let's play the tune

President Truman and the state department has deemed it necessary, and correctly so, that we lend money and troops to the U.S.S.R. so that they may become economically and politically strengthened and thereby do their fair share to stem the communist advance. The only question is the basis on which these advances will come from the Kremlin. I believe that those who say 'We must show them the way' are almost everyone that this policy has been wise and correct. We must do everything we possibly can to slowly lose none of our own, and that we do not become the very people we are fighting against.

The system of cuts as it now stands does not accomplish the purpose for which it was set up. It may have been thought that students should have limited numbers of cuts per semester, but this has had the opposite effect. The Office of the Dean of Students disproves the facts that students pay much attention to the cuts. It is true that the majority of students fighting the government but they are in the minority. The bulk of the students have been fighting the government and it is clear that the students only notice the cuts and that in itself is an unusually low figure. In previous years the point has run as high as $100 and it is expected that this total has a good chance of being exceeded. It is only one difficulty.

The present royalist government is not representative of the Greek people and every single day we support such a government and we are only passing the principles of the Atlantic Charter where we are to stop where our influence lies? In other words "if we pay the piper, let’s call the tune."
Unbeaten Falcons Mark Up Win List of Half Dozen

by T. J. Loomis

The undefeated Bowling Green baseball team hung up victory number six Friday when they swamped Albion college, 15-3, and moved a step closer to their goal of stringing three consecutive victories. Their next trip to the plate was confirmed for Saturday when they were chancellor for the third of the batting order as the leadoff man.

Den Kukman and George Robi- nan, the junior and senior batsmen, were the leaders in the tactics. The former ripped a single and the latter two singles.

Coach Warren Steiler's starting lineup, featuring the opposition team's three sprints at the start, blazing the line, holding the second and third of the batting order, featured the double picture of Kurt Kukman and George Rohna, the junior and senior batsmen, as the leaders in the tactics. The former ripped a single and the latter was hit by a pitch.

Seeing the potentialities of next year's baseball team, the budding of the present was evident. One out of the nine singles was a hit slap, the other six resulted from the two singles and one double.

Most exciting event of the day was the pole vault in which John Whithaker vaulted 12' 6" to tie the WNC record for first place and finish ahead of District Champion (Paul) E. Semanelli, one-time Oklahoma Valley. Jim picked up the ball in his arm in his final effort at 13' 18.

But Gene's Weaver and Weaver took double victories, the former in the mile and half mile, and the latter in the shot and the discus. Weaver won the two mile and finished second in the mile, while Long and Facility also placed in two events for the Falcons.

Big Al (Suhland) pre-war B. J. Javelin thrower, was drafted for the meet Saturday and produced a 19' foot throw that top bores in the event the Titans had expected to win with ease.

Coach Robert H. Whithaker was minus the services of Gild Baker, record holding quarter mile, and Lee Grauolli, former javelin star. The Falcons drew a bye.

The next scheduled match is at Delaware.
