Orris Expresses Danger in "Anti" Attitudes

DANGER of an "anti" attitude in America was expressed by Dr. William Orris, America's architect, during an assembly address last Wednesday. "Where-ever I go in the United States, everyone is 'anti' someone," he said in characteristic, negative, and defeatist attitude in Europe and know what it leads to," Dr. Orris explained.

We must be pro-American. We must and should criticize, but only after thinking through to a better way of doing things and then by gathering people with similar views around us and having change in the American way. To be pro-American means to be constructive. Let us understand what we mean by the American way of life and translate it into our daily lives. Don't tell others how to be better Americans. Set a good example.

"Fifth columnist and saboteurs are not destroying bridges and munition plants as in the last war, but are creating moral sabotage behind the closed doors of the American homes who protest they are 100 per cent Americans. Their influence is spreading, and try to weaken us that way."

Dr. Orris said a text to show how good an American one is can have one question. Do you even know what words as bigger, dago, yap? He said that if the United States came to show that the American way of life works in North America, it will work in South America and the other countries of the world.

The speaker, who received in 1936 an invitation from Freud to go to Europe and work with him in Vienna, told of several experiences he had had in Europe studying and teaching the next several years.

"I believe that Hitler, if not insane before, became so after returning to Australia with his army troops. He was not a good pupil, and had been kicked out of school. He was not a good soldier, and had been discharged after an slight wound. He was not a good house painter, and had been asked to leave his community because he was a social misfit," Dr. Orris observed.

"Here was a social misfit returning to rule his home country. Imagine what a change that was. I heard him speak in England and told him that his action is remarkable. He started quietly and told of the good, the bad, and the ugly. He won the First World War and of inflation. He cried—and the Austrians.

"Then he spoke of the German enemies. He raised his voice and finished saying the truth."

Joe Glander To Enter U. S. Navy

Now he's Lt. (jg) Joseph H. Glander, U.S.N.R.

The university coach and athetic trainer has been sworn into the Navy at Toledo and ordered to report to Chapel Hill, N. C., for the 30-day indoctrination course. He will have for physical education teaching in navy pre-flight school.

He expects to be assigned to work similar to that of two for-two. It will be the Green State University physical education faculty, Lt. Fred Marsh at Athens, Ga., and Lt. M. B. Cox at Montery, Conn.

Mrs. Glander is the former Ruth Birden of Sandusky.

The new officer probably will be unable to be here August 13 to receive his master's degree at the summer commencement at the University. He has completed the work on the degree, however, and has chosen to accept the offer of the World War and Intercollegiate Athletics.

Summer Swimming Schedule Given

The Bowling Green State University Natatorium will open for public swimming, during the summer, from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 3 to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Students will be admitted by activity cards, faculty members may obtain "pas cards" for $1.00, and any additional members of their families will be admitted for $1.50. Tickets may be purchased in the Business Office.

Good Times Planned For Students

Miss Grace Willis, chairman of the social committee, has outlined the activities for the summer. It is not possible at the present time to include all of the events and students are asked to watch the bulletin board in the Campus building for the full schedule.

The campus and V-S men have already enjoyed two events previously. The W-S women will have the next two events.

Last Friday night there was open house at the nest with dancing and refreshments. The V-S men were guests and are invited to the rest of the social functions.

Last night under the direction of Mr. C. M. McEwen, an all-campus king was held on the auditorium steps. Mr. Ivan Petroff, nineteen year old violinist was the outstanding feature on the program.

On Thursday, June 24th, there will be a movie, "100 Men and a Girl," under the direction of Mr. Elden T. Smith. The movie will be held in the auditorium at 8:00 p.m. and activities cards must be presented. Everyone, all service men will be admitted free.

On Saturday, June 26th, there will be a dance at the Nest with dancing and cold drinks served as refreshments. This event is under the direction of the social function last Friday.

On Thursday, July 1st, there will be a basketball game at the Nest with prizes and refreshments.
It's Our Duty

On July 1 a large group of sailors and marines will arrive here to begin training in this relatively unorganized military programs. With the addition of these service men to the V-5 group already on campus, it is very evident that some special social program should be organized. U.S.O. centers are proving themselves more than successful in similar situations throughout the country. We feel that such a service would be advantageous to Bowling Green as soon as possible. Provision must be made for recreation of various kinds so that service men may find ready entertainment whenever they so desire. With the cooperation and suggestions from the entire student body, such a program could be completely organized in a short time.

PLANS IN PROGRESS

A splendid start has already been made in this direction by the social committee. However, due to the traditional week-end migrations which seem to be prevalent again this summer, the success of the program has been somewhat dampened. Members of the committee have worked diligently to organize social functions, without the necessary participation of the students, such a program cannot accomplish its desired purpose.

PROPOSED PLANS

Up to the present time no provision has been made for Sunday entertainment which is imperative at this time. We feel that such a service would be a period of adjustment between service men and students. This would be instrumental in boosting the morale of both groups. In thinking through such plans, the Recreation Hall might be opened for bridge, dancing and general get-togethers. Since service men are so busy, we feel that no one should object to such activities on Sundays. The tennis courts and swimming pool could also be put to special use at this time. Certainly everyone on campus should be interested in such a diversification of activities. With equal participation of both service men and students, it would provide a social service which this summer, the success of the program might even take a step further and be desirable enough to suggest a date bureau. ACTION SPEAKS LOUDER THAN WORDS

It is our opinion that we are not only expressing our own thoughts but those of many others on this campus. Let's make this editorial a reality and not just another idle dream.

For 45 minutes every morning, Ralph Queisinbry, captain of the 1942 football team, leads mass exercises for his battalion at Camp Barkley, Texas.

One of the 127 army reserves called during May from Bowling Green, Kentucky, wrote Dr. Frank D. Weyer, Bowing Green University president, that he was chosen because an officer "liked my physical education training."

"This camp is a medical training center. The only bad thing is that it is in Texas—and it is too hot here. The temperature was 115 degrees today and we had classes in the dormitory in the first aid division," Queisinbry wrote.

"I am bearing down on the books because of the officer candidate school course. I have to get the chance to go there. However, if I get to go overseas for duty, I'll take overseas."

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beatty and daughter, Judith, moved Thursday from Kohl Hall to 417 Wallace Avenue. Mr. Beatty, assistant registrar at Bowing Green State University, had charge of Kohl Hall the last two years. The house will be filled with naval trainees after July 1.

Beulah Knaggs of Richmond, who recently completed her sophomore year, is working on the Montpelier Leader-Enterprise, a weekly newspaper.

Marilyn Kricher, 7-year-old daughter of E. J. Kricher, university business manager, and Mrs. Kricher, is receiving satisfactorily in University Hospital from a serious fracture caused recently when she fell from a second-story porch door while walking in her sleep.

An article written by Dr. Ros

McClain, chairman of the English department, has been printed from the spring issue of Italian, publication of American teachers interested in the Italian language.

Dr. McClain obtained some information on "Whitman in Italy" in libraries while visiting that land in 1943 and continued her study for three years before preparing the article.

Charles Joseph Nickels, former Bowling Green student, has been reported missing in action "in the European area."

His parents were notified recently by the War Department. Lt. Nickels piloted a flying fortress in the same squadron with Clark Gable. Here at Bowling Green, he majored in accounting after his entrance in 1940. He was a member of the Delta Fraternity. He is a graduate of Toledo Whitmer High School. He took his flight training at Findlay.

Helen Fashbaugh of Delta, a 1942 graduate of Bowling Green, has returned to the campus as circulation manager of the Library.

She received a degree in library science recently at the University of Illinois, where she has been a student the last year. Miss Fashbaugh was a member of Five Sister sorority, now Alpha Xi Delta.

Richard L. Beard of Findlay, who had an all-A record while obtaining his master's degree from Bowling Green State University in 1936, received the doctor of philosophy degree from Ohio State University recently.

His bachelor's degree is from Findlay College.

Mary Spooner, sophomore, is working this summer as a life guard at the City Park Pool.

Marks and Remarks

WE'RE HOPEING

That there will be a few people left around here to read this column after two weeks of seven o'clock classes . physical trainers should add that to their list of "dreaded tests." Thanks to those kind souls over at the Nest who make it possible for the early risers to grab the spark of life to stay awake. Those who haven't been there should try it sometimes. 6:45 breakfast parties are becoming all the rage.

IF YOU'RE WONDERING

Why Dick Gail looks as if he had just returned from the Normandy beaches? It is because he and Jimmy Hall spent all our time basking on the shores of that crystal cool quarry . . . see the kind of summer we've been having on this side with someone besides the roommate.

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE? . . .

About the uninformed freshman who refused to enter the Alpha Xi Delta House the other night. And why? Because he had it from her sources that it was a men's fraternity house. It is amusing what a few Greek letters can do.

PLANNING A VACATION? . . .

Take Mary Spooner's and Miss Kirshner's advice on this little matter. The girls recommend a secluded lake, preferably far from civilization, plenty of food. Swim suits? Just extra impediments. For results of this trip, take a look at the kids themselves.

FROM THE MAILBAG . . .

Grace Pitschman, former Alpha Xi president, is sporting a sparkler on that certain hand. Seems the donor was that famous Lorain shipbuilder, Norm Robertson . Pvt. Ralph Queisinbry, former grid captain, is now one of the thousands on campus. Texas. Texas. Texas. Seems to me Al has had K.P. for so long he is beginning to think he is a mess sergeant.

WANT ADS

A fabulous sum will be paid by one Mary Spooner for a weasly smoker. Seems our Mary has a tidy little nest of the things under her bed, and all her shoes are falling apart from swatting the hornets. Beware! Beware! Beware!

SCENES ABOUT THE CAMPUS . . .

Barbara Stark and Navy friend seen bicycle riding around campus every p.m. . . . the vacant campus . . . acquire that well coveted golden skin on.

IF YOU'VE SEEN . . .

A smoothie man in an R.C.A.F. uniform waded through the yard of the conga . . . peeling sunburns . . . quips like this—"Run into the Roundhouse—Nellie. The fireman can't corner you the way they can here in Findlay."

Kathleen Prout Weds
In Open Church Ceremony

Open church will be observed at the wedding of Miss Kathleen Prout of Bowling Green and Edward Dauterich, Jr., of Cincinnati, at 4 this afternoon in First Methodist Church of Bowling Green.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Prout and her fiance the son of Edward Dauterich, Sr., of Cincinnati. Miss Prout's father is president of Bowling Green State University.

Only attendant of the bride will be her sister, Mrs. Andrew Gordon of Sandusky. Henry McCane of Cincinnati will be best man.

Rev. Leslie Vesey, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate at the service.

The couple will live in Cincinnati after a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, Mich.

Miss Prout is a graduate of Sandusky High School and Western College at Oxford. Her master's degree is from Columbia University, the bridegroom is employed by the Trojan Powder Company, long Island, N.Y.

Local Sorority Changes Name To Alpha Epsilon

The Alpha Phi Epsilon Sorority held a meeting June 9 for the purpose of deciding upon a new name for the sorority. The members decided to change the name from Alpha Phi Epsilon to Alpha Epsilon to avoid being confused with the new national group on campus, the Alpha Phi Sorority.

The new name of the Alpha Epsilon sorority is at Shatell Hall.

New Books Added To Library

The University Library has received one of the first sets of the American-printed "Physikalisch-chemische Tabellen," a recently complete tabular presentation of the physico-chemical properties of elements and compounds.

Because of their importance as research tools vital to the war effort and because copies no longer were available from Germany, the U.S. Alien Property Custodian a few months ago confiscated the American copies right to this and several other important reference works in physics, chemistry, and mathematics.

The original price on this set was $180 as compared with $150 under the new arrangement.

With both of these reference works, the University Library is well equipped to serve the needs of the increasingly large number of Bowling Green students preparing for professional work in such fields as chemistry. This training includes practice in locating data necessary to the solution of practical problems of an original nature.

Dr. Zaugg Directs Plans For Nurseries

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, professor of education and director of the Bureau of Appointments, has been elected president of the Bowling Green committee planning nurseries to care for children while their mothers are in war work.

Mrs. Waldo E. Steidtmann, wife of the associate professor of biology, is treasurer and Dr. Herchei Letherland, director of student teaching, a member of the Policy Committee.

University rooms are to be available for the nursery.

Dr. Zaugg psychiatrist discussed: Hitler psychologically: "He's a copy book version of a paranoid—a form of insanity characterized by the fact that fantasy grows with disintegration of the thinking process. It begins in frustration, delusions of persecution, and takes refuge in the fact he is above that. Then he has delusions on grandeur, imagines he is a great national figure then an emperor. Hitler is in the savior stage now. He has said, 'I have been sent by God to be a savior.' Hitler is closely approaching the final stage—a god."

The sorority requires the chapters to have managing housemothers who not only serve as chaperons but also have complete charge of the house under the supervision of the alumnae house board.

Mrs. V. M. Hatfield has been Three Kay house director since February, 1942.

The housemother for several years before that time was Mrs. W. H. Bachman, who had charge when the sorority had headquarters in the Bachman home at 311 Threlkeld Avenue—almost across the street from the present Three Kay house.

The new house, which has quarters for 22 students and Mrs. Hatfield, is between Shatell Hall and the Alpha Xi Delta house, at the south end of Sorority Row on the campus. It has been occupied since September by the sorority.

Gamma Phi Beta has its chapters divided into eight provinces, each of which has a conference in alternate years between biennial conventions. Province II includes the two Ohio chapters—Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan—and four others—Beta chapter at Michigan, Northwestern, Lake Forest, and Western Ontario.

In 1929 the sorority assumed maintenance of a camp for underprivileged girls in the Colorado mountains. Since then other camps have been established near Buffalo and Vancouver.

Only Gamma Phi alumnas in Bowling Green are Mrs. Mary Powers of the Wisconsin chapter and Mrs. Leon Slater of the Michigan chapter. Mrs. M. Budd Cox, wife of the former university swimming coach, is a Gamma Phi from Wittenberg.

Founded in 1928 with 10 charter members, Three Kay sorority had its roots in a club establied near Buffalo by Mrs. Walto E. Steidtmann. Three Kay take in graduated students from the Bowling Green campus. The alumnae chapter was organized in 1937.
