Four Fraternity Houses Will Be Completed by Fall

Only four of the seven fraternity houses now under construction will be finished by the beginning of the fall term. These will be the four nearest completion at the present time, according to Dean Conklin, head of the residence department.

These four houses will be the homes of Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta, Sigma Chi, and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Even though the houses seem to be moving rapidly toward completion, it is taking longer than had been anticipated. There are still hopes that the entire lot of seven houses will be finished, but Dean Conklin, who is in charge of the residence department, said that the houses under construction and does not think that all of them will be completed in time for the occupancy by the time the school term commences next fall.

For they are not finished, the University will see to it that those fraternity men who expect to live in the cottage-style dorms will be housed elsewhere until they will be able to move into their new homes.

The room rent for the entire semester is to be $32 a year and must be in Aug. 1.

New $10,000 Bus Will Carry School Colors

A bus has been purchased by the athletic department for use in transporting teams to out-of-town sports events.

The bus, painted brown and orange, is similar to the Princeton model with a Hercules motor. The cost of the vehicle is approximately $10,000, according to E. J. Kreischer, business manager.

"We feel that the bus will pay for itself in three or four years by saving the university money for transportation," Mr. Kreischer further commented. A special bus driver will be hired and be expressly assigned to the bus.

The bus is equipped with safety brakes, fixed steering wheel, and fire extinguishers.

Although it is owned by the athletic department, it is the most tremendous project ever undertaken by the Assembly committee for presentation during the entire high school season by the Bowling Green summer school program. The recital, which is being presented in the beginning instead of at the usual evening hour to accommodate the students, will consist of popular and classical renditions.

Nineteen Registered For Therapy Clinic

Seven Ohio counties are represented in the first speech and hearing workshop being held at the University. Nineteen nurses and teachers have registered for the five-day training period, July 14-18.

The purpose of the workshop is to teach recognition of the speech and hearing problems of children in their early years. Completed training will grant one hour of credit.

Miss Adeline McClendon, director of the University Speech and Hearing Clinic, is in charge and Miss Betty L. Irwin, state supervisor of speech and hearing therapy, is consultant.

Appointment Bureau Places

June Education Graduates

All June graduates prepared to teach will be placed by fall. William Miller, director of the Bureau of Appointment at Bowling Green State University, said today. The college of Education graduated 162 degrees.

Two series being paid starting teachers range from $1,400 to $5,000.

Demand for teachers is about the same as last year. It is greatest in elementary and secondary schools.

A shortage still exists in commerce, elementary education, home economics, industrial arts, Latin, mathematics, music, and physics.

Mr. Miller doesn't think the increase in pay will induce many additional students to prepare for teaching. He believes an improved school system and increased salaries in the teaching profession would be more effective.

Free placement service is provided for all former Bowling Green State University students.

On-Campus Rooms Already Filled

Over 1,000 students who desire rooms for next fall cannot be placed in University housing, Dean A. B. Conklin said this week. Even rooms off-campus are practically all filled.

Next fall only the students living in Shatzel, Williams, and Kohl Halls will eat in their dining rooms. Other students who desire to eat on the campus will be taken care of in the Men's Building. Room 315 A will be occupied by Mr. I. William Miller, former occupant of the Athletic Department, for use of the students.

"Curiously killed the cat."

Since we are not of the feline species, it is easy to imagine the result of any bruisings shins, the result of sashaying through a maze of contrapoints in the Laboratory School.

Chang was educated at Penn University in Berlin; C. P. Chang continued his education in University in France; and C. K. Chang, a Shanghai banker, studied in an Austrian university.

Pin-Hung, called Andy by his school mates, has a Bachelor of Arts degree from the American supported and administered Yenching University in Peiping. The president of Yenching was John Leighton Stuart, the present American ambassador to China. Pin-Chang was graduated in 1940.

The war interrupted Pin-Hung Chang's education, but it was not until January of this year that he was able to return to his studies in San Francisco and finally reached Bowling Green on Feb. 19 to take up his studies-a period of experiences during the period make a modern adventure story.

Letters From a Younger War

In 1945 Pin-Hung Chang was liaison officer with the First Division Marine Corps in Peking headquarters and operated as interpreter and translator at meeting with Allied and American forces.

Last year during General George C. Marshall's special investigation of the Chinese situation in Peking, Pin-Hung Chang worked as translator of secret documents at Gen. Marshall's headquarters in Peiping. When Nationalist, Communist, and American representatives met in the important conferences during the investigation, Mr. Chang interpreted and translated between the three groups.

The problems of China rest heavily on Pin-Hung Chang's mind and he said that talking about these problems causes distress because he can see no possible solution in the near future.

"I want to return to China and help with the reconstruction, but I'm not sure that I can use my learning to good advantage--I don't think India will have good government, on Aug. 16 but I don't think this period he was liaison officer with the United States Navy at its headquarters in that city.

BG Faces Tough Season

With summer football practice underway and fall practice slated for August 25, Coach Bob Whittaker and his staff are already making plans for the '47 season. Their eagerness to get started can be readily understood, for the Falcons this year face a rugged 10-game schedule beginning September 20 at home against the William and Mary tilt on November 22.

In the opener against the Muskeetawas in a night game, the Falcons will be attempting to dispel the whitewashing of last season. However, with the acquisition of their new head coach, Kris Klipsch, the Falcon football team and Xavier will be striving to better their dismal 2-7 record of '46 and may prove a surprise.

Seek Revenge Over Bearcats

Game number two brings Central Michigan here and the Whitehall gridders will be striving to avenge the 7-0 defeat handed them by the Mt. Pleasant gridders last season. Central Michigan was determined and the season against the strong Detroit University Titans should be softened up for their contest with the Falcons.

The following week, October 4, the gridders take to Dayton to tangle with Dayton's powerful Flyers. Under the direction of Coach Joe Gavin, an exponent of the T-formation, the Flyers will be attempting to avenge their year's relations with BG victoriously.

The next week finds the Falcons again packing their bags for a trip to Oxford, Ohio, to battle the Miami Red Hots. In a dual's day contest the Indians will be out to averge the unforgettable 6-0 moral victory the Falcons achieved last season and they will be thirsting to last season and the Falcons will be just as determined to walk off the field with the Red skins' scalp.

Three Home Contests

For the next three weeks the Falcons will be playing on their home grounds, meeting Ohio University, Kent State and Findlay in that order. The arrival of Don Peden's Bobcats marks the first meeting of the two schools since 1946 and they will be out to score an upset, if possible.

Our "sister college," Kent State, will provide plenty of trouble for the Orange and Brown on October 17 with the Golden Flashes arriving for their annual donnybrook. Last year, at Kent, they held BG to a pair of touchdowns and will be eager to reverse the count.

Meet Oiler

Findlay, the next foe, makes her debut on November 3, bringing with her the honor of holding the best defensive record in the nation in 1946. The Oilers last season scored 209 points in eight games, while holding their opponents to 25. With most of their letterman back this season they should provide an interesting afternoon for the Falcons.

In a repeat performance, the Falcons travel to Chicago, Illinois, on November 8, to meet Northwestern's St. Bonaventure 'team. Led by ex-Notre Dame Phil Collins, the Bonnies last year topped the little three conference championship and handed the Falcons one of their three losses.

The following week, the BG squad meets a newcomer when they play host to Iowa State Teachers of Cedar Falls, Iowa. The Panthers will be led by big tackle Jason Loving who rated "Little All-America" honors last fall.

The finale sends the footballers south of the Mason-Dixon line in what should be the toughest test of the entire season. The Falcons will be pointing for a victory in this one, hoping to win their first major interscctional victory in the contest of the Indians of William and Mary.
