That issue is the frequency noted question of

Kentucky Cagers Threaten Falcon's Victory Parade

Another big game faces the Falcons this Saturday night when Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers come to Bowling Green with one of the betting teams in the nation. The Hilltoppers have pulled off a few upsets against some of the nation's best teams. The Falcons have been successful against the toughest schedule ever mounted in the history of the Western basketball capital.

Coach Ed Diddle of the Western club says that the Hilltoppers are "Tightwad" before the season opener is over. They have been playing against the toughest schedule ever put together in the history of the school. The four-man squad, 24 of them are returnees from the services, and the 26-man squad, 24 of them are 6 foot 3 inches tall, and that's about right.

The Falcons start two teams each averaging 6 points over, even though they are pitted with one of the better teams in the country. Tonight the Falcons return home against Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers come to Bowling Green when Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers come to Bowling Green.
