In Brief

REMEMBER, NO STEAM

The Central Heating Plant will be shut down for necessary repairs from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 17, until 6:30 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 21.

During this period there will be no steam available for any purpose. This will affect building heating, air conditioning, pool temperature, laboratory cleaning, dish washing and any other activities that require hot water.

The steam supply will be limited from Sunday, Aug. 12, until the shutdown on Aug. 17. There will be no air conditioning in the technology building, Offenbauer Towers or the business administration building.

The heating plant shutdown will not affect any buildings east of Mercer Road, south of Wooster Street or north of the technology building. All other buildings on campus should prepare accordingly.

BOOKS ARE DUE

Faculty and administrative staff who have borrowed books from the University libraries are reminded that all materials currently on loan must be renewed or returned by the end of the academic term on Aug. 17.

Instructions for return and renewal are being mailed to appropriate faculty and staff along with a list of pending charges for library materials.

Renewal may be completed by phone or through the campus mail. Books should be returned to the library from which they were borrowed.

Questions about procedures for returning or renewing books should be directed to the supervisor on duty at the Jerome Library (372-2051) or the Ogg Science Library (372-2591) circulation desks.

SUMMER IS ENDING

The Office of Personnel Support Services has issued a reminder that the four-and-one-half-day summer work schedule will end on Friday (Aug. 17).

Beginning Monday, Aug. 20, regular work hours will resume. In most cases, offices will be open from 8 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

STAFF RECORDS DUE

Administrative staff are reminded to complete their annual vacation/sick leave records and return them to the Office of Administrative Staff Personnel Services as soon as possible.

Copies of the form are available in that office.

FOR SALE

The Office of Public Relations has for immediate sale two new Personal Editor software packages for the IBM PC computer. The packages are priced at $70 each.

For further information contact Shirley at 372-2616.

Boughton reappointed physics dept. chair

Robert I. Boughton, physics and astronomy, has been reappointed to a four-year term as chair of that department.

Dr. Boughton joined the Bowling Green faculty in 1980 as chair of physics and astronomy, coming to Bowling Green from Northeastern University in Boston.

He received a bachelor's degree in engineering from Ohio State University and both master's and doctoral degrees in physics from Ohio State.

Armco executive to receive honorary degree Aug. 18

An executive of one of Ohio's largest corporations will be presented an honorary degree during summer commencement exercises Saturday (Aug. 18). Nearly 1,000 students are expected to receive degrees.

Kempton B. Jenkins, vice president for corporate government and international affairs for Armco Inc. of Middletown, will be awarded an honorary doctor of public affairs degree during 10 a.m. ceremonies on the lawn west of University Hall. He also will be the commencement speaker. In the event of rain, graduation will be held in Anderson Arena.

The honorary degree will be Jenkins' second from the University. A retired U.S. Foreign Service officer with more than 30 years of experience in Europe, Asia and Latin America, he earned a bachelor's degree in history from Bowling Green in 1948. In 1950 he received a master's degree in international studies from George Washington University, and in 1958 he received a second master's degree in public administration from Harvard University. In 1972 the University Alumni Association presented him the Distinguished Alumnus Award.

From 1951 until 1981 when he joined Armco, Jenkins served in the U.S. Foreign Services with distinction as deputy assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, deputy assistant secretary of commerce for East-West trade and assistant director of the U.S. Information Agency for Soviet-East European information programs.

In addition to filling posts in Bangkok, Caracas, Munich, Hanover and Hamburg, he has served as a specialist on East German affairs in Berlin and as a political officer in the Moscow Embassy. A former lecturer at Georgetown University, he was president of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Trade and Economic Council in 1980.

Philosophy center appoints first Distinguished Research Fellow

One of England's most influential political theorists has been appointed a Distinguished Research Fellow within the Visiting Scholar Program recently developed by the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

John Gray, a fellow and tutor in politics at Jesus College at the University of Oxford and a lecturer in politics at Oxford, arrived on campus last month. He is devoting his time to a book on liberalism to be published by the Open University Press in England. Later this month he will return to England, continuing his association with the center through various research projects. Next spring he will return to campus as a visiting professor in the philosophy department.

Dr. Gray's book on liberalism, also to be released by an American publisher, will be his third major work. He also has to his credit numerous published articles, and he has delivered several conference papers.

including one at the center's 1982 symposium on human rights.

In addition, he is a frequent commentator on social issues on British radio and television.

The Visiting Scholar Program, established with part of a $300,000 grant from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo to the Social Philosophy and Policy Center, will bring to campus both distinguished scholars who have gained prominence in social philosophy or policy analysis and postdoctoral research fellows who are establishing their academic careers.

The visiting scholars generally will be on campus for only one period of time. However, the center staff also plans to appoint some distinguished research fellows who, like Dr. Gray, will have an ongoing relationship with the center and the University.

Great Lakes institute names new consultant

David T. Glick, a senior administrator for volunteers and publications at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, has been named a special consultant to the University's Institute for Great Lakes Research.

Glick has been associated with the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village for the past 30 years in various capacities, beginning in 1954 as director of audio-visual services. He became a senior administrator in 1983.

A member of many historical, museum, and educational associations, including more than a dozen maritime organizations, Glick is also the author of numerous articles and has collaborated on two books.

As a consultant to the Great Lakes Research Institute, he will edit the newsletter "Log Chips" and assist in the promotion and operation of the institute's research unit.

Richard J. Wright is director of the institute.

Psychology professor dies in Indiana

Lowell Schipper, a professor of psychology at the University since 1971, died Aug. 5 in South Bend, Ind. He was returning to Bowling Green after spending the summer at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona where he was conducting research.

Dr. Schipper received bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Wisconsin and held faculty positions at Ohio State, Rutgers, Kansas State and Pennsylvania State universities before coming to Bowling Green. He was involved in early human factors research in the air traffic control system and had held consulting arrangements with numerous organizations, including Boeing and IBM.

During 1978-79 and 1979-80 Dr. Schipper was on leave from the University, serving as a civilian scientist at Williams Air Force Base. He was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the American Psychological Association and numerous other scientific societies.

Newman receives Marshall Fund award

David S. Newman, chemistry, has received an award of approximately $4,000 from the Norwegian Marshall Fund in Oslo to support his research in Norway during the coming academic year.

Dr. Newman will leave in September for the University of Trondheim's Institute for Inorganic Chemistry, one of the foremost research centers of its kind. At the institute he will study the structure and properties of molten salts — the same kinds of ionic liquids which are used as electrolytes in some batteries and are also an effective medium for liquifying coal.

His research will be funded primarily through a Senior Fulbright Fellowship, with some additional support from the University of Trondheim.

Dr. Newman will remain in Norway for at least 10 months, returning to campus within the next year.

Faculty & Staff

Presentations

Dean A. Purdy, sociology, co-presented two papers and chaired a session at the North Central Sociological Association Meetings in Indianapolis. He chaired a session on "Social Justice vs. Legal Justice" during which Joseph Jacoby, sociology, served as a discussant.

With Jack A. Taylor, educational development, he presented "Race and Sex Variations in the Prediction of Academic Success among Educational Development Students." With Eldon E. Snyder, sociology, he presented "A Social Profile of High School Basketball Officials."

Charlotte Scherer, education clinical lab, and JoAnne Martin-Reynolds, educational curriculum and instruction, presented a poster session entitled "Computer Aided Teacher Evaluation: Flanders Interaction Analysis of the Apple" at the annual meeting of the Association for the Development of Computer-Based Instructional Systems in Columbus.

Marilyn Solt, English, presented "The Uses of Setting in Anne of Green Gables at the Children's Literature Association Conference in Charlotte, N.C.

At the same meeting Janice Alberghene, English, presented a paper entitled "Sing a Song, Shape a Nation-State."

Parking decals expire Aug. 18

Faculty and staff are reminded by the parking and traffic office that all parking decals currently in use will expire Aug. 18. New decals will be needed on all vehicles at the start of the new academic year.

New decals can be obtained during the week of Aug. 20-24 in the following locations:

Administration Building (west lobby area), 7:30 a.m. to noon Aug. 20 and 21;

Plant Operations and Maintenance Building (conference room), 1-4 p.m. Aug. 20 and 21;

Life Sciences Building (east lobby, main floor), 7:30 a.m. to noon Aug. 22;

Stadium (east side), 1-5 p.m. Aug. 22;

Jerome Library, 7:30 a.m. to noon Aug. 23;

Student Services Building (second floor lounge), 1-5 p.m. Aug. 23;

University Union (second floor corridor by the Grand Ballroom), 8 a.m. to noon Aug. 24.

When registering, employees must present a fee waiver signed by their budget administrator and a completed motor vehicle registration form, also available from the budget administrator. The fee waiver is valid for one decal per employee.

The cost of registering a second vehicle is $35. This amount will be charged to the individual's account in the bursar's office.

Faculty and staff are encouraged to utilize the satellite registration centers to obtain their decals. However, registration can also be completed beginning Monday (Aug. 13) at the Parking and Traffic Office which will be open weekdays from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. through Aug. 27. Hours after Aug. 27 will be 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

The policy for visitor parking registration also has changed. Visitors will no longer be required to display parking permits when parked in metered spaces. To avoid a ticket, proper coins must be deposited in the meters. Visitors who do not park in a metered area must obtain a parking permit.

Questions about the new regulations or the procedure for obtaining a parking decal for 1984-85 should be directed to the parking and traffic division of the department of public safety, 372-2776.
