Center's spring programs help fight winter 'blahs'

Registration will continue through Jan. 28 for the Student Recreation Center's series of special spring programs.

Two five-week session programs will be offered during the semester, with the first session run from Jan. 31 through March 4 and the second session from March 14 to April 22. The fee for most programs, payable upon registration, is $5.

The Rec Center office is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays to accommodate those interested in registering. A bulletin board is maintained at the main entrance for students with questions about the programs. All programs will be held at the pool area in the Student Recreation Center.

The fee is $25 per session and is payable upon registration. A free health-risk appraisal will be offered during the first week of the program to determine eligibility. The fee of $25 per session includes pool fees and health-risk assessment.

Phantom Philippe Gents, who has won cups around the globe for his new dimensions in the ancient art of puppetry, will bring his company of puppets to the University Union on Monday, Jan. 30, as part of the University Artist Series. The performance will be at 8 p.m. in the University Union.
Board of Trustees

A resolution to the Academic Council which provides a vehicle for academic change in our respective colleges was adopted and approved by the Faculty. An independent review of the College faculty was completed prior to the meeting.

The charter revision, which was endorsed by the Faculty Senate last year and which is now being revised in order to be approved by the University Senate, is now being reviewed by the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board. The revision process is expected to be completed by the end of the month.

Faculty in schools to separate from their autonomous status was approved by the Board of Trustees in February. The vote was taken after a lengthy discussion by the Academic Council. The vote came on the recommendation of the Academic Council, which said the revision has no cost implications and creates no new authority and responsibility for the charter revision are being asked to study and report to the Board of Trustees.

Dr. John G. Merriam, political science, said the revision has no cost implications and creates no new authority and responsibility for the charter revision are being asked to study and report to the Board of Trustees.

When a school's organized for winter quarter will be reviewed by the appropriate charter revision committee. The charter revision committee will be chaired by Dr. Ronald Arellano, political science, and will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

The faculty handbook is to be revised to reflect changes in the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

Students have been asked to study and report to the Board of Trustees on their semester break learning about the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

When a school's organized for winter quarter will be reviewed by the appropriate charter revision committee. The charter revision committee will be chaired by Dr. Ronald Arellano, political science, and will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

The faculty handbook is to be revised to reflect changes in the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

Students have been asked to study and report to the Board of Trustees on their semester break learning about the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

When a school's organized for winter quarter will be reviewed by the appropriate charter revision committee. The charter revision committee will be chaired by Dr. Ronald Arellano, political science, and will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

The faculty handbook is to be revised to reflect changes in the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

Students have been asked to study and report to the Board of Trustees on their semester break learning about the charter revision. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.

When a school's organized for winter quarter will be reviewed by the appropriate charter revision committee. The charter revision committee will be chaired by Dr. Ronald Arellano, political science, and will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis. The charter revision committee will be composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. The charter revision committee will be offered to faculty on a credit or non-credit basis.
Faculty input sought as charter revision begins

A timetable has been set and work has begun on the 1984 revision to the Academic Charter as requested by the Faculty Senate. The Academic Senate, the Faculty Handbook, and the American Association of University Professors have been asked to review and comment on the draft. The charter revision committee will be presented to the Academic Council at its May meeting. Faculty Senate recommends that comments be submitted by April 15.

The charter revision committee will be appointed by the Academic Council at its May meeting. Faculty Senate recommends that comments be submitted by April 15.

Faculty Senate recommends that comments be submitted by April 15.
APPLE top lists of computer hardware currently on campus

The APP List is a computer hardware list published by the Apple Computer Company. It includes information about the latest computer hardware available for purchase. The list is updated regularly to reflect new products and changes in the market. The list is typically divided into categories such as desktops, laptops, and tablets, with each entry including details about the product, price, and availability. The list is a valuable resource for individuals and organizations looking to purchase new computer hardware.