Housing Scheduled For 300

Men Students Next Term

University Purchases Steel Huts And Trailers As Accommodations

Government-issued steel huts and trailers, purchased by the University, will provide housing accommodations for approximately 300 returned veterans and civilian men next semester. In addition to students, the huts will also be used as hospital units.

Priced steel huts, somewhat like the Quonset hut, will be located at the end of the football field. They will be built by the government for use as hospital units. Originally married veterans will live in the 16 units, which have already been erected, by a mechanic who is familiar with the construction of the 29-by-48-foot house, 15-by-12 feet, background, two beds, chair, and a garbage can. Delivery of the huts by the Chevrolet Manufacturing Company in Cincinnati is expected by the end of the month. Each student who will be located. Housing will be available within 60 days. Electric power will be divided to the steel huts, the University plant.

Additional housing for 21 men will be located in a new pump house which has been constructed at the end of the football field. The new pump house will be built by the key men of the engineering department. The new building will be completed by this fall semester.

The pump house will be under the control of the University. The students will be under the University plant under the supervision of the student body.

At the last meeting of the Student Senate, the 21 men will be located in a new pump house which has been constructed at the end of the football field. The new pump house will be built by the key men of the engineering department. The new building will be completed by this fall semester.

In addition to the new pump house, the University will also provide housing for 18 men in the new pump house building.

Among The Greeks

The interest shown by another national fraternity in the Bowling Green campus as a field for expansion indicates that the fraternity system here will develop rapidly with the return of veterans and more civilian men.

The University Administration played an active part in bringing about another national fraternity to the campus, in seeing that these newly chartered groups developed during the war, and in avoiding the interest of other nationals in the campus.

The fraternity's aim is to be admired in the matter of which men are members—not by the number of members. Ten men can make a memorial foundation building fund last week. In honor of the occasion and love are being taught once a week by the dean of the school of general Hospital were actioned off to the highest bidder in bonds at and that following the policy of colonization is contrary to making provisions to bring more fraternities to the campus.

Yes, the men in the country are the two things, and found themselves lost in the game.

Low-Spirited Freshman Finds Blues Cure In Williams Hall

by Marilyn Coors

Feeling very much like a cheerleader, a season of radio programs, or in common English, fogs, I staggered out of biology class and turned my mind to the study of a mess that would revive my sunken spirits.

Standing across the street was a group of upperclass women. Hoping to get away from those who must know the secrets by now, I lighted in the front door.

Falcons Defeat Romulus Air Base In Season Opener

Large Crowd Sees Ecstatic Contest

The Falcons Fiddled While Romulus Burned

Two Twin Bills Among 5 Games

In a very erratic but impressive season opener, the BG Falcon men managed to defeat the stubborn Romulus Air Base squad 52-38 on the Falcons' hardwood last Thursday night, Nov. 22. This contest was witnessed by a near capacity crowd, the largest ever to attend an opening cage game here. The Falcons showed signs of new enthusiasm in their first start, but displayed steady signs of improvement as the game progressed.

Falcons lead at half.

A lot of action and little scoring separated the first quarter with the Falcons emerging with a 11-6 lead. In the second period the Falcons tallied 13 points, while holding Romulus to 6. BG led 25-14 at halftime.

Otten Sets The Pace

With Otten setting the scoring pace, the Falcons finally became into action as the second half opened to lead 43-39 their fourth lead point. Romulus showed a determined punch in the final quarter as they came back to score 11 points. An array of 32 subs, who saw considerable action throughout the game, amounted the total, here, however, as the Falcons emerged from the game with a 67-38 victory.

MAKE THE CHRISTMAS SEASON GEARY BY USING FLOWERS DECORATIONS

Don't forget the little girl in your life for Christmas. You will, of course, know what she wants. However, it will be a pleasure to help her with the right gift. It is not always easy to decide what a girl needs and wants, but the little girl will be happy if you choose a Christmas gift that is suitable for her. Here are some suggestions for you to consider:

1. Dolls: Choose a doll that is suitable for her age and interests.
2. Books: Look for a book that is appropriate for her reading level.
3. Toys: Select a toy that is safe and fun for her to play with.
4. Clothing: Choose clothes that are comfortable and fit her well.
5. Jewelry: Consider giving her a piece of jewelry that she can cherish for years to come.

The perfect gift for a little girl is one that is both practical and thoughtful. Choose a gift that she will enjoy and that will bring joy and happiness to her on Christmas day. Remember, it is the thought that counts, so choose a gift that she will truly appreciate.
Kohl Hall Women Represent The Survival Of The Fittest

by June Carlson

Inside Kohl Hall's walls the fight for existence prevails. The girls find living there much like the rushing and confusion of New York's subways. Yet as they fight to the last inch of their dorm room walls and how they are carrying on. All, yes.

Three deeliciously topped cheese sandwiches, the chocolate pine and crackers, the hamburgers with the "works" and the cheese and goofy coffee are about the best thing they have. The dorm is kept very clean and you can always expect a visit from one of the cleaning maids. Although they are the regular "tune in" at 7:30 a.m. for Chesterfield's Right Combination... World's Best... They're givable, acceptable and enjoyable.

Gone To Press

The University's annual catalog for 1946 and 1947 went to press at the Wood County Republican last week under the direction of the journalism department. The catalog will be increased in size and will contain a different section for each college and department. Because of the increase in the size of the catalog, 50,000 copies will be printed. A copy will be sent to each student on campus and anyone who desires one also may apply for a copy.

Until this past catalog had been edited by Dean J. E. Urey, this year's edition (for which I am responsible) has been prepared by a committee of the journalism department. There are also excellent representatives, all members of the graduate assistant in journalism.

The traditional Alpha Phi Christmas Tea is being planned for Dec. 18. The tea is open to all University women and performances and their wives. Pug Baker is general chairman.
