Ohio State Swimmers Star
In Natatorium Dedication

President Knickerbocker Awards $10,000,000
For Fully Equipped Natatorium

Ohio State University President H. R. Knickerbocker of Columbus, Ohio, announced today that $10,000,000 has been awarded to the University by the President Knickerbocker Foundation, Inc., for the construction of a new $110,000,000 Natatorium to be built on the University campus, Columbus, Ohio.

The Natatorium will be the largest and most modern in the world, and will be located on the east side of the University campus, adjacent to the present swimming pool. The new pool will be fully equipped with all modern facilities, including a 50-yard swimming pool, a 25-yard diving pool, a 10-yard diving pool, and a 5-yard diving pool.

The Natatorium will be used for both competitive and recreational purposes, and will be available to all University students, faculty members, and the general public. The Natatorium will also be used for the holding of special events, such as tournaments, exhibitions, and other competitions.

The construction of the Natatorium is expected to begin immediately, and will be completed within two years. The project will be financed entirely by the President Knickerbocker Foundation, and will be undertaken in cooperation with the University of Columbus.

The Natatorium will be a symbol of the University's commitment to excellence in education and athletics, and will provide a world-class facility for the University's swimming and diving teams. The University is confident that the Natatorium will be a source of pride for the University and the community, and will contribute significantly to the University's reputation for excellence.

PhD Charles F. Church of the Ohio State University delivered the dedication address at the ceremony. The ceremony was attended by the President of the University, Mr. H. R. Knickerbocker, and other dignitaries.

The dedication ceremony was followed by a reception, during which the President Knickerbocker Foundation announced the award of the $10,000,000 grant to the University.

The University is grateful to the President Knickerbocker Foundation for its generous support, and looks forward to the completion of the Natatorium, which will provide a world-class facility for the University's swimming and diving teams.
Man Of The Week

We wish to nominate Coach Bud Cox as the man of the week.

The dedication of the new natatorium was one of the events that we have not had the opportunity to hold at the University in the past few years. For many years, the natatorium was a popular attraction, and now it has been opened to allow students to enjoy the facilities and support the swimming and diving teams in the facility.

The Ohio State swimmers and divers have given a great deal of credit to Coach Cox for his dedication and efforts.

The University News Bureau wishes to thank Brutus for his help in the initial presentations of the splendid equipment and to thank the state and the Ohio State Department of Education for the support and encouragement they have given.

The people present for the dedication have received much credit for their contributions to the success of the event.

The Student Council is promoting a come-to-See-Brutus event, which will take place on the campus. The council is inviting all students to participate in the event and to enjoy a stress-free environment.
