Eyas Deadline on Nov. 22
Urges Copy be Completed

"Deadline for all material intended for the second issue of the Eyas, campus literary magazine, is Nov. 22," Glenna Glenn, editor, said.

All contributions should be left in the office of the literary magazine department, on the first floor of the Library.

A collection of the magazine went to press last spring and another collection, published under the name of "Blastema," was recently published. The collection of the new magazine will be known as "Blastema."

Student cooperation has improved the quality of the Blastema, but it has not improved sufficiently.

If you have not received what you ordered, make a note of it, and see the department head for a new order.

"Blastema" is published in the manner of the original, being the "Flower Garden" of the Woman's building. The volume will be placed in the center of the table and the frame building will be used as a library for the time being.

The Blastema which means "sprout or bud" club held their first meeting recently.

"Blastema;" anyone interested in the project of the Blastema should be present at the next meeting which will be held at 7:45 in the Woman's building.

The Blastema will be available to students. The blastema will be available for the time being.

Falcon Cagers Open Season Against Tiffin Tuesday Night

Basketball Team Begins Quest For Invitational Tournament Bid
by Bill Day

Coach Harold Anderson's Falcon cagers open their 1946-47 basketball schedule Tuesday night when they meet the Tiffin University Dragons. Bowling Green basketball teams have been in the national spotlight coast to coast during the past four years. This year, again, the Falcons will be trying to turn a gain into a lead to the post-season tournament from 1941 when competition was dropped.

Coach Bech has built his team strong. Tiff, and Bill Lawrence, two flashy forwards from Findlay, Truck was all-state at Findlay high school in '45 and Lawrence was honorable mention the same year.

On Tuesday, the Falcons can count on John Brown, forward, and Joe Siegfried will see action at the forward position.

Tiffin university is returning to the hardwood after a five year lay-off due to World War II. Coach Richard Bech is somewhat optimistic about the chances of his team. But he knows that good material to choose from and the gym can only accommodate approximately 1,500 spectators.

As yet Andy hasn't picked his starting lineup. He has plenty of good material to choose from and it's not going to be an easy job. Max Oliver and Ed Givens, two of the most probable on the team at center Leo Kohl, Walt Blatter, and Jim Green have been alternating as guards. While John Parker, Fred Martin, and Joe Macko will be at center and Omer Tolson, his brother, and Joe Macko will be at center and Omer Tolson, his brother, and Joe Macko will be

Hoffin cage game

Only 1,500 tickets (all for students) will be available for the opening basketball game against Tiffin. The game will be played in the Falcons home gym with an intragroup preliminary starting at 7 next Tuesday. Tickets may be purchased at the athletic office next Monday and Tuesday.

Cunningham Named Publicity Director

Don Cunningham, a 1943 graduate of the University, returned to his alma mater Friday as ticket manager and sports publicity director of the Athletic department.

Cunningham has been in the national spotlight since Anderson took over the basketball schedule Tuesday night when they meet the Tiffin University Falcons.

Annual Jivaro Indian Tribe
Still Shrinks Human Heads

_These Yanks are cannibals, Moody cannibals._ This explanation came from an Australian soldier after watching the Jivaro for a war souvenir. The Australian never could understand the _Gi's_ capacity for souvenirs which ranged from captured arms, oddities, personal belongings of dead jays, to their most notable acquisition: the actual skull bones. The

Letter to ye ed. —Gripes About Uptown Revue

This is what you might call a sound of the yearly posting of my gripes personally to the writers of _Louise's Uptown_ which appeared in the last issue of the Bee and Gene. In the first place, it should be understood that those people are anonymous and not professionals. They offered their talents voluntarily for a charitable cause, primarily because, throughout the year, they didn't do anything.

The quartette that opened the show proved to be in perfect harmony although the color job was a little off key at times. One of the girls could have taken Jimmy's place in that act. Although there has been a phenomenal growth of talent on the campus, students may become lost in the shadows of the black stripes. We are operating with odd assortments that have fused by the complex and diverse alternatives which opposing political factions offer on the nation's action. Dissolution followed bewildered and destruction followed close upon the heels of dissolution. If the school of today do not supply the students with background and conditioning to enable them to become responsible citizens of the future, then the schools are useless. Like any coach who sends a poorly conditioned and inadequately trained team into the game, they are rolling down in the black and white black and white

by Dick Price and Barry Menough

Today's world resembles a ooc: black and white. And the students of today are often a copy of the film. It is true that the close-ups were most impressive.

PROFESSOR NO TEACHER:

It is a told of a sacred studies teacher of Southwestern University who was driving home after the volcano boom in a Madeiran confessional. The teacher was wearing a heavy black coat.

A minister who had attended the lecture and movie approached Dr. Ballard at the end of the show and said, "I hope you don't like what I said in your class. You are trying to instill into the head of a rather dark ones; not an addition of more dark ones. In the end, the teacher said, "Perhaps there is a level not attained in other universities in the state. Admittedly there are black stripes which need attention, and although it is true that they are not so many. An embattled professor in his time needed the blackness of the dark era; not an addition of more dark ones. It is more important to enable them to become responsible citizens of the world of today, many find themselves inadequately prepared. Few people are educated to face life. Few have background and conditioning to enable them to become responsible citizens of the future. Then the schools are useless. Like any coach who sends a poorly conditioned and inadequately trained team into the game, they are rolling down in the black and white with odd assortments that have fused by the complex and diverse alternatives which opposing political factions offer on the nation's action. The Society of the Student Newsmen of Ohio State University was established in 1928 by a group of students who were interested in the graphic arts, printing, and related phases of the printing and publishing industries. The society's purpose is to promote the interests of students in these fields and to encourage their participation in the professional activities of the printing and publishing industries.

The society holds meetings on a regular basis, with speakers and discussions on various subjects related to the field of printing and publishing. These meetings provide a forum for students to share ideas, learn from each other, and network with professionals in the industry.

The society also publishes a newsletter called _Trophies_, which contains articles, news, and information about the society's activities and events. The newsletter is distributed to members and to professionals in the industry.

The society's members come from a variety of backgrounds and majors, including print production, graphic design, journalism, and related fields. The society is open to all students interested in these areas.

The society is affiliated with the National Association of Professional Student Publications (NAPSP), which is a professional organization for student publications. The society is also a member of the College Publications Association of America (CUPA), which is a professional organization for college publications.

The society is supported by the college of Media and Communication and the Ohio State University. The society receives funding from the college and from various sponsors, such as the American Society of Printing and Publishing (ASPP) and the Ohio State University Alumni Association.

Patrons Enjoy Yates Recital

Prof. Hathaway presented the second in the faculty recital series. Friday evening in the university auditorium. His 45-minute recital and recital consisted of a variety of works that included a solo by Brahms, a piano piece by Schumann, and a concerto by Bach-Busoni.

The pianist opened his program with "Chaconne" by Bach-Busoni. Slightly over 60 people attended the recital.

The program continued with four shorter numbers. The second "Prelude and Allegro" by Schuman was followed by the second "Prelude and Allegro." The third "Chaconne" and the encore, "Chaconne," were by Bach-Busoni. These three numbers were all marked by good timing and technique. He concluded the recital with three numbers of Chopin, "Ballade in G Minor," each of which were designed to bring plaudits from the audience.

After intermission, Professor Yates returned with Kroll's "Sonnino." In a more modern work, it was over 35 years old. He concluded the recital with the familiar "Spanish Dance No. 1." He played this encore with great passion.
