Fervor Of Acclaim For Miami Migration Indicates New Spirit

The controversy concerning the admission of color at Bowling Green State University has spread throughout the country. This controversy has brought to light the many factors involved in the problem of race relations. Among these factors is the question of whether or not the issue of race should be made a political one. The controversy has also brought to light the need for increased education in this field.

Among these materials on which the controversy centers, one stands out as particularly important. This material is the so-called "white paper" on which the issue of race is based. This paper was prepared by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and was distributed to all members of the organization.

This paper contains a detailed analysis of the problems involved in the issue of race. It stresses the importance of education and cooperation in the solution of this problem. The paper also emphasizes the need for increased research in this field.

Fervo Of Accolam For Miami Migration Indicates New Spirit

The controversy concerning the admission of girls to the Bowling Green State University continued to grow on the Bowling Green campus last week, as it did in many colleges of the country. In a survey conducted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, it was found that many institutions of higher education have admitted women to their rolls in recent years. However, the University of Cincinnati, which had previously admitted women, has since revoked this policy. It is believed that this is due to the fact that the Cincinnati administration feared that the admission of women would result in a decline in the academic standards of the institution. In any case, the controversy over the admission of women to the University of Cincinnati has been hotly discussed, and it is expected that the issue will be brought up again in the near future.

Lack Of Earloose Forces Paralyzes Fight Against Automobile Training Class

It was decided at a special meeting of the faculty last week to discontinue the Automobile Training Class due to lack of sufficient funds. The class was started last year with the hope of providing training for students interested in the automobile industry. However, due to the lack of financial support, the class has been unable to continue.

The CAAN course, which was given last term, will be offered again this term. The course is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of the principles of automobile repair and maintenance.

Frosh Mourn As Pugh Sedges Off Hopes of Freedom

Frosh Clues Usual Reward For Upperclassmen

"Win as Walk-Away"

By DOROTHY ANN SALWIN

One of the biggest and most exciting events of the year was witnessed by several hundred Bowling Green State University students last night as the Frosh Clues Usual Reward For Upperclassmen: "Win as Walk-Away." The program, which was planned and executed by the frosh, included several events designed to make the trip to the Frosh meeting as festive as possible.

Freedom was a popular subject (punningly, because fresh men wish to be freed from the clutches of the upperclassmen and the oppressive regulations that they have to obey in order to get their degrees). The subject of their speeches was "Win as Walk-Away."

The "grand exodus" will begin after the frosh meeting, and students will be able to go and come as they please. This will be the first time that the frosh have been given this privilege, and they have been excited to learn about it.

Zippers Outclass Battling Brood. 8-9 In Mud Battle

Intercepted Pass And Blocked Kick Lead To Akron Scores

Playing on a rainy field against a strong University of Akron team the Falcons were halted in each of their first three drives of the year by the 8-0 score last Friday night in a nip-and-tuck game played in the mud of Akron.

The Zippers presented a strong defense on the next play from scrimmage. In fact, the Zippers were the first team to have the ball from scrimmage during the entire season.

The Zippers scored twice in the first period when Marquant covered his block of a kick to the one.

Interception Means Score

In the fourth quarter, the Zippers scored the only touchdowns of the game. With the ball on their own 15 yard line, they moved down for a touchdown on 24 points for the game. Luck's charges marked up 61 yards by rushing and 23 points by passing.
