The Falcon, War Ambulance Is Reality As BG Boys Build

The University's purchase of a 5000 dollar war bond makes it possible for the boys to form the ambulance, which was the original plan. John Dempsey, student council executive officer, announced today.

Money totaling over $700 had be collected towards the original 1960 dollar goal by soon after yesterday, but the amount was later increased to the school wall over the top in the drive.

Lt. Harold C. Bold, executive officer of the V-12 unit, has announced that the Navy men on campus have been able to add 115, 125, and 130 bonds over their quotas.

Selectors are Gloria Werner, Jo Ann Jones, Alice Taylor, Verona Schumacher, Minett Ballet, Jeanne Smith, Maxie Hart, Pat Syrups, and Zelnor East.

Miss Johnelle K. Goddard, chair of the health committee, announced the second in a series of weekly programs, beginning Nov. 30 and continuing the next 20 years approximately 40 papers began, and during the next years partially destroyed and there will be more. One of the main reasons for this is the extreme need for information, which has been stored in the college library now has them in its possession.

The contest was originated in 1903 by the Ohio Valley Regional Conference of Congress of the United States, the first set was the University of Kentucky; the second is the University of Indiana State Department of State's "Publications," which the Library is as yet unopened.

WAA Carnival
Will be Jan. 20
By Helen Allen
WAA's traditional carnival will be held Jan. 20, 1945, from 7 to 11 p.m. in the Women's Gym. The proceeds from the carnival will help aid in financing activities of existing committees and their new projects. The proceeds will be used for the hospital fund, United War Relief, and support for the Army, Navy, and Marines.

The main feature of the evening will be the "Touch Football in Semifinals." This event will involve participants from various organizations, including the university's football team.

Other activities scheduled for the evening include a basketball game, a dance, and a variety of games and competitions. The exact details of these activities will be announced closer to the event date.

Tickets will be available at the door for 25 cents. Attendees are encouraged to purchase tickets in advance to ensure admission.

In closing, the WAA wishes the highest good fortune to all participants and hopes to see everyone at the carnival on Jan. 20.
