath Distinguished By Familiarity With American Music

Reinald Werrenrath, the great American baritone, who appears at the Public Forum Tuesday evening, March 1 in a lecture recital, is better qualified from his own experiences to discuss American music, especially songs, than perhaps any personality now before the American public. Certainly very few singers have made more friends among American composers, or done more to champion the cause of American music. No other American singer has had more songs dedicated to him by American composers. Among Mr. Werrenrath's audience are friends Dr. Ray Taylor, Oley Speaks, Charles Wakefield Cadman, and a host of other friends.

An undoubted quality of the subject, Mr. Werrenrath approached his topic "American Song", on a personal, intimate, and always friendly basis.

Date Bureau Started At Shatzel Formal

Behind the scenes of the Shatzel Formal last week-end, and adding much to its success, was an experimental Date Bureau, conducted by Grace Heal, chairman of the committee, and Dr. Martin, member of the Social Committee. These two friends reported that between ten and fifteen dates were arranged, a good record considering the relatively small size of the campus.

Dr. Martin, who has advocated a Date Bureau here for some time, stated that the informal Bureau was merely a method of discovering the reaction of the student body to an attempt of this sort to follow.

Performance By Play Production Class Attracts 700 Students

The presentation of the play production class, comedy, "Spring Dance", attracted 700 students and townpeople to the Shatzel Formal last week-end, and showed that the idea of a Date Bureau here is a good one. The production was particularly suited for the entertainment of college students.

The comedy was distinctly inferior to the play produced by the same group last semester, "A Madrigal Evening", and the principal reason for this was the lack of continuity in the dialogue. In the"Spring Dance" the characters, especially the women, had no unity in their actions and there was no definite plot throughout the play. The players themselves were certainly not to be blamed for this, as they appeared in good form.

One of the best features of the "Spring Dance" was the appearance of the Glee Club and the University Orchestra, both of which performed at the Shatzel Formal last week-end. The Glee Club gave a complete program of four numbers, and the Orchestra played a set of four shorter pieces. The combined efforts of the two groups were very pleasing to the audience and added much to the success of the evening.

All GW's Must Be Removed This Week

The attention of all instructors and students is called to the following statement in our annual catalogue:

"A grade of GW must be removed from the record if the student is in attendance on Saturday of the next semester or summer session, upon which the student registers, or it automatically becomes an F.

Next Saturday, Feb. 26th, is the first Saturday of the present semester, and the last date for removing GW's without an F."

Revised Library Rules Permits Vacation Use

Committee Issues New Regulations

Ethy B. Blum, librarian, published today, through President Offenbauer, the revised rules for the use of the library by students and faculty members of the University, which were framed by the library committee, headed by Dr. Org, in conference with the librarians, are somewhat more liberal than the code which they replace.

There is nothing radically new in the rules, and they are largely a copy of those previously in use.

Bowling Green's cage squad produced one of the finest finishes of the season yesterday morning bewildered and bequelled by a superior Akron University team yesterday morning. No one in the student body was under the severest defeat of the season; their play was far below par. Probably the most complete forcast for the greater part of the evening by the Pio - knapsack, Tommy, Fred Brameau, the French Horn Quartet, composed of Nagelfoog, Pickering, Ewing, and Cunningham will present "Newteene" from Midsummer Nights Dream by Melodulena; A Masque of Swabia; Enchantedness by Birge and Finlayson by Silikiex.

Bowling Green State University has been admitted to membership in the American Alumni Council, it was revealed yesterday by Dr. Williams. Only ten schools of accepted standards are eligible for membership in this national organization, which is composed of alumni departments of the leading colleges and universities of the United States, Canada, and Newfoundland.

In the organization of the Union of States at Bowling Green is the district of Bowling Green in District V, which includes Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, West Virginia and Wisconsin. The meeting of District V, which convenes annually was held last spring at Akron's Hotel in Chicago Jan. 14 and 15. Dr. Williams, Director of Alumni Relations here, represented Bowling Green at the Chicago conference.

There was also an elaborate program of activities in publications from a large number of leading universities.
In recent years the trend of responsibility for facilities to maintain and develop physical well being has been transferred in a large part from the college to the community. The rise of intramural sports and colleges over the entire country. The immediate result has been the rapid development of immense intramural programs in junior and senior high schools and college organization.

The Intramural System developed from the varsity team system. In order to provide a wholesome outlet for these women and men not of varsity caliber, the Intramural Department found a vast field in which to work.

Your University sponsors one of the largest intramural programs possible. A year round schedule of seasonal sports is maintained for your benefit. It expands at every opportunity in hopes that it will take up another group of the student body and interest them in some healthful physical activity. Until recently we had believed it our privilege to sit in those rooms during the day, but we are now finding that several girls have been called down for this purpose. And so it happens the situation was one of mistaken identity, as the fellow not wanting to be there, but only obeying the rules.

In this respect we bring forth a very antagonistic feeling among the teams, etc., and in this situation, we have always been denied the use of sporting facilities in the evenings, except Friday evening.

My friend that we have used the porches only because we denied them the use of porches.

May I remind those of the faculty and administration who believe that one can win the right to the rules of war by war that we are now living in 1940. As those  who know, when denied a privilege we substitute another. And everyone to be driven from the dorms, when we shall be able to walk about, park our cars, and do what we choose, to this situation there is danger.

As I was writing the above paragraph was called to the written request of one of the better known and respected girls of our campus. The slip asked for permission to attend a baseball game at the village by her friend. Written in ink upon the slip was the words, "I don't care who I'm with. I want to be driven from the dorms," which is a chaperone.

"Now I ask you, is it altogether this? Do you agree with me that it is one of the biggest laughs we've ever received on campus?"

The others, I find, are typical of the kind and species of unreasonable rules which B. C., has for years known for.

I call upon the students for righteous appeal against such unfair, unjustifiable and undesirable rules. I say this rule is a nuisance? Come on fellows, let us show how we feel on the matter. Let's demand the right to park our cars, to entertain our friends all the time.

To be blocking the driveway, we should think something or a little "fetish" at home before doing it.

Our college is one of the biggest laughs we've ever received on campus. So far, we have never heard anyone else express the desire to use the porch, so let them go to it. Of course, nothing in public makes a fool of anybody, even in the shadows of the pillars of the porch, but that's the way they were brought up, and they're late to teach them now.

But we think, from a social rather than an individual point of view, the parked-car after the hours they propose, would make them lose a lot of neighbors to their neighbors, the Shatzel dwellers as a whole.

So, we have to hear anyone else express the desire to use the porch, so let them go to it. Of course, nothing in public makes a fool of anybody, even in the shadows of the pillars of the porch, but that's the way they were brought up, and they're late to teach them now.

William's Hall To Hold Annual Formal Saturday

JANE DEBORAH HEADS DECORATING COMMITTEE

The annual formal dance will be held on Saturday, Feb. 25th, in the Board Hall. This dance, due to the limited floor space, is confined to the students and their guests. A few bids will be added to these, friends of the girls of the hall. Much time and effort is being expended by the chairman of the decoration and program committees, Miss Jane Debohr, chairwoman of the decoration committee and a member of the program committee, to make this event a highly successful one.

Mrs. Ruth McWilliams gave a dinner on Wednesday, Feb. 16th, for the men of the hall, and a program was arranged in which Miss Phyllis Logan sang "At Dawning." She was accompanied by Miss Charlotte Dunipace and played the piano. Miss Louise Debohr gave a reading entitled "They Did, In the Usual Way." Their efforts are expected to make the hall social affair.

SHATZEL FORMAL IN NAUTICAL SETTING

Amid flags, rope, and lifebuoy, and other nautical trimmings, the Shatzel committee has planned to carry out the theme of the campus dance under the guidance of Wayne Williams' orchestra which will play for this affair.

Mrs. Ruth McWilliams were the other committee members.

Geib Tells "Y" Men Of Future Conference

Last Thursday evening one of the most interesting Y. M. C. A. meetings of the year was opened by the President, Web- ster Geib, who told of some of the Y's conferences that are to be held this spring. Then the group swung under the direction of Lloyd Long. The meeting was then turned over to Leonard V. Marley and Paul Moore who spoke on the objectives of the Y. M. C. A., which are Mind, Body and Spirit. They told of some things the "Y" could do to promote better the three objectives. One of the things mentioned was fixing a room up where the boys could go during the day to relax and discuss problems. A panel discussion among the members was then held on this subject.

Because of the basketball game this Thursday, there will be no Y. M. C. A. meeting, but the conference is to meet for a few minutes Thursday at 7 p.m. in room 103.
