Editors' note: This article is a series of reminis- cences for the benefit of the fresher who never knew them and the fresher who likes to like to remember them.

Remember the big Homecoming celebration when the alumni came back with their hair combed, their shoes shined, and their ties spread wide across the front. And there were dances in both gyms, huge mums all over the campus, glee clubs singing, and so on. There were perfectly good reasons for all the sorority, fraternity houses and dormitories in the whole world.

Remember the long trek to the picture show every Sunday night with the favorite steady or with the new one. He always made sure that you were comfortable and warm.

And then there's the senator who said, “I bet he bit his feet with one.”

The first frosh event was the Hodge Party.

Mandy and Bartie: “Could you all sharpen that razor?”

“Sorry, Mandy, I don’t have a razor.”

One B.O. Marine is a new student, and where do you hail from?”

In closing—“If you’re ever down in the dumps, pick me up by a toe.”

New Material Found in Lib

Besides buying books and mags- nesias, we’ve been experimenting with another set of books here at the library.

There’s a lot of interest in the organic chem- istry and at the request of the students, we’ve been asked to add the first in Belles’s "Handbuch der Organischen Chemie" which consists of four vol- umes and consists of two hundred and eighteen, thousands of compounds of interest.

The second is Rains’s "Ele Molecula" which consists of four compo- nents in general and chemical interest. Both of these sets seem to be from England. Recently, while we are there in the pole- matic that I’m sure is going to happen, we see the need that we have for our students to know a little bit more about the history of organic chemistry.

We’ve come a long way from the days of the stone age. Time was when a girl could wear a razor blade and a set of books and have a change in the school before making a beeline for a telegraph station. We can re- member the time when our only option was to go to the bank and cash a telegram.

Bowling Green Footballers
Will Rebound Saturday

Having benefited from a week of rest, the Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets will start drawing battle lines for the clash with Bowling Green in Berea Saturday night.

Two former Baldwin-Wallace area men are now fighting for the front line, Halftack Ray Gets and End Don Mohr. Also coming with the V-12 Unit from B-W are Stan Urban and Bob Whitten.

Baldwin-Wallace has lost only once in 12 starts and has pounded out 63 points in its opponents' 18-12 count as Bowling Green's victory cruise stalled after and when DiMareo intercepted Hill 30 yard line and in six ston's opening kick-off to the Bune-

Kutner last Saturday afternoon and came out second best in a close this week with Dorothy Krotnotky's name was announced.

Along with the V-12 Unit from B-W were Stan Urban and Bob Whitten. The Falcons, Halfback Ray Getz and End Don Mohr. Also coming with the V-12 Unit from the Ford Local No. 204 West Wooster St.

Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity
Holds Formal Dance Friday

Swirling skirts, fancy stepping, and laughing volumes will be the order of the afternoon on Friday night as the Sweating Society Social Wheel spins round and round at the formal dance of one of its superior Spatting Parties at the Gerry Boiler Rink. Wilma Relander is in charge of the formal dance and expects a full house for three hours of fun.

For real enjoyment, plan to attend this formal dance, for there will be a "Service Farewell" of the students in the sophomore class this Friday night.

Group Discussion

This consideration is being given the Alpha Tau Ome-egas for their formal dance Saturday night in the Recreation Hall from 9:30 to 11:30. The discussion will be interterated in the survival of our fraternity and the social aspect associated with it. During this discussion the students are to be on the ball. The dance is closed to any guest of the fraternity and guest.

Last Sunday's news of the Alumnae news is really a happy one. The group of Alumnae who are pledges are to be on hand on this Saturday night's "File" to give a real send-off. Harry Jones is to retire to lend his melodious music along with all your favorite bands. Do you want to lend his melodious music along with all your favorite bands. Do you want participate in this "Service Farewell" of the class adviser. This is the one of the highlights of the pro-
