Cleveland Rams Will Train at Bee Gee

 Pros Here For Six Weeks; Will Stay at Alpha Xi House

Cleveland's professional football Rams will train for the 1945 season on the Bowling Green State University campus, instead of at Hiram College as the general manager Charles "Chile" Walsh stated early this week. During their six-week's training period from Aug. 11 to Sept. 2 the Rams will stay at the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority house.

Selecting Bowling Green from the several Ohio schools he considered, Mr. Walsh stated this choice because of Bee Gee's five-year contract providing insurance that the players will be provided with good food.

The question of the direction of Adam Walsh, Chile's brother, who is with the Army, will be taken up by General M. D. Dane, assisted by George Trafton, who held the same position with the Granby Packers in Illinois before training Aug. 11. Twenty-five of the expected 40 players have already signed contracts.

The first practice is set for Aug. 12, on one of Bowling Green's three new practice fields. The Falcons will be able to practice at the same time because of the two fields, which will be used for recreation for the other teams. The Rams will open their season with the non-leaguer on Sept. 2 against the Pittsburg Panthers. The regular season will open Sept. 30, in Cleveland, when the Rams meet the Chicago Cardinals for the first loop battle.

"Peace Terms Must Be Hard"

"What shall we do with Germany now that she is conquered?" was the topic of the Junior Town Meeting held Friday, July 6, in the Auditorium, with Charles Marts, director of the Junior Town Meeting of Ohio, acting as moderator.

Concluding that the peace terms must be hard, four Bowling Green students agreed that Germany cannot be allowed an easy peace, or in any way be allowed to gain her pre-war power in the world.

Prof. John Schwartz opened the meeting by introducing Mr. Marts, who during the past two years, has moderated fifty such meetings.

The opening speaker on the program was Dr. Vernon Hoppes, who stressed the point that the mass of the German people are just as guilty for this war as are the military leaders, and hence should be punished for their war crimes. He also advocated that the educational and industrial program of these people be rigidly controlled by the Allies.

Vernon Dunham, freshman, next speaker on the program, advocated that the Allied nations come to some sort of an agreement in order to prevent future aggressions of Nazi aggression. He outlined his plan of preventing this aggression in five points: (1) Military occupation, (2) Disarmament, and (3) Individual German citizens must be under Allied supervision. (4) Rigid control of all possible military productive industries. (5) Regulation of German economic life. (6) Release of prisoners of war, which will be suitable to the Allies.

Robert Stump, freshman, third speaker, strongly advocated that the government of Germany to pay their costs in reconstructing the scores of Allied cities which they devastated, while laws were under their fanatic attempt for world domination.

A fourth speaker, this means Stump believes that Germany's reparation payment must be heavy to prevent her from being able to be reapplied.

Concluding the discussion, the final speaker, differed slightly from his fellow speakers in that he did not believe that a sonning of Germany would be practical, and that the only way to bring discord among the various powers in enforcing the punishment of the criminals.

Drawing a conclusion, all four speakers agreed that (1) There be strict control of the industries and schools of Germany as well as of the government. (2) Reparations payments are to be exacted. (3) Individual Germans are as guilty as the high officials.

Following the discussion by the four speakers, the moderator then turned the meeting into an open forum in which questions from the audience were directed to the speakers. The questions were concerned primarily on the remarks of the speakers, and the answers were presented in their introductory presentation of the subject.

Some questions were concerned with the necessity of a program in a reeducation of all German citizens who are guilty of war crimes. The punishment was inflicted on the whole German population.

Working Mothers' Tots Cared For by Nursery

by Gloria Werns

Two years ago this month the Nursery School, financed under the Lanham Act, was opened in the University Training School. Its purpose was to care for the children of working mothers who must be away from home during the day.

Today, 40 children, ranging in age from two to six, meet six days a week from 6 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., spending the day in capably supervised recreation while their parents are away.

The staff of the Nursery School program is headed by Mrs. Lola Mercer, head teacher of the Nursery and Kindergarten at the Training School. The regular teachers who are part of the staff are Mrs. Mary Mick, Mrs. Virginia Zaffern, and Mrs. Maudel Bigelow. In addition, there are three student assistants from the home economics and elementary education departments. They are Margaret Mercer, Marjory Hopkins, and Pat Westerman. This staff capacity supervises the recreation of its 40 resignation of two faculty members, Dr. W. C. Hoppes and Dr. Wayne N. Thompson, has been announced by President Frank J. Prout. Dr. Hoppes has accepted a position at the University of Missouri; Dr. Thompson will teach at the University of Washington.

Dr. Hoppes has taught at Bowling Green for 14 years, where he was an associate professor of education. At Northern Michigan he will be Director of Student Teaching, Appointments, and In-Service Training.

Dr. Thompson has been an associate professor of speech at Bowling Green for two years, coming here in 1943 from American University in Washington, D. C., where he was director of forensics.

At Bowling Green he has served as debate coach and has taught courses in debate and public speaking. At the University of Missouri, Dr. Thompson will be the director of radio.

Has Great Reader Appeal

Reviewed by Aurelia Christie

Oscar Wilde, the brilliant Irish writer, who died at the turn of the twentieth century, wrote in his book "The Picture of Dorian Gray" a wealth of ideas and questions which would well appeal to the reader who finds interest in philosophical problems and an unusual perspective of beauty and human character.

tritious lunch planned and prepared especially for children. In the afternoon from one to three o'clock, the children sleep on cots in the auditorium of the Training School. Then, at the end of the day, they are taken home, happy and contented, to their parents.

From the nursery school, children from 1 to 5 years of age are cared for under the Extended School Service, which meets six days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. under the supervision of F. W. Myrice and student assistant Joyce Keller.

The schedule for the Extended School Service is similar to that of the Nursery School. In the morning the children are kept busy under a recreation program consisting of group games, movies, stories, and handwriting of a more advanced nature, including woodwork, repairing toys, painting, and weaving. In the afternoon the children are taken to the city park, where they have a chance to play on the swings, see the animals, and be entertained by the park rangers. The park is a safe place for the children to play, as well as a specially planned health and recreational program.

Te Rains Came

AFTER ME, THE DELUGE

Is sophomore Shirley Spilik's motto these days. Shirley lives at Shuttal in a room with a trick cold water faucet that goes on and sticks at odd times. One of the times came last when Shirley came home to find a little Niagara pouring out under her door, flooding the corridor from one end to another. "Bastin', honey," said Shirley, and ran downstairs to find the mop. Into the chimney. She and Shirley mopped and mopped, muttering curses under breath. The only person who was happy it all was the cleaning woman who says she hasn't been able to get that corridor clean all year.

ORDERS

Sasha Xi Delia house director Mrs. Jesse Currier is a bit skeptical about having the Cleveland Rains living in the sorority house. Currier and her staff are busy. Dr. Prout received a letter from her father, "If the Rains invade from Cleveland this summer, please make sure they do no roaming around in my apartment.

POSTMAN'S HOLIDAY

Following the adage of a postman who takes a walk on his day off, Bee Gee's speech profs are enjoying a bit of speech making for the summer. Prof. Stone and Dr. Thompson both have taken positions in radio and television to continue their practice. Mr. Stone is with WFIN in Findlay, and Dr. Thompson is with a station in New York.

THE VOGUE

"That came from the "back room" at the first social dance of the summer. At the die dance Saturday, Sr. Freeman, with "The Voice from the Back Room," made his appearance as the musician, technician, comedian, and announcer... calls a job for any one little boy, and creates an imagination. That international spirit has carried him away, for his opening remark was "Welcome to you from the beautiful PERSIAN ROOM situated in the heart of Bowling Green!"

MATERNALLY YOURS

So Chief Mackey dedicated himself to the cause of insuring a good time for all at the dances, as he hustled and bustled around the Bee Hall finding men to dance with. Then, at the end of the dance, the men returned to the sorority houses, where dances started, and the fun was renewed. The dance proved to be successful and everyone had a good time.

Tough Breaks

by a/S Bernie Block

NOW HEAR THIS

Story about "Pinky" Harrison, one of the new fleet of "Bee Gees". He's off on his leg on board a carrier in the South Pacific during an action. He broke it again on Guam. After he made the V-13 program he went back to the mainland, where he broke it again. Everything was all right until he hit this base. This time he only sprained it... to remain forever young, while the portrait, painted by Basil Hallward, grows old in his stead. So a man who has lived a completely sensual life looks at his soul and hopes to destroy it. The portrait becomes a haunting soul of Dorian, and he seeks as a final end a means of destroying it but instead, serves only to destroy himself. This is one case where a reader cannot forget, as a man who has lived a completely sensual life looks at his soul and hopes to destroy it.

Oscar Wilde writes in a curt, concise manner, and he never loses one sentence pass by without giving it some definite use and power in the entire story. It is rarely that one finds a writer who can write as he does, as he concludes his novel. "The Picture of Dorian Gray."

V-12 Students Are Listed Alphabetically

V-12 students at the University are listed here alphabetically. Following the student's name is his place of residence. All V-12 students live at Kehl Hall. The names preceded by an asterisk are those of the first term V-12. All others are fourth termers. Each term the News publishes a complete list of servicemen in order that the students may have an accurate list of military students at Bowling Green State University.

Football Practice Underway

Two sailors came back from leave, and summer football practice proceeded to get under way with the first practice Thursday, July 6, at 4 p.m. Coach Anderson has 23 Navy men and five civilian huskies signed up for this summer session. The first game will be played Aug. 31 against Alma College at Alma. The first home game will be with Central Michigan Sept. 7.

Two players are back who have had experience with the Falcons last year: Pat Mulvihill, a rugged V-12 half-back, and Jim Knierim, a veteran end who can switch to half-back when necessary. These boys are expected to spark the mentors to a successful season.

The football schedule is as follows:

- Alma—Aug. 8, at Alma
- Baldwin-Walwa—Sept. 14, at Bates
- Ohio University—Sept. 29, at Athens
- Central Michigan—Sept. 7, here
- Michigan—Oct. 7, here
- Michigan—Oct. 15, here

Meeting

Another of the questions was concerned with the desirability of democracy as a form of government for the German nation, and whether there might not be a more suitable political system which could be adopted. In answering the question the speakers retained the same stands which they had presented in the opening discussion.
