Monitor Newsletter April 13, 1987

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Datebook

Monday, April 6

Lecture Series, "The Case of the Stolen Figures," 7 p.m., 118 North Union Hall.

Tuesday, April 7

Mount St. Mary's College, 5:30-8:30 p.m., 114 Business Administration.

Wednesday, April 8

Women's Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

Job postings

The following positions are to be posted for classified jobs this week.

Faculty/Staff Positions

The following positions are available:

1. Assistant Professor of Educational Studies, 9-month, full-time, beginning August 15, 2003. Contact Dr. T. Clifton, Chair of Educational Studies, 412-2472.

2. Director of the Office of Admissions, beginning immediately. Contact Dr. K. Hensley, Director of Admissions, 412-2472.

3. Program Assistant, BGSU Summer Study Abroad Program. Contact Dr. F. Fish, Coordinator of Study Abroad, 412-2472.

4. Coordinator, UAcademics. Contact Dr. J. Waid, Coordinator, UAcademics, 412-2472.

5. Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs: Assistant Director (2 positions). Contact Dr. L. Ireland, Dean of the College, 412-2472.

6. Office of the Vice President for Research: Director, academic affairs. Contact Dr. K. Lehman, Director, Academic Affairs, 412-2472.

In Brief...

Nominations due for CESC election

The deadline for nominations for the Board of Directors for Classified Staff Council has been extended to noon Monday, April 7. Nominations are due for the CESC (K, 100 Main Science Bldg., 4th floor) election, concerning 10 positions for which members will run for three-year seats and three are being appointed. For the purposes of affairs, the Board of Directors should include the candidate’s name, area and years of service at the University. They can return their nominations by calling 774-1519.

Jazz Week Event, faculty jazz quartet, 8 p.m., Room 101, 114 Business Administration.

Women’s Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

Concert, percussion ensemble, 8 p.m., Alumni Room, Moore Musical Arts Center.

FREE Library Briefing planned, 7:30 p.m., Kottke Hall.

Women’s Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

Mon, May 10

Board of Trustees Meeting, 10 a.m., 114 Business Administration.

Office of Classified Staff, 8 a.m., 1 p.m., Room 101, 114 Business Administration.

FREE Event: "Green Grass of Home," 8 p.m., Room 101, 114 Business Administration.

FREE Library Briefing planned, 7:30 p.m., Kottke Hall.

Women’s Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

FREE Concert, percussion ensemble, 8 p.m., Alumni Room, Moore Musical Arts Center.

FREE Library Briefing planned, 7:30 p.m., Kottke Hall.

Wednesday, April 8

Women’s Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

No job postings

The following positions are to be posted for classified jobs this week.

Faculty/Staff Positions

The following positions are available:

1. Assistant Professor of Educational Studies, 9-month, full-time, beginning August 15, 2003. Contact Dr. T. Clifton, Chair of Educational Studies, 412-2472.

2. Director of the Office of Admissions, beginning immediately. Contact Dr. K. Hensley, Director of Admissions, 412-2472.

3. Program Assistant, BGSU Summer Study Abroad Program. Contact Dr. F. Fish, Coordinator of Study Abroad, 412-2472.

4. Coordinator, UAcademics. Contact Dr. J. Waid, Coordinator, UAcademics, 412-2472.

5. Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs: Assistant Director (2 positions). Contact Dr. L. Ireland, Dean of the College, 412-2472.

6. Office of the Vice President for Research: Director, academic affairs. Contact Dr. K. Lehman, Director, Academic Affairs, 412-2472.

Comprehensive Briefing planned, 7:30 p.m., Kottke Hall.

Women’s Studies Colloquium, "Strategies for Reducing Sexual Coercion," 12:30 p.m., Cram Room.

FREE Concert, percussion ensemble, 8 p.m., Alumni Room, Moore Musical Arts Center.

FREE Library Briefing planned, 7:30 p.m., Kottke Hall.
Rudolph, Libbee families build BGSU tradition

April 15 concert honors ‘March King’

School of Fine and Communication Arts

Retirement is a sensitive subject. It can be a source of stress for many people, especially when they are unsure about what comes next. However, it also presents an opportunity for reflection and reassessment of one's life goals and aspirations. The following are some tips for handling retirement:

1. Start Planning Early: Planning for retirement should begin well before it is time to retire. This involves setting goals, identifying sources of income, and creating a budget that accounts for both current expenses and retirement expenses.

2. Consider Your Health: Your health is a critical factor to consider when planning for retirement. It is important to maintain a healthy lifestyle and to seek medical care when needed in order to ensure a long and healthy life.

3. Stay Engaged: Retirement does not necessarily mean the end of one's career. There are many opportunities for people to stay engaged in their fields, whether through part-time work, volunteering, or continuing education.

4. Maintain Social Connections: Retirement can be a time of great change, and it is important to maintain social connections with family, friends, and colleagues.

5. Seek Professional Advice: A financial advisor can be a valuable resource when planning for retirement. They can help you create a retirement plan that meets your needs and goals.

Note: This list is not exhaustive and may not cover all aspects of planning for retirement.

April 15 concert honors ‘March King’

Tickets are still available for the Symphonic Band tribute to John Philip Sousa. The concert, under the direction of Mark S. Kelly, will be held Friday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Stroh Center. The program features the March King’s “The Liberty and Justice for All” and “The Liberty Bell,” as well as “The Stars and Stripes Forever” by Charles Ives.

Sousa was born on May 4, 1854, in Washington, D.C. He began playing the trumpet in his youth and went on to become one of the most famous composers of marches and military music. He wrote over 500 compositions, including popular pieces such as “The Stars and Stripes Forever” and “Semper Fidelis.” Sousa was a member of the U.S. Army Band and later founded his own band, the Sousa Band, which was known for its high-quality performances and popular marches.

Following the concert, the Symphonic Band will perform Sousa’s “The Liberty and Justice for All.” The band will also perform Sousa’s “The Liberty Bell,” which features a solo for trumpet and is considered one of his most famous works.

Minority enrollment addressed

The executive director of a program to improve the quality of education for minority youth in Ohio will tell what higher education can do to attract black students to the state.

Dr. Ira Robinson, who heads both the Michigan Program in Higher Education for Black Students and the University of Michigan’s program, will talk about the program’s goals and how it works. He will also address the issue of college-preparation programs that are designed to help black students and other minority groups.

Dr. Robinson is a professor of education at the University of Michigan and has been involved in education reform efforts for many years. He is also a member of the National Board of Didactic Certification, which oversees the certification process for educators.

Tax seminar scheduled

The Professional Development Committee of the College of Business will be sponsoring a tax seminar on the New Tax Reform Act from noon to 1 p.m. in the Mays Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, April 26. The seminar will cover the basics of the new act and how it affects individuals and businesses.

Attorneys from the law firm of Tressler, Clifton, Herrmann & Beck will be attending. The seminar will be held in the Mays Hall Auditorium.

The New Tax Reform Act was signed into law by President George W. Bush on November 28, 2017. The act made significant changes to the tax code, including reducing tax rates, broadening the base of taxes, and simplifying the tax system.

Taxpayers should keep careful records of all income and expenses, including receipts for charitable contributions, medical expenses, and mortgage interest. They should also keep track of any taxes they paid throughout the year, including estimated tax payments. This information will be needed when they file their tax returns.

Ethics

Dr. Cheryl Treadaway, associate professor of psychology in the College of Arts and Sciences, will speak on the topic of ethics in psychology.

Treadaway will discuss the importance of ethical behavior in psychology and the ethical guidelines that psychologists must follow. She will also discuss the consequences of unethical behavior and the steps that psychologists can take to prevent it.

Treadaway is a licensed psychologist and a member of the American Psychological Association. She has published numerous articles on ethical issues in psychology and has taught ethics courses at the university level.

Reimbursement

Participants will receive a certificate of attendance, which can be used for continuing education credits. They will also be given a copy of the seminar materials.

The seminar will be held in the Mays Hall Auditorium.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Professional Development Committee at 362-7300.

Ministry enrichment addressed

The executive director of a program to improve the quality of education for minority youth in Ohio will tell what higher education can do to attract black students to the state.

Dr. Ira Robinson, who heads both the Michigan Program in Higher Education for Black Students and the University of Michigan’s program, will talk about the program’s goals and how it works. He will also address the issue of college-preparation programs that are designed to help black students and other minority groups.

Dr. Robinson is a professor of education at the University of Michigan and has been involved in education reform efforts for many years. He is also a member of the National Board of Didactic Certification, which oversees the certification process for educators.

Tax seminar scheduled

The Professional Development Committee of the College of Business will be sponsoring a tax seminar on the New Tax Reform Act from noon to 1 p.m. in the Mays Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, April 26. The seminar will cover the basics of the new act and how it affects individuals and businesses.

Attorneys from the law firm of Tressler, Clifton, Herrmann & Beck will be attending. The seminar will be held in the Mays Hall Auditorium.

The New Tax Reform Act was signed into law by President George W. Bush on November 28, 2017. The act made significant changes to the tax code, including reducing tax rates, broadening the base of taxes, and simplifying the tax system.

Taxpayers should keep careful records of all income and expenses, including receipts for charitable contributions, medical expenses, and mortgage interest. They should also keep track of any taxes they paid throughout the year, including estimated tax payments. This information will be needed when they file their tax returns.

Ethics

Dr. Cheryl Treadaway, associate professor of psychology in the College of Arts and Sciences, will speak on the topic of ethics in psychology.

Treadaway will discuss the importance of ethical behavior in psychology and the ethical guidelines that psychologists must follow. She will also discuss the consequences of unethical behavior and the steps that psychologists can take to prevent it.

Treadaway is a licensed psychologist and a member of the American Psychological Association. She has published numerous articles on ethical issues in psychology and has taught ethics courses at the university level.

Reimbursement

Participants will receive a certificate of attendance, which can be used for continuing education credits. They will also be given a copy of the seminar materials.

The seminar will be held in the Mays Hall Auditorium.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Professional Development Committee at 362-7300.
Rudolph, Libbe families building BGSU tradition

April 15 concert honors 'March King'

Tickets are still available for the Symphonic Band tribute to John Philip Sousa, which will be held at 8 p.m. April 15 in the K counselor of Mark S. Kelly, will be guest speaker as part of the Symphonic Band's spring concert at 8 p.m. that day in the Kulas Indian Center.

Enrique G. Sainz, who has an unremarkable sympathy to Sousa and the music of the age, was first scheduled for the second half of the program. When Sainz was unable to attend, the Symphonic Band will wear uniforms to honor the great bandmaster's era.

Tobacco television personality Gordon Wood will narrate the Sousa Marches that will be performed and recorded. The program is under the direction of Dr. Steve Locke, the University's director of Bands.

The concert is a special tribute to Sousa, there is a movement to make Sousa's birthday, March 20, 'Sousa Stripes Forever' the official march of the United States as it has been recognized in the Medical College of Virginia.

Advance tickets for the concert can be reserved at the Medical College of Virginia Arts box office, which is open from noon to 5:30 p.m. The box office is located at 722-8717. Remaining tickets will be sold at the door at the time of the concert. Prices are $10, $8 and $5 for students.

Minority enrollment addressed

The executive director of a program to improve the quality of education for minority youth in Florida will tell what higher education can do to attract black students to Florida State University. Dr. David T. Strickland, who holds both the McKnight Foundation of High School Program for Research and Development, discussed how the programs have addressed the decreasing enrollment of minorities in areas such as Boston and New York.

In the last three years, Robinson has also been involved with several research projects, including "The Impact of School" and "The Impact of School on Students' Academic Performance," which was conducted in collaboration with the Florida Division of Educational Research.

The 7:30 p.m. lecture, which is sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs and Minority Programs, will be in State Hall, 211 West Hall. It is free and open to the public.

Othello... from page 1

extra. Since then, he has appeared in productions of "Othello" at the Shakespeare Festival Toronto, Boston Playhouse, and the National Theatre of Canada.

"I've had a lot of experience with Shakespeare," Robin says. "I've been in the role of Iago, Desdemona, and Othello." He has appeared in several Shakespeare plays, including "Romeo and Juliet," "Macbeth," and "Hamlet.

When performing on stage, Robin says that he has the opportunity to go into the character's mind and understand his motivations. "Sometimes, it's a challenge to get into the character's mind," he says. "But it's a lot of fun, and it's a great opportunity to bring something new to the stage.

Burkett to speak at conference

The University has been named "Employer of the Month" for its participation in the "Graduate Student Program for Professional Development." Coordinated by the Employment Committee, Personnel Services of the Office of the President, and the Miller Center, the program is a 12-month program designed to help students gain practical work experience in the field.

"The program provides students with the opportunity to work in a variety of fields, including education, law, medicine, and business," said Robt. "It's a great opportunity for students to learn about the different careers available in these fields.

European study... from page 1

The Department of European Studies at Bowling Green State University is hosting a conference on "European Studies: The Future of Europe." The conference will feature lectures by European scholars, including Dr. Dieter Hoffman, who will discuss the future of Europe in the context of the European Union.

The conference will take place on April 20 and 21 in the Student Union. For more information, please contact the European Studies Department at 725-2435.
Obituary

Of the equipment is the responsibility Friday between 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Firelands

of Charles

from the

Lt.

hospital.

Administration in Toledo.

Classified

1958, serving in the position until his

Episcopal Church, and spent roll, a Pexto bar director. Also, residence

Sun City,

in

Army,

He was in the past years have included examinations to bathing

she was a 1925 graduate of

Union's

first director,

in the Forum of the Student Services

volunteer

After

Dr. Israel Tribble spoke on campus last week on how to increase the number of blacks attending universities and graduate schools.

The following positions are available:

Co-op offers opportunities for minorities

A steadily decline in the number of minorities entering college in the United States is a serious business and education issue. The College Minority Student Program was created to develop a special cooperation education program for black and Hispanic students.

The following administrative staff positions are available:

Office of the Vice President for Planning and Budgeting: Vice president for planning and budgeting. Contact Robert Cross (2-7506).

The following administrative staff positions are available:

The following administrative staff positions are available: