To Edit "News"

Baron Assumes News Editorship In Next Issue

Beatie Resigns Post
New Sports Editor To Be Abe Kownen

Robert Baron, present sports editor, will take over the editorship of the Bee Gee News with the next issue following the resignation of George Beattie, present editor-in-chief.

Beattie was elected in the spring of '38 and assumed the editorship when George Squire resigned last fall. Editor Beattie's heavy schedule this semester has forced him to drop responsibilities on the News, but he still expects to take part in its production. "Abe" Kownen will be the new sports editor.

Under Baron's editorship the Bee Gee News will go on as favoring the following: a social room for men where men can smoke and talk, a program of activities to keep students on the campus over week-ends, a campaign to increase school spirit held behind athletic teams, the growing traditions of B. G. S. U., a walk across the campus from the corner of Worthington and Thurston to the library in the place of the quaply growing path already there.

In taking over the paper Baron hopes to increase its size as seen as possible to receive more favorably with those of other colleges. All dead lines is to be cut out, according Baron, and there will be more features, and a progressive improvement in keeping up to date with the radio. The ensemble will make a colorful appearance in their red coats and beef trousers. The "outline" will be chosen from a repertoire of over a hundred songs.

Admission to the Ohio Northern, Bowling Green game will be $1 a person. The game starts at 2:15 at Northern's field.

The singers have just returned to the United States for their third transcontinental tour, under the direction of R. Festyn Davies. They recently gave concerts in the 1938 Toronto Exposition, and have in the past sung before the King of England, Honorable David Lloyd George, and other famous personalities. Every member of the group has been an Eistedfodd prize winner, and several are opera singers. The evening ensemble will make a colorful appearance in their red coats and beef trousers. The "outline" will be chosen from a repertoire of over a hundred songs.

The University Board of Trustees approved plans for the construction of a $168,000 men's dormitory at a meeting yesterday, October 18, at 4:00 P. M. The University will begin advertising for construction, heating, and plumbing contractors before the end of the year.

The advertisement of bids will continue through four weeks. The Board of Trustees will again consider bids before December 7 of this year, and construction will begin immediately thereafter.

Dr. Offenhauer hurried back to B. G. U. yesterday afternoon after a conference with the State Architect, to arrange for this important building project.

State Architect John P. Schooley describes the exact location of the structure as one hundred feet east of the dormitory site, one hundred and fifty feet north of Hinkle Hall, and one hundred and forty feet south of Eastwood Tower. The new dorm will be faced with brick, housing about one hundred forty men. A dining hall, which measures eightyseven feet by forty feet, is located on the first floor. Ninety per cent of the rooms are double, containing two cots.

Forty-five per cent of the estimated cost of $168,000 will be furnished by the Federal Government through the Emergency Relief Act, and by contract the building must be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, 1939.

COMPTON TELLS OF SCIENCE AND MAN

Physicist Packs Assembly

"Science is the force that will bring perfect world-wide harmony to man," Dr. Arthur Compton, Nobel prize winner in physics told a packed auditorium of over twelve hundred students and guests at a special assembly last Monday morning.

Speaking with the authority of one who has mastered a subject, and with the bearing of an accomplished lecturer, Dr. Compton briefly compared the magnitudes of the effects on human life of the World war and of the discovery of X-rays before plunging into a philosophical discussion of the place of science in the modern era.

He stated that mankind can advance only three ways— in techniques, in knowledge, and in the respect of the rights of others—he went on to show that the major achievement in all three advances.

Science, by its discoveries, has taken man to the stars, it has taken man to the depths of the sea, and it has given new life to war and death.

Religion Needs No Billboards...

All religious activities must be carried on in a refined, dignified manner if the respect and reverence which is necessary to further a faith in God is to be retaile.

No matter how high the purpose of a religious organization, it cannot carry on a program which does in any way, tend to lower the standards of veneration which is usually attached to such an organization.

We find in the college world many things which compete with religious organizations for our time and thought. And yet a religious organization cannot attempt to meet this competition by a method which treats its own purpose, by a method which cannot but lower, in the student's mind, the attitude of reverence toward that organization.

Highly colored advertisements of near billboard proportions cannot be associated with a feeling of respect. They belong to the world of the theatre, the circus, or a cure-all mouth wash.

When there is evidence of competition in placing those advertisements in the most conspicuous places, when quantities are so great as to cover those places with an insufferable grouping of colors, sizes, and shapes, when religious organizations lower themselves to advertising after the manner of some commercial venture, then, such organizations must expect to lose a degree of their dignity and refinement.

When these qualities are lost there cannot be reverence and respect. Without reverence and respect, religion means nothing.

The Bee Gee Falcons have their work cut out for them in future weeks. Each week passes every opponent on the Orange and Brown grid card approaches to get stronger.

Three Unbeaten Teams

Within the next three weeks Bowling Green will meet eleven who up to today, have been unbeaten. Ohio Northern leads the Ohio Conference with four victories and no defeats. The Falcons beat Findlay 18 to 12, scored twice on Wittenberg, ran up 50 points against Ashland, and crossed Capital's goal line four times. This year the Polar Bears have had the likes of the Tightest teams in their history, but, at that, B. G. won't outweigh them.

Yop! It Tough

After downsing Indiana St. Toledo, Northeastern N. M. and Division Normal, Michigan N. M. whom the Falcons play Oct. 29, and possibly warming to future foes by toppling Wayne University 20 to 7 last Saturday, the first day of the season, they had beaten Wayne since 1935 and it is up to the seniors to push and keep their team in better smaller schools. Incidentally, Wayne enroll schools about 16,000 front.

Mighty Kent

Also undefeated to date is Kent. The Starnes coach, given a set down Allison, Heidelberg, Findlay, and Hob- loman, Kent is the team. The Falcons possess a mighty line and a heavy backfield accord Falcons reports from these past games. Also their ace quarterback, Falcon grid squad dug down this stone. There was but one instance in which he hurt his foot on a pass.

However, one consolation the Falcons do have, and that is of that Kent must play U. of Buff-

"Beat Northern or bust." With that thought in mind the Falcon grid squad dug down this week to a period of concentration, still to perfect their work spots and possibly devise new tactics to employ against Ohio Northern's unbeaten Polar Bears when the two teams meet at Ada, Saturday, in their 11th annual conflict. The traditional game will be climaxed by Northern's annual homecoming, but to make the setting more attractive to the Northern fans, the B. G. S. U. Grid Team will be present in full regalia.

Beginning this week Harry Ockerman is expected to lose some weight this week as he pushes his Falcon on with added incentive to win and gain revenue over the enemy that beat them 9 to 7 in a bitterly fought contest here last year. The Falcon mentor is still seeking his first victory over the coming foe, Ohio Northern University grid machine placed it-twice on Downs.

Bears Are Oldest Foes on Falcon Grid Card

The oldest rivalry on the 1938 football card of the Falcons is the coming foe, Ohio Northern University, which school has met Bowling Green on the gridiron ten times.

In those ten times Northern has won 5 times, Bowling Green 3 times and two were tied. Even so, surely enough, Bowling Green has never scored more than one touchdown against the Falcons in any one contest while the Hardin county school has tried and in the local football folk pretty evenly on four occasions.

This last year's 9 to 7 win by virtue of a placekick from the 15 yard line in the final quarter is still a sore spot in the side of the Falcons, who intend to spill Northern's homecoming Saturday if it day is humanly possible.
