Lutherans Hold Program Here

Lutheran students from the Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church arrived Sunday for their fifth annual Training School. Over 215 students are at the conference.

Material to be covered will be divided into two sections. The first section, July 18 to July 22, will be devoted to the discussion of three main topics: (1) We Search The Scriptures; (2) We Live For Christ; (3) We Learn To Lead.

This section will be attended by youthful Lutheran League members ages 16 to 19, from different parishes throughout the district.

The second section will be an advanced school dealing with council work and with training of the mechanics of church councils and church work in the organization of congregations. Representatives, ages 19 and up, will attend this school.

Social features of the training school will be friendship circles and a midnight movie night.

Faculty and officials of the training school will be: Rev. Marcus Rieke, Columbus; Rev. Theodore Kruger, Columbus; Rev. Edward Manier, Champaign, Michigan; Paul Bruns, Coral Union Director; Mrs. Margaret Kaufman, Dean of Women; Dean of Men, Rev. Lange, Detroit; Recreation Director, Ted Tigestmyer; Editor of the school newspaper, Henriek.

Faculty members of the advanced school will be Dr. Norman Menter, Detroit, and Rev. Marcus Rieke, Columbus.

Summer Play Will Be Given

"Stardust," a three act comedy by Walter Kerr, will be presented by the summer school of speech, Aug. 2 and 3, at 8:15 p.m. in the Main Auditorium.

The play has a double cast.

Admission will be 50 cents and a reserved seat for students and 50 cents to townspeople and faculty members.

Lisardo, Radio commentator and authority on this affairs, will be in Bowling Green July 28 to speak before the University assembly.

Now a naturalized American citizen, Miss Lisardo was born in Florence, Italy, of American and Scottish parents who were able to give her the advantages of extensive travel and private tutoring. She frowned upon the life of the conventional debutante, however, and ventured into the fields of journalism and archeology. At 17, she was associate editor of a literary weekly, and as an archeologist, she wrote the English guide to Pompeii, a standard handbook used by the American GI's in Italy.

In 1933, Mussolini invited her to become Europe's first woman commentator. Many thought Fascism "a good thing for Italy," but Lisardo soon recognized its real nature and tampered with official radio scripts. Once Ciano immediately ordered her dismissal. She was in danger and, with Marcus Rieke, headed for America.

Safe in the United States, Miss Lisardo soon became "the Golden Voice of Rome." In 1937 she gave scheduled commentaries from the Metropolitan Opera House, the Berkshire Music Festival and various other centers. Preferring the field of newswriting and news analysis, however, she has spoken extensively before all types of audiences—from small gatherings in urban communities to huge crowds in Madison Square Garden. She has made several trips to Europe since the war, and in 1947 addressed the International Convention of Business and Professional Women in Paris.

A donation to this assembly will be free of charge to all students.

At the Student Employment Bureau, Jane Baxter helps place John Gillespie in a summer job. P.S. He got the job!

Do You Need A Job?

With 200 students already placed, the Student Employment Bureau is continuing to find employment for summer school students.

Three students, Jane Baxter, Sal Gidocia and Dom Spoto maintain offices hours from 10:15 until 12:15 a.m. and 2 till 3 p.m.

Jobs at the present are scarce and those coming in are mostly for unskilled labor. Job applications are no longer being taken. The system now is to give the job to the first applicant to appear after an employer telephones in a job. The staff encourages perseverance, and as many trips to the office as necessary.

Three storks arrived in Toledo. Father!--Son!

Robert Jaynes, graduate assistant in the Journalism Department, paced the floor on Friday before his new son and only child, David Wendell Jaynes, was born. "Mumtaz" Accepted

James E. Lauck's poem, "Mumtaz," has been accepted for publication in "The Singing Quill," poetry quarterly, published in Columbus. The poem is a rhymed oriental romance which runs to 48 stanzas.

He won the Ohio Poetry Day Award in 1943, and has had poetry accepted and entered in the WACO, Columbus.

He is a junior English major from Van Wert.

"Father!--Son!" Jump For Joy, Kids!

Three storks arrived in Toledo. A graduate assistant, a June graduate, and a journalism student joined the ranks of proud fathers.

Robert Jaynes, graduate assistant in the Journalism Department, paced the floor on Friday before his new son and only child, David Wendell Jaynes, was born.

Donald Drain, June graduate, will soon be pacing the floor when his wife and son return home from the Toledo Hospital. He became proud "papa" last Monday.

John Zabowski, of the famed Journalism copyreading classes, was also ready to show his pride in his new son in a few years. The Zabowski lad was also born last Monday.

Courage, a strong heart, and a deep-rooted sense of true democratic spirit were recommended by Dr. Juraj Slavik as the chief weapons with which to combat Communism which he has seen spread throughout Europe.

Before 500 students in the Main Auditorium last Wednesday, the former Minister of the Interior and Ambassador to the United States from Czechoslovakia said that otherwise the Communists will gain the obedience they desire. "They gain this," he said, "with only a handful of men trained to command with the communist touch."

Slavik traced the history of the Czech downfall from World War I to the present, concentrating on the years between 1939 and 1946.

Little is actually known of what happened in Feb. 28, of this year other than the Foreigners climax their usual slow indoctrination tactics, Dr. Slavik stated.

One Party Election

He said the resignation of 14 members of President Bene's cabinet was carried out in hopes of gaining a new election in the face of the oncoming Communist purge. Instead, a one candidate election was held and Moscow's Gottwald elected as president.

Along with their usual procedure the Communists advanced three arguments to the Czech people: that they did not get a fair election; that the Czechs are dependent on Russia; and the Communists did not do these things in accordance with the fact that America hoped to make her so, using the Marshall plan as her instrument.

In spite of the present Stalin rule, Dr. Slavik stated that only about 25 per cent of the Czech people are Communists. The non Communists fear this rule even more than they did before the war, and the Germans. Through their control of the labor unions they warn of the government speaks always of impending war.

Mussiey Death Murder

An often suspected but little talked about event which brought to light with Dr. Slavik's claim that the Komintern's Mussiey was killed by Soviet agents and did not commit suicide as the Communists would have us believe. This information came from his friends within Czechoslovakia.

Laker Dr. Slavik gazed intently and leading questions by students and merely elaborated briefly on statements already made. He said that America, as the envy of the rest of the world, had not too much to fear in the way of communist domination but that the secret and by-passing methods were always a danger.

Chorus To Give Summer Concert

University Summer Chorus will present a concert on Friday, July 26, of light "recreational music" according to Dr. James Paul Kennedy, director of choral activities.

The members of the Chorus are: sopranos, Joanne Ankney, Alta Baker, Greerrive Bell, Lillian Busna, Martha Crand, Gerrie Clymer, Midge Dwyer, Marilyn Deva, Alice Elton, Janice Fuller, Maria Girvokis, Doris Graver, Irene Haupricht.

Alleys--Hawk, Lois Hindig, Margaret Jones, Form Leffal, Mar- garet Manhart, Ida Mae McCowen, Marilyn Mercer, Helen Muller, Edith Sidner, Phyllis Sillie, Jackie Smith, Marilyn Stearns, Alice Van Fitz, Shirley J. Wagner, Lydell Welland, Joan Wilson.

Altos--Suzanne Abell, Jeannette Abbot, Mary Boom, Luetta Basko, Avvalo Dremer, Mary Fewall, Kathrynh Giviskos, Marilyn Gocker, Marilyn Hook, Ruth Jean Herton, Joan Householder, Mrs. Ralph Howarth, Jane Kiles, Pat Torbey, Marilyn Trnpp, Margaret Strebe, Barbara Trapp, Armeida Van Meter, Pat Wigle, Ilia Jo Wilson, Ethel May Wylle.

Basses--George Bell, Ralph Ewart, Doug McGwen, James H. Nicholason, Glenn Ruts, Robert Spockey, Harold C. Urschel.

James Lauck's Poem "Mumtaz" Accepted

James E. Lauck's poem, "Mumtaz," has been accepted for publication in "The Singing Quill," poetry quarterly, published in Columbus. The poem is a rhymed oriental romance which runs to 48 stanzas.

He won the Ohio Poetry Day Award in 1943, and has had poetry accepted and entered in the WACO, Columbus.

He is a junior English major from Van Wert.

"Mumtaz" Accepted

James E. Lauck's poem, "Mumtaz," has been accepted for publication in "The Singing Quill," poetry quarterly, published in Columbus. The poem is a rhymed oriental romance which runs to 48 stanzas.

He won the Ohio Poetry Day Award in 1943, and has had poetry accepted and entered in the WACO, Columbus.

He is a junior English major from Van Wert.

"Mumtaz" Accepted

James E. Lauck's poem, "Mumtaz," has been accepted for publication in "The Singing Quill," poetry quarterly, published in Columbus. The poem is a rhymed oriental romance which runs to 48 stanzas.

He won the Ohio Poetry Day Award in 1943, and has had poetry accepted and entered in the WACO, Columbus.

He is a junior English major from Van Wert.
by John Fay

The part which the wife plays in a married veteran's college career is an important one; yet it is one which many people either overlook or just take for granted.

In the first place, the approximately 350 married veterans on this campus or the married veterans on any campus are hot having an easy time of it. With the cost of living at its present level, it is impossible to live on $105 a month, which is the amount of no-government allowance.

This means that the veteran's wife not only has to accomplish the normal load of household duties but hold down a job to supplement the allowance as well.

But there are not many wives who refuse to "dig in" and help their husbands over this period of training and certain large universities, Notre Dame among others, are beginning to take notice of the veterans' wives by granting them a certificate of recognition at the same time that their husbands receive their diplomas.

This is a thoughtful gesture on the part of university officials at Notre Dame and the Bee Gee News sees reason why the same gesture could not be extended at this university.

Inside Bowling Green

by The Man on the Inside

PIKA's Don Thosa and Marge Decker are soon to be married. So Russell, Sigma Nu, and a Cleveland nurse are altar bound. Ann Demuth went East to do social work and wound up cute, pert and wonderful Mary Benschoter.

Johnny Fay, vice-president of next year's junior class, engaged to one of the government allowance.

The welcome mat is out this week to Mrs. William R. Mc-Mahon, of New York, N. Y., Editor-in-Chief, Jim Limbacker.

Alpha Tau Omega House Phone 9221

Associate Editor

Jane Holm

Sports Editor

William Hall

Feature Editor

John Fay

Copy Editor

Orrilla Jenkins

Circulation Manager

Harold Merillat

Staff Photographer

Nilo Lindburg

Business Manager

Dan Raasdt

Advisor

John Minc

Mr. Ralph Geer

Vet Counselor

Finds Answers

Ralph Geer, Veteran and new Student Counselor, finds that problems he is confronted with are many and varied.

If the veteran had any troubles in the service, he was instructed to go see the Chaplain. At B.G., he finds answers to his troubles through the Veteran's Counselor.

Mr. Geer has to answer to such questions as: "Where is my $2 $1 allowance?" "Why haven't I received subsistence for my baby?" "Where can I borrow some money?"

Although all of the questions are not financial questions, the counselor finds that the biggest share have to do with subsistence. To answer the veteran's questions, Mr. Geer uses all the devices at his disposal. Often certain problems are worked out by traveling to the points where the difficulty arises and digging out the facts.

Telephones and the mail are all ways full of his queries seeking to straighten out a veteran's dilemma. Seldom is a veteran who enters Mr. Geer's office, left without a suitable answer to his problems.

Veterans are not the only persons who call on Mr. Geer to help them out. Prospective new students are contacted by him in order that they might better understand what life at B.G. is like.

Letters are sent to answer queries from students who desire information about B.G. and yearbooks are mailed by his office to high schools. Mr. Geer also makes personal tours to various high schools to tell college minded students the truth about university life.

Going to college while still in high school has placed the students of the Summer School of Speech in a unique position, so we asked them, "How does college compare with high school?"

"More freedom and room for originality in college," said Harvey Lodge, senior in Amherst High.

"Being more or less my own in classes here has somehow made me feel that I'm really working for myself," he continued, "and that nothing is being forced on me.

"College isn't a one building, two minutes between each class affair," Harvey concluded, "and this dormitory life makes you feel very grown-up."

"The lack of prejudice in college life compared with the lack of everyone to mix with everything," said Ann Domuth, "impressed me, as the greatest difference." It was the opinion of Jackie O'Reatty from Barberton High.

"Methods of teaching at Bowling Green are more effective than those in high school and I plan to use these ideas back with me to Barberton," added Jackie who will work with two speech classes when she returns to school in the fall.

"Bowling Green has impressed me," said Jackie, "and I'll prove it by doing my registration here next February.

"It's a main difference for me is that everyone doesn't have to do as much as teachers do at my high school," said Marilyn Harris, who, during regular quarters, is one of the 350 students at Lakeide High School.

"At college," she continued, "you meet many interesting people with different backgrounds and ideas, so you can learn something from each of them." It would be a good idea to give all high school students a glance at college before graduating," Marilyn concluded, "because it would give them an idea on how to prepare for it.

"I don't think we're really a big college," said Fred Skok realistically, "it seems to me that we are just above the high school level and below the college line."

"But everything here differs from high school," the Shaw High student continued, "in the formal way that classes are held. This is fine because I feel you can learn more when there's less tension on you."
Alexander's Ragtime Band - Student Makes Pre-Law Brief

"A Brief Of Prelegal Information" by William F. Cooper, former BS student, is being introduced into the guidance program for pre-law students, according to Dr. K. H. McFaul, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Copies have been distributed to the library and to the offices of the Deans as an addition to guidance material available to students.

The "Brief" contains general information and bibliography of material intended to assist the pre-law student in his selection of correct legal training at proper schools.

Containing references to the experiences of practicing lawyers who are alumni of Bowling Green, the paper offers information which will assist the student in choosing his special phase of work.

Especially prepared for the Pre-Law Club, the "Brief" is a result of an exhaustive survey made by Mr. Cooper of the leading law schools of the country.

Student Makes Pre-Law Brief

Elstons Speak At SCF Sunday

Student Christian Fellowship members will have a farewell picnic retreat the week-end of July 30. Plans have been made to rent "Openings," a park near Toledo, for the affair.

Those interested in attending please sign up in the SCF office before Friday.

Sunday evening meeting on July 25 will feature Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elston who have come to Bowling Green for recreation work with the Mexican people at the Haina plant. Mr. and Mrs. Elston will speak in Studio B of the Practical Arts Bldg. at 6 p.m.

Knapper Attends Ohio Convention

Dr. E. G. Knapper, professor of business education, joined eight nationally known leaders of business education and some 200 teachers and administrators from throughout the state for the opening of the first annual Business Education Conference at Ohio State University.

Why Not Be Cool

See our complete line of Summer Wear to Beat The Heat

SPORT SHIRTS—summer weight
SLACKS—plaid and plain
SPORT COATS—Seven Seas lightweight seerscords
TEE SHIRTS — SWIM TRUNKS

The Campus Men's Shop
Main Ct.—near post office

SODAS & SUNDAES
MALTEDS, SANDWICHES, SALADS
FINE CANDIES

Open 7:30 a.m. Week Days
9:00 a.m. Sunday

RAYMOND'S SWEET SHOP
Where a b s Ice Cream Cone is still a nickel
118 N. Main St.

Meyers Is Museum Head

Dr. Everett C. Myers, recently appointed curator of the Bowling Green State University Museum, plans eventually to have a museum building so there will be a place to display and care for the collections that are distributed in classrooms and in the corridors of the Science Bldg. The greater part of the collection is in storage.

"No one knows how extensive the museum collection of the late Dr. Edwin L. Moseley is," Dr. Myers remarked after a preliminary survey of his new work. "Some of the specimens have never been seen by anyone but Dr. Moseley."

Considered the best of its kind in this country, the museum contains the Moseley collection of Philippine birds, and many fossils, skeletons, Indian relics, stuffed mammals and fish.

With the aid of two part-time assistants, Dr. Myers will clean, catalog and repair the items. He plans to have the museum collection as well filled and sorted that any exhibit can be loaned to classes for study at any time. "A university museum should be for educational purposes first of all," he pointed out.

A native of Cleveland with degrees from Western Reserve and John Hopkins Universities, Dr. Myers has done museum work at Reserve and at Dartmouth College.

Alumni Magazine

Features '23

The summer issue of Bowling Green State University's Alumni Magazine features students graduated 25 years ago and faculty members who have been on the campus a quarter of a century.

Articles tell about Prof. John Schwarz and Miss Caroline Nelson, retiring chairmen of the history and foreign languages departments respectively. Both were named professor emeritus recently.

Prew. Frank J. Proult has written a tribute to Dr. Edwin L. Moseley, professor emeritus of biology, who died June 6.

Copies of the magazine are being mailed to all members of the Class of 1923, according to L. William Miller, alumni bureau director and magazine editor.

Announcements

AUGUST GRADS

August graduating seniors who ordered commencement announcements should turn them in to the Registrar's Office Monday and Tuesday.

VETERANS

Veterans interrupting their training in the middle of the semester are required to refund charges to the V.A. for the remainder of the semester, otherwise time will be charged against those for which such payments were already made.

Subsistence will be paid, however, for the entire month in which the interruption takes place.

Automatic leave of 10 days will be given each veteran unless he files an interruption of training at the V.A. office.

POST OFFICE

Students leaving the campus at the close of the Summer Session should give their home addresses to the campus post office. All mail arriving after that time will be forwarded.

FLIGHT TRAINING

Veterans must supply proof to the V.A. that their reasons for taking flight training are vocational or occupational.

Recent legislation by Congress lists such things as, dancing, photography, bartending, and flight training as avocational or recreational, and unless proof is submitted, veterans may not receive benefits under the G.I. bill to take training in such courses.

Veterans taking training in these courses before July 1, 1948 may continue their training without proof.

REGISTRATION

Summer school students can complete registration for the fall term between July 26 and July 30.

Post summer registration can also be completed July 26 to July 30 or on Aug. 9, the day classes start.

Courses offered in the post summer session are: English 202; sociology 203; geography 201; economics 281 and education 306, 343.

be WELL DRESSED

Minute Moos

Wobblv run-over heels — or holes in soles can ruin your appearance.

No matter how pretty your dress is — you've slip-shod uma- nity, you've pick-shod.

Atching new toplifts — replacing worn soles takes just a little time.

Check your shoes today!

Church Shoe Shop
181 S. Main Ph. 4155

Sodas, sundaes and milkshakes are better when made with Borden's Ice Cream, by trained dispensers!

"If it's Borden's — it's got to be good!"
Falcons Undertake Rugged Basketball Schedule

Campus I. M.'s In Semi-Finals

Joe "Doggie" McCleary definitely stamped himself as the man to beat in the campus match play golf tournament last week with victories over Fred Boggs and Chris Depas, to enter the quarter-finals. After being pushed for the first time in beating Boggs, 2 and 1, he came back strong to thump Depas 8 and 6.

His opponent in the final round will probably be decided in a match this week between Marty Hallibrain and Ed Kunts. Hallibrain advanced by outlasting Ed Simmons, 4 and 3, while Kunts had little trouble in beating Bob Stout, 4 and 3.

Upper bracket results found Niswander eliminating Franks, 1 up and Hoffman defeating Flegle, 5 and 4. In the lower bracket Schlatter defeated Curciello, 3 and 2, while Bilbo eliminated Otten, 4 and 3.

In Semi-Finals

Falcons Undertake Rugged Basketball Schedule

Coach Harold Anderson discusses 26-game Falcon basketball schedule with cagers Red Speicher, Bob Long and Chuck Share.

Cleveland Browns Arrive Monday To Begin Pre-Season Grid Practice

by Tommy Foy

Bowling Green's annual incongruity, the invasion of the ultra-feminine atmosphere of the Alpha Xi sorority house by the ultramasculine Cleveland Browns football team, takes place next Monday morning when the play-for-pay boys arrive on campus for a month of arduous training in preparation for their forthcoming All-American Conference grid battles.

Conference champs for the past two seasons, the Browns this year will be minus the services of many of the stars who helped the Paul Brown-coached elevens achieve their enviable records.

Included on this list are Mike Sceary, all-league pivot man who has abandoned the pro ranks in favor of the head coaching job at Western Reserve; tackle Ernie Blandin, now with the rejuvenated Baltimore Colts, and backfield standouts Don Greenwood, Bill Land, Mickey Mayne and Ermal Allen.

However, the '48 squad will not be lacking its share of veteran gridders for, in addition to the arrival of promising newcomers listed among the 46-man roster, the names of such perennial Brown stalwarts as Tony Adame, Chet Adams, Tom Coiella, Bill Willis, John Tonaker, Marion Motley, Otto Graham, Edgar Jones, Dante Lavelli, Lou Sahib, Lou Rykhus, Mac Ulinski and others also appear.

Although no training schedule has yet been announced, the team will probably hold two practice sessions daily, beginning Tuesday morning.

Dexterous Daphne

Dance? I would love to! My clothes just got back from the SANITARY DRY CLEANERS so I'll be ready in a jiffy.

The Expression "TOO HOT TO EAT" was coined before our summer menu

But we still disagree . . .

so will you when you try our

Garden Salad

- - - -

TUNA FISH SALAD
plus Saltines and Butter

Beverage

Cantaloupe .15
Watermelon .20

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB

RESTAURANT

Beverage