CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE

Election Slate For Officers Is Drawn Up

Candidacy for class officers was announced at a recent meeting of the Student Council. Candidates were selected by a system of votes from the following students as candidates:

SOLIDARITY—Bill Gelley, Donald Van Horn, Jane Goodman, Bob Burns, freshman from Oxford; Mr. Fred Walsh, Theatre technician, who directed the three previous drama programs; Mr. Joseph Loomis, director of the band. Student Council announced that the rally will be conducted in the Women's Building, where the cheer leaders will present a program of songs, dances, and speaking. Behind the stages will be student volunteers who will serve as dormitory monitors, checking dormitories every half-hour to see that all students are in their rooms. The rally will begin at 6:30 on Monday and Tuesday. For the convenience of students, a no issue of the Bee Gee News will be published in the form of a tabloid, which will be distributed to all students. The Bee Gee News will also be published in the form of a tabloid, which will be distributed to all students. The Workshop Playmakers is a group of students who are interested in the theatre. The group meets every Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building. The group is under the direction of Mr. Fred Walsh, Theatre technician, who has directed the three previous drama programs.

Chaplain's Thanksgiving Message

Thanksgiving began this year many months before the front brought its final assembly to V-8 Day, and on August 14 with the complete conquest of Europe, and on November 11, 1918, with the final victory in the Great War. But thanks should be given in peace form, by everyone, not only for the Peace which has come to Europe and for the United States, but also for the freedom and for the hope of the future. The future is not only for the present generation, but for many generations to come. The future is not only for the United States, but also for many other countries of the world. And the future is not only for this country, but also for the world as a whole. And the future is not only for this country, but also for the world as a whole.

Fans Wait For 'Prisoner's' Escape

Movie night at Bee Gee turned out to be a big surprise for the fans who came to see Donald Cook and Madeleine Carroll in "The Prisoner." Before the screening, the audience was seated in the hall. After the crew had settled down, the lights were turned up and the audience was treated to a special screening of "The Prisoner." Just then, as the film was quickly threaded and projected on the screen, the sound of a gun was heard. The film ended and the audience went wild. It is that true the service has been slow. The Nest is understaffed-and is serving many large numbers of people. The most that the Nest can serve at a time is fifteen people, and the line has been known to increase even with the recent improvements. However, the Nest has found that students could follow to help keep the coke and coffee lines moving:

Throw another log on the fire. The fire in the fireplace is started each morning by University employees, but during the day there is no one to keep it supplied with fuel. Those sitting near the fire could help by putting on logs whenever they see the fire burning low.

"Palooa's Nest, Mary Smith speaking," Why not answer the telephone so that Nest employees can remain behind the counter instead of having to spend their time looking for someone's date or elusive roommate.

Did you take your dishes back? Probably not. Take an extra minute on your way out to pick up the used dishes and put them on the end tables by the fountain. Then the next person in line will have an easier time, and the Nest employees will still have more time to serve.

How's Your Nestology?

Many students have expressed impatience with what they consider slow service in the Nest. Before criticizing, they should stop to consider the logistics of what goes on behind the scenes. It is true that the service has been slow. The Nest is understaffed and is serving many large numbers of people. Bill Bank, from Norton; Bob Stan- ton, from Youngstown; and Ed Ebb, from Fremont, are the most promising prospects and are bat- tling it out for the fifth position.

When the team will not have all of the height that was avail- able last season, the speed typical of Coach Anderson's cage teams will be present with a great deal of emphasis on the fast break. It will be interesting to watch the team and the improvements they will make as the season pro- gresses.

Jim Keister Elected Varsity Club Prexy

Jim Keister, sophomore from Toledo, was named president of Varsity Club at a recent meeting. Other officers are, Lee Kibler, vice-president; W. H. Steiner, secretary; and W. G. Bailey, associate professor of physical education, a Varsity Club adviser. Twenty-three sophomore letter- men make up the club's membership.

Romulus Game Opens Season On Home Floor November 29

The 1945-46 basketball season gets under way Thursday, Nov. 29, when the Falcons will entertain the Flyers from Romulus Air Base, Romulus, Mich., on the home court. On Tuesday, Dec. 4, Bluffton College and Ohio Northern University will come to Bee Gee to meet the Falcons in a double- header. Great Lakes has been added to the schedule, with out-of-town and home games arrang- ed.

Boswell Green defeated the Romulus Flyers twice last season. In the first contest the Falcons experienced difficulty in disposing the Flyers 65 to 56, and in the other they won the game by a 65 to 59 margin.

Boswell and Ohio Northern both are using intercollegiate basketball competition this year rather short season due to war conditions and this year, the first time in years the Falcons will be playing in both ends of a doubleheader.
