FRESH MUSICAL 'B & G Jumpin' Goes On Stage Saturday

The freshman variety show, "B & G's Jumpin'," is aimed squarely at every newcomer's interest in music. The musical will go on the roster at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, April 26.

Jim Cranin and Arnold Newman, co-chairmen of the production committee, say that the students have fixed up some of the old songs, and added some new ones. They have paired up some old favorites, and also have added an ear and a half of solid entertainment.

The show will introduce the maiden voyages of Harry McMillan and Jerry Kizer in a tap routine with plenty of modern dance. Their finale features a surprise for the audience.

All tickets are on sale in the student building, and a nickel for students, 60 cents for others, will procure their tickets from the box office at the show beginning Thursday.

Seniors Marked For Final Exams

Counselors and professors have given the final examinations to determine their grades and to prepare for the summer session. Any senior marked for exams will need to be sure that all tests which have been omitted in the course and his name will be examined. A report of those who will be considered final grades but are not in school. That report will be issued to the Bowling Green hospital.

Eyas Slated for May Sale

Features Score of Articles by Hank Lewis

The third publication of the college magazine will be on sale the latter part of May according to Glenn Smith, editor of the magazine.

This issue of Eyas will be much larger but will still serve a quarter for a year. The spring issue contains twenty-two student contributions.

The increased number of articles is in line with the standards and ambitions of the magazine.

Political Scientists

Petition National

Bruce Smick, Alpha, national political science honorary fraternity, has been drawn up by a group of eight students sponsored by Dr. Charles Barre and Dr. Jacqueline Tread of the political science department and presented to James J. Curley of the department of government.

Membership in the group requires completion of 12 credit hours in political science and holds with Dr. Curley.

The appearance of Eyas came after one year's discussion. A number of students felt that the need for a publication to be distributed among students. Since then Eyas has risen to the status of the magazine to the satisfaction of its primary authors. Such magazines include: Glen Smith, editor; Gayle Sipri, managing editor; Jack Jupir, editor; Warren Lofgren, executive editor; and NAIC. The features are produced by the college's National Political Science Honor Society.

FAIR ENGLISH Loans All for Comics

by Moby Catoil

Chastie Good could not know this but the influence of her famous cartoon friend, "Dick Tracy," originated nicknames of students on the Bowling Green campus.

The idea goes back to 1937 when Leonia Squires nicknamed her roommate Jack Mann, a former B.D. "Vincent Flaherty" when Jack began taking vitamin pills.

The idea spread like wildfire over the campus and even farther afield.

The initials of students were printed on their mail bags and on their caps which were for sale in handy on this job?

Bishops Provide Opener For University Golf Team

The university golf team will get underway Friday when it meets Ohio Wesleyan on the city course, according to Coach Fred Petrides.

Thicklads Wade To Opening Win

The Falcons played their first game and clinched the opening track meet with 567 points Thursday night. The meet was held at the Ohio Wesleyan field, where a driving storm made the field a sea of mud and held the meet in suspense from the start.

Bob Conrey, 3rd bar, led the Falcons in scoring when he took first in each hurdle event for ten points. Quintus Brelsford and Tom Smith, both runners, tied Conrey for top honors by scoring 14 points each in the half mile events while Blackburn, a spitter, won the 220-yard dash and the quarter mile.

In taking nine of fifteen events, the Falcon power was centered in the field events where they won each of the five contests.

Bob Emeistorm added the 100-yard dash to the total for the balance of the events the victors salvaged all other running events.

The next home meet won’t be until Saturday when Kent State will be here, however the Falcons will travel this week in an effort to chalk up some points as a field.

Spring Intramuscular

Final play will be made by the team who, in the first intramural softball league games, were drawn up against each other March at a meeting Monday night. The first meeting was held 10 February and will be continued Monday noon for the second meeting Wednesday night for four weeks. Final day for the entry is Thursday.

Marksmens Want Home on Range

by N. A. McClaire

A crack marksmen without a rifle is the order of the day. That’s the story of Norm Schmidt, sophomore, who has the rating of “expert” by the National Rifle association, but no rifle range.

Among the other teams entered, the making of the matches is in the hands of the students.

Starting time for all games will be 4 p.m. with a fresh declared opening ten minutes later. Each team is to supply an umpire for the balance of the season. and a member of the class will be called on for the matches.

Unusual practice, play is restricted to the spring sport. As long as 100 believers are players barred from action.

Gags and Fags

When it’s a race for giving away cigarettes, who’s crazy?

Three students, Fred Pay and Douglas Avery are distributing free cigarettes to students for free cigarettes containing two cigarettes for every five cents.

As one adds the two are giving away 50,000 cigarettes a day, he’s a little money, and Cokes.

Baseball Used As Peacemaker

Baseball helped to cement the “buds” of Ohio’s Class of 1947 into a nation following the Civil War, that is, during baseball season.

The first organized baseball was played in 1814. Interest in the game was really not played in 1814. Interest in the game was really a result of the Civil War, when all the players demand war. Baseball was a hit and the game was played in training camps.

The Civil War was a period of great development in sports that be legends that the task and the South.
