Outstanding classified staff members are recognized

Classified staff met March 27 for their annual awards ceremony and Classified Staff Council scholarship presentations. Cindy Koontz, bursar’s office, was honored with the Outstanding Service Award. She received $1,000, a plaque and a reserved parking space for a year. Koontz was lauded for being a hard-working and caring employee with a contagious positive attitude, who reaches out to mentor and motivate others. The Team Award was presented to the Harshman custodial staff, whose members include Jane Adamcak, Carol Bowser, Debra Browne, Wayne Frechette, Angela Heyman, Susan Orwig, Debra Potter, Virginia Roberts, Mary Sanchez, Sheri Souder and Dave Tracy. The team received a plaque and will share a $1,000 cash prize.

Nominators wrote that many of the team members are on a first-name basis with the hall’s residents and staff members, and truly care about student concerns within the halls. Supervisor Carol Bowser was credited for her quiet leadership and inner strength, which have helped produce a solid, dependable, efficient, and well-liked custodial staff.

The council also presented 11 $250 scholarship awards, with three going to staff members Dorothy Grassley, Graduate College; Kerby Nelson, residence life; and Laura Pokorny, political science. Eight staff members’ dependents received scholarships as well.
