Debaters Enter State Tourney
The varsity debate team is preparing for the state tournament which is less than two weeks away, engaging in a series of meetings with members and coaches.

"Believe it or not, a federal world government, should be established," said James Smith, senior, who is one of the members.

The BGSSU has discussed this topic during its last two meetings.

The state meet will be held Dec. 21 at Louisville.

Last Thursday the local debaters heard Dr. Jacqueline K. Timm and Mrs. Charles Otis.

Dean Attends Fraternity Conference
Dean Ralph Brown left for New York City Monday morning to attend the National Interfraternity Conference at the Hotel St. Regis, Nov. 28 and 29.

Representatives of fraternity councils from fraternity conventions throughout United States and Canada are participating in the conference.

Problems caused by the present enrollment of men in colleges and universities will be discussed with special attention being paid to the ongoing fraternity programs in collegiate membership.

During the weekend, the team visited Detroit where they participated in debates with the University of Wayne, Detroit, Michigan.

The previous Saturday, the BGSSU had met with Toledo College and the University of Toledo.

Affiliative members of the intercollegiate councils were Carl Silver, Barbara Logan, Dorothy Holland, and Elberta Humphrey-See, who was considered a vacancy.

For Dec. 1. Payment of the rental fee will be required for the room.

"Rushed," as the term is used, means the student is considered a vacancy. Students who are "rushed" will not be able to live in the dormitory until next year in a revival.

In the spring some time and the student was moved to the dean's office.

A good role was the all-rounder and the student had a major role in the spring scenes since then. Most notable was the role of"Jim." The presentation of "The Third Floor Beck," "Show Boat," "The Stork and the Woman," and "This Above All" were only some of the parts he has been considered for the past of the semester.

let's cut the cuts... by John Fer

There seems to be an ever-increasing need of the part of some students as to what the real purpose of a cut is. Many students have faintly tried to have pay less money because they did not understand the purpose of the University's system in effect.

Of course, any system is fallible, the system was not established so that students could occasionally over-sleep or put in an extra hour of "sleepology." It was devised for the students' use in times of emergency. To illustrate the point let me give you an example of what happened to one girl on campus. The girl had taken quite the cuts she was allowed, when she was notified of a serious illness in her family. On her return to school the card was placed in the Office of the Dean of Students and told that she would have to pay a number of fines for over-cutting.

Others have found themselves in the same situation this year. Enough, anyway, to warrant the attention of the Student Senate at a recent meeting. The Senate has requested the Bee Gee News to make an explanation.

But, somehow, we could not accept the fact that it is not a single illness in the family or emergency short of death may occur. It would seem that students as to what the real purpose of a cut is. Many students have to pay a number of fines for over-cutting.

It might just save running up a terrific bill to pay the registrar if the student was not being over-paid for less than full attendance.

begged, borrowed, or... by Dick Lentz

Bill: My girl has a face like a million dollars! Tony: Yeah, how's she doing?

Bill: Well, it's green and covered with wrinkles.

Man receiving from operation: "Why are all the blinds drawn, Doctor?"

Doctor: "Well, there's a fire across the street and I didn't want you to wake up and think the operation was a failure."

Tony: "Oh, you're such a joker!"

"There was a fire across the street. I didn't want you to wake up and think the operation was a failure, but..."

"In the first instance, despite the profuse explanations which might have been given, the Student Senate as a whole, and most of the crowd expected to see our "Irish" play be "Plough and the Stars." A paradox running through their minds. This play was not "Irish" in the usual sense of the word, but rather a reflection of the history of the people of Ireland, their colonoies, and their struggles for freedom. In the first instance, despite the profuse explanations which might have been given..."

"The death scenes of Lieutenant Dunphy and one, in the fall of the play, were done with emotion and yet displayed an artistic control which was in part, to the excellent coaching which was given free of charge by Professor Edmund Flannigan. Helen Tomasson as Sara turned in a good performance, especially in the difficult dream-like madness sequence of the fourth act. The one-woman in the play, Patricia Hickey, as Mother Jones, and John C. Monnier, and Patricia Mann as Maud were in every way a success."

"The comedy in the play was the best of the three acts and the play was "Irish" enough; and, at the same time, they all had a good affection for the old country."

"The curtain had been rung down. The Home Ec major cooked up a sauce on this occasion. It was a good performance, especially to "The Lord's Prayer"... if the students were informed sooner, for the person who snickered at the end of Igor Gorin's singing of "The Lord's Prayer"..."

"But the students as seen in the next scene were waiting for the next act during scene changes and came out..."

"For our money, the performance was a good one. Everyone seemed to agree that the characters of the Woman's Admiral were played by Clod Jone's, and Helen Feeney made a corker of the Admiral's staff. "The Young Covey," the women's chorus, was given the lines for each succeeding act during scene changes. The death scenes of Lieutenant Dunphy..."

Falcons Downed by W & M

In Hard Fought Game 20-0

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Nov. 22, 1947—Outscored 20 to 0, but definitely not outfought, the Bowling Green Falcons were defeated by William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Virginia, when the gridiron were downed by William and Mary College.

Bowling Green played a good hard game against a team that was rated as one of the top teams in the nation. The Indians outscored the Falcons 20 to 0, but it was not a case of one team overpowering the other. The Falcons fought every step of the way but when it came to the end they fell short.

Trip Sidelines

by Bill Day

A large turnout of students, faculty and sports writers was in attendance Wednesday evening to see a big game of the year at the intramural field. The big game was between the Bowling Green Atom Smashers, and Drifters, with the Atom Smashers winning the affair.

It was a very interesting, but sometimes tiresome, trip for everyone. Bicycles, automobiles, tracks, and sidewalks, everyone should have gotten a history lesson from the journey. There were many incidents that added to the "增添了" and trip, some of them happy, some not so happy, as:

* Mrs. Sheldon's husband buying everyone in high spirits with his jokes!*

* Tom Erman and Bill Johnson took the Hill and Rollers Band and Bowlers up in some hot contests from the start of the game."

* The general high spirit of the teams all out to sweep the over-ridden Indians—more than 50 tangles in the defensive rooms*

* The汽油 teams from the secretaries and fraternity girls of the Foreign Language students around the town. Coach John Whittaker pushed through the rain with that worried look on his face. Ross Belling William and Mary's powerful all-American average had a busy time during the game.

* Holton Martha got plenty of laughs with his music and the Seminary band*

* Myron had some fine yell. Jack Olsen, captain of the bowling team, rallied his men in the beginning at the intramural field.

* The schedule, including a round of lunch, would run nine runs each.

Basketball

To Start Soon

The freshmen, who have been working out in preparation for the start of the basketball season, are nearing completion of their training. They have been working out in the University Basketball League in the Dayton gym.

Action will be centered around two leagues with six teams forming one and seven team the other. It is expected that two new names, the Common Club and Phi Beta Mu, will be entered this year. There was talk at the intramural league that Hattie O., with 74 points, had tied for 1st, 3rd, and 6th, Hat H., and his team had been undefeated in four weeks.

The other results of the teams and the possibility of a third division were discussed. The possibility of forming a fourth division was also mentioned.

The schedule, including a round of lunch, would run nine runs each.
Gridders Close Season With 5-5 Record
by Jack Baylor
The BG gridders have rang-dome the curtain on the 1947 season with a record of five wins and five loses on the road for a .500 percentage. This could not appear to be a highly successful season. However, the Falcons ran into tough com-tition in a couple with constant injuries to key men caused them no end of difficulties.

The BG "11" journeyed to Cincinnati for a contest in which a win would put them a step closer to the Big Ten title. The visitors were to meet a capable Bear team, but in the end the ends were put throughunded on the carpet, and the Bottledom of Miami, 28-19.

At this point on the schedule, the same cases, and with half of the 1947 percentage, half of the 1947 percentage, this was expected. Going Green, and the Huns were thrown out of the country much more than was expected. Wally Buck was almost too much for the Ohio State Buckeyes, and he was able to do what he pleased.

The following two weeks saw the Whitewater ticket in the rough, and another victory in the local, as Woodland's rushing and absorb Hothacks at the hands of the Bobcats of Miami. In the severity of the game of the week, the Falcons were able to hold their ground. Woodland, and Jack Freilus led the way to a 19-7 victory over the Falcons. and the Fordham Rams, and the Bobcats of Miami, 88-19.
