32 Students In Graduate Work Here

Tentative Registration is Down At Old Mark

Thirty-two students are enrolling for graduate work this fall at Bowling Green State University. The number is a decrease as compared to last fall when the number was thirty-seven as shown by the registrar. Registrant J. W. Black states that at the February 13 deadline the total number enrolled was forty-six.

The course offered in graduate work includes business administration, education, agriculture, and education.

Student Council announces election plans

Student Council has announced plans for the election of officers in November. The local elections will take place on the second Tuesday of the month. The candidates for the various offices have been chosen, and the candidates must be members of the student body to be eligible to run for the office. The plans for the election may be submitted to the registrar for approval.

Vitamins To Win

United Brethren-Oldham College presents a game, "Vitamins To Win," to be held in the University Union on Wednesday evening. The game is open to all students, and prizes will be awarded to those who win.

Bowling Green State University Offers Only Academic Course In Distributive Education

Bowling Green State University offers only an academic course in distributive education. This is the result of the efforts of the department of business education, which has been working on the development of this course for a number of years. The course is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in the field of distributive education.

Falcon Facts

by Don Cunningham

During registration week all new students received a copy of the Handbook of Intramural Sports for the coming year. I would like to extend a word of appreciation to the officers and members of the various sports organizations who have been so helpful in passing these books around the campus. I hope that all students will find the handbook a most useful manual.

The book is by far surpasses the first publication. It is more complete in giving information of how to become a member; the duties of the team managers; the program which will be carried on throughout the year, and the extensive award system which will be offered. The last few pages contain a record of the results of the intramural sports last year. The general rules and regulations governing intramural sports can also be found in this handbook.

FALCON DIVISIONS IN NEW SET-UP

Intramural Director Paul E. Landis and his large group of student aids have already set up a fall sports calendar which can be found elsewhere on this page. Four divisions in participants have been made. There will be class groups, morning hours and intramural activity, a faculty program, and certain individual sports. The faculty and the individual sports are the latest additions to the varsity program.

A large sum of money has been set aside to provide this much intramural activity in the relatively short time that will be available. Stipends will be given each class or organization entering a team. Each sport is rated according to the respective one in which it finishes. Minor sports will be judged on a 5-3-2-1 basis while the major events will receive points on a 1-5-10-15 basis. These awards will be made upon a point system basis. Entrance is open to all members of the classes.

The intramural handbook also includes an outline of the awards that the department will make. These awards will be made at the end of each week, and the extensive award system which will be offered. The last few pages contain a record of the results of the intramural sports last year. The general rules and regulations governing intramural sports can also be found in this handbook.
