Parties Prepare Slate For Annual Campus Election

SGL Present Candidates for Class Offices, Council, Social Committee

CFO Candidates Not Yet Revealed; Fraternity Sorority Group Again Hopes For Landslide; Bowers Candidate for Senior Class Presy

A complete slate of candidates for the SGL election was drafted and presented to the student body at a general assembly meeting held at the Student Union on Saturday afternoon. The election will be held on April 25, climaxing the annual campaign of the organization. The SGL election is open to all members of the junior and senior classes.

The slate consists of 12 candidates, including two for president, two for vice-president, one for secretary and one for treasurer. The remaining positions will be filled by the candidates for the Council and Social Committee.

The slate includes: Tim Myers, president; John Davis, vice-president; Jack Thompson, secretary; Jim Fowle, treasurer; John Bower, council member; and Bill Whitlock, social committee member.

The slate was endorsed by the SGL executive committee at a meeting held last week. The committee also decided to hold a series of debates between the candidates to give the students an opportunity to hear their views on the issues.

The election will be held on April 25, with polling places set up at the Student Union and the main campus. The results will be announced the following day.

By DON CUNNINGHAM

Athletic Director Harry Ockerman announced plans for the Athletic Code for Bowling Green State University, effective for the next two years. The announcement was made Monday evening by the athletic department.

The code consists of 128 paragraphs detailing the code of conduct expected of all members of the athletic department. It is the policy of the athletic code to be the guide in all athletic matters.

A new feature of the code is the provision for the athletic code to be enforced. The code states that all members of the athletic department are expected to follow the regulations of the code and that any violation of the code will result in a fine or suspension.

The code also states that all members of the athletic department are expected to follow the regulations of the code and that any violation of the code will result in a fine or suspension.
