Three Student Court Posts Open To Juniors, Seniors

Three posts are open on the Student Court. Students interested in serving on the Court must make their application before Friday at 3 p.m.

Application forms may be picked up at the office of Ralph Geer, Director of Guidance. Petitions must be returned to Mr. Geer's Office by Friday.

No two students from the same fraternity or sorority may serve on the Senate. Court members must have completed at least four semesters of school.

To be eligible for the Student Court posts, students must have a 2.5 average.

Of the three members to be appointed, two must be women.

Editor Announces Staff Positions

The Editorial staff positions on the Bee Gee News are now filled, the News editor announced today.

The assistant editors will be John Fay, former associate and feature editor, and Patricia Mann, former summer staff writer.

Ivy Hall Nears Completion

Originally scheduled for completion this week, remodeling of the newly-acquired Ivy Hall will take three weeks to four more weeks, according to A. H. Cokkin, Dean of Students.

The two-story, former hatchery building, located on Wester St. near the southwest corner of the campus, will be occupied by the Theta Chi and Beta Sigma Pi fraternities, whose members are now quartered temporarily in the Bel-Show Building.

 Theta Chi, national fraternity for men, will house 40 members of the second floor, while Beta Sigma Pi, local social fraternity, will have 30 members occupying the first floor.

Traffic Rules Go Into Effect

Parking regulations went into effect Monday morning for faculty and employees who have cars on campus. All students, freshmen, may have parking areas secured for them only by special permits, and by permission of the Dean of Students. Plans forGreek Editor  I. Lindquist, former summer staff writer, will be the former sports editor.

Students interested in working on the Key during the summer term will meet with the Key editorial committee at 9:30 tonight at 87, and has three surviving children.

“Enrollment for the fall term will reach 4,600,” John W. Bunn, registrar, said this week. “Students are still coming in as it is now full. We have not had a fall turnover this year.”

Records show that 4,017 students have registered and are attending classes. Of these, 1,656 are freshmen, 1,679 are sophomores, 118 are juniors, 86 are seniors and 283 are non-registered.

Students are still changing hours for their classes, registering for courses and preparing school work, and will be ready in the near future.

Directory Offers Last Chance

Students who wish to have their names listed in the BGSU Student Directory must register their names before the last chance tomorrow to sign their entries. All submitted articles should be addressed to Kyas, English Building, through Campus Mail service.

Students may apply for five positions still open on the Kyas staff by listing name, address, class, type of work preferred and experience if any. These applications must be mailed to Bill Luehr, Beta Tau Delta House, Bowling Green, Ohio, by October 1.

Campus Traffic Hazards.
A lot of traffic regulations have been made on campus, but there still remain two very serious traffic hazards. One of these is the North Dorm area. This district is under the jurisdiction of the city, and the university can pass no regulation to alleviate the danger of accidents in this location.

So we have enlaid the power of the press (let which we are a little skeptical in the first of what may well become a series of articles. For the safety of children and families living north of the city, and the university can pass no regulation to alleviate this problem.

Therefore, we hope that these problems may be solved promptly. I hope that these problems may be solved promptly.

American Roused, Says Mademoiselle From France
By Moaf Calli

"Americans are such busy people. They eat in a hurry, walk in a hurry and always seem to be in a rush to get somewhere," was Janine Rosard's first impression of the United States, upon arriving at Paris, Oct. 19, 1948, from Paris, France.

This petty, charming mademoiselle stands approximately 5 feet and 6 inches in height (174 cm) and 54 kilograms in weight (120 lbs.). She has black hair, blood-red eyes, an enchanting smile and an accent that adds to her personality. "No, I don't bring a bikini," (French talking nut) she answered. Janine claims this is one of the most popular questions asked her.

She came over the 8 S. Marine Tuggle who is a student ship carrying American students, who had spent their summer abroad, and foreign students coming to the United States for their education. Janine is working on her Masters in English at Bowling Green on the scholarship basis.

The daughter of an administrative vice-minister of the French ministry of Foreign Affaires, Janine found it difficult to leave her parents since this was her first trip away from home. She lived in a tenement apartment near the Eiffel Tower and after about 20 minutes from the famous Champ-Elysees. She was born in Troyes, a town of 50,000 inhabitants which is about 300 miles from the Spanish frontier.

"The colleges in France are very similar in years to those in America, although we don't have fraternities or sororities," says Janine, "but you can't realize how fortunate you are to be living so cheaply."

Her respite is in living in what he calls an inexpensive hotel near the campus and it costs her 400 francs (around $15 a month) just for a room and that is without electricity and running water.

Approaching the popular disc-

Paree of Paris, Janine explained. "You will be inelated to know that we have dances every single week. She tells us that the new style in French food is not much differ-ent from French food, "only I will not use our custom of having wine at every meal."

Janine is surprised to find how informal the American men are. She says in France they address people in a rather informal way. "In France, to be fashionable is just an afterthought."

She likes their health-looking faces and won't permit herself by telling us when she considers them handsome, the American men or the Frenchmen. She thinks that this formality that exists in their country is in their upbringing and due to the fact that these men are expected in their schools, until they have reached the college age. "We are not allowed to wear lipstick or anything else until we are 18," said Janine.

He is the new star of sports, which provide Chuck with much laughter. He has already been home, where he said, he has learned a lot about the human voice. He has almost authority in this field; he can clearly speak the few seconds.

NEW HOUSES
Five new sororities and two new fraternities are members of the Kappa Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Phi Mu and Alpha Gamma Delta sororities.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is living in the former Kappa Delta house, located on Ridge St. These Phi Eps will conduct the tryouts and leadership. High school experience includes the following players: Saxaphone Mike Smith, housemother at Alpha Chi Omega sorority on Wester St.

AND NEW HOUSEMOTHERS
Along with their new dwellings, many have new housemothers. Mrs. Smith, housemother at Alpha Chi Omega is the mother of Dr. Elden Smith, a professor of speech. Mrs. Ford, staving at the Kappa Delta house, has a daughter and son-in-law living on campus in Falcon Heights.

MASCOT
The Phi Mu's have a mascot, a cute grey and white striped kitten. As yet they have not been able to decide upon a suitable name for the pet. Any suggestions appreciated.

AWS PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS
Betty Curitus and Carol Schroeder, both members of the Alpha Phi sorority, participated in the AWS welcoming party for the new freshmen. Betty wrote an original poem which was used as part of the program.

Bowling Green Opens Grid Season This Saturday

Ohio University To Play Host In Inaugural Game

By Bob Marsh

Bowling Green's football team will get its first test of the fall gridiron season Saturday when it plays the Bobcats of Ohio U, Athens.

Saturday's game will make the third time those two teams have met. Their first meeting occurred in 1945 when they tangled on the Bobcats' home field with the Falcons emerging winners.

There was no game between the two this year, but a return match is set for next year.

The cross-country season for 21 representatives officially opened last Monday afternoon when the thronged field for the track's initial practice before the first meet meet with Ohio University and Western Reserve on Oct. 14 at Athens.

Coach Dave Matthews has 450 members returning to lead this year's team. At a meeting last week, veteran Curtis Nolan, a senior, was chosen to captain the ballot in track.

Seven Lettermen Retires

Back to bolster the squad are Bob Peterson, former 220-pounder, who won four out of five races last year. Rob Richardson, a junior, took an 11th place out of 219 entered in the AAI meet last year. He placed 64th in the national meet.

Freshmen Look Good

Coach Matthews is very optimistic about his new group of freshmen. Among those out for the first time are Frank Kilgore, last year's state mile champ from Dayton; John Fate, a wrestler at Centreville, Md., and Tony Lauck, an athlete at Centreville. The state coast meet this year, and lo, Wayne Simon, from Ft. Wayne, who has won the Indiana coast title for the last two years.

Meeting Scheduled for Frosh Cagers

There will be a meeting of all freshmen, transfers, who were on the basketball squad, on Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 4 in Men's Gym.

What those boys need for freshman football and now to play football upon completion of the gridiron season should also report.

East Krieger, well known football official, was Bowling Green State University's second football coach in 1921. His squad won two games, lost one and tied another.

Once again the streets of B.G. have come to life with your happy smiling faces, and no fooling it sure feels swell to see you back in town.

During the past summer times have been too dark quiet around here but now that you have returned such unwanted solitude will no longer be. The change from a little country town to a busy college city is quickly becoming a reality.

So as you walk down town stop by at the little shop to say hello and we'll hash over the past separated months together.

Touch Football

Heads IM Slate

Men's intramural athletics get underway this week as the touch football season opens. Independent and Fraternity teams that wish to participate must appoint a manager who should report to the team before the first game. Entries should be presented to Dave Matthews in the athletic office.

Independent are asked to form teams to part in all sports throughout the year, but this find impossible they will be permitted to part in as many events as they can.

This football season's play will be held only on Saturdays that will not be held if a game is played.

Four teams will go to the block to be claimed by the Fraternity team that scores the most points in competition throughout the month.

Awards will be given to the winners of the Fraternity league and to the runners up of the independent league.

The first and second place teams of the inter-fraternity league, being defeated by the independent, will go on to the block to be claimed by the Fraternity team that scores the most points in competition throughout the month.

With the Falcons

FANS LOCK FORWARD TO GOOD SEASON

On the sport scene this week all eyes are turned toward the Falcon football team that journeys south Saturday to open a nine game slate against a strong Ohio University eleven.

Coach Bob Whetmer will field a strong club and the Fee field schedule is not as rough as it has been in recent years. However, this is no insurance against a mediocre record. Against Ohio, the Falcons are 4-4. A Pack East State, and Baldwin. Hence the Orange and Brown will face formidable opponents.

Bowling Green must prove that it can compete effectively to better advantage than in the past two seasons. The Falcons have always been quick on defense but too many times on quantitative defense backfired. With some improvement in the running-passing department good things are possible.

We believe the team will come through this year for one of the highest records in the history of the school. Every winning team must have a large group of loyal supporters, however, so let's all back the men and try to bring them on to victory.

STUDENTS HELPED BY RESERVE SEAT PLAN

The plan to reserve all seats in the permanent stands is a good one for the fans. No longer will it be necessary to stand in line at noon in order to insure a good view of the game.

An important thing to remember is that no one should buy a season pass if he does not plan to attend all four home games. There will be good individual game reserved seats available each week for the "occasioned" spectator. By purchasing these he will note that there are no more seats stimulating empty when he does not attend.

Fifteen cents or less certainly is one of the cheapest accesses to the best college football team in the country. The Falcon football team that journeys south Saturday to open a nine game slate against a strong Ohio University eleven.

The junior Falcons will play a five game schedule in the Atlantic Coast Athletic committee has not yet seen the schedule list, but it will be announced as soon as action is taken. Bowl Returns

Among the candidates are Marion Ross, of Akron Garfield, a member of last year's freshman squad. Two players, Ollie Glass, of Ellyso and Fishbuck Point, of Canton Tinkers were alternates in the past North-South All-Star game. The center and right half respectively won honors on the All-Ohio team last season.

There are All-Ohio boys to be Paul Shartzer and Dick Owens of Napoleon, and Bob Smoak of Bowling Green. All are backfield prospects.

Coach Marsh is convinced that period was to the advantage of his football players, but they are the best footballers we have had this season.

Kashy Arnold was the biggest winner of the roster. His score at a reception tomorrow morning against the Women's Big 12 is 14.

Hockey and Soccer Organizes

Everyone interested in playing soccer should report to the Women's Big 12 this afternoon for a meeting organizing Jackie Dolch, soccer manager, re- ported that practice will begin September 27.

Hockey enthusiasts should rep- ort for their organization meet- ing tomorrow afternoon. A Memo keyy is hockey this season.

Everyone is urged to attend the first meeting so that she may be placed on teams. Class tourna- ments and sports days are being planned for both activities.
