Monitor Newsletter April 20, 1987

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/869
In Brief...

Fireland sells surplus

Fire/and sells surplus of the purchaser. Price quotations is the responsibility of the equipment is the responsibility of the purchaser. Firelands Rockwell scroll of Charles years with the Boswell Posse for five years and a Red NEW Secretary 1

Deadline: April 27.

The following faculty positions are available:

Continued on page 3

Co-op offers opportunities for minorities

A steady decline in the number of minorities entering college is a concern for educators, business officials and government leaders. To help reverse this trend, a cooperative education program for black and Hispanic students has been developed by the Cooperative Education Program for black and Hispanic students has been developed by the Cooperative Education Program for black and Hispanic students. This program allows minorities to gain practical work experience while earning college credits. Participating students receive on-the-job training and academic credit for their work. The program is open to minority students who are enrolled in accredited colleges and universities. For more information, contact the Cooperative Education Program at the address provided.

Continued on page 3
31 faculty members receive tenure and/or promotions

Promotions and tenure were approved for 31 faculty members. This included 24 new appointments, 4 promotions, 1 tenure and 2 appointments with tenure.

The faculty members were approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, professor, and chairman.

Seven faculty members were recommended for promotion to the rank of associate professor: Dr. Bruce Edwards, Wall; Dr. Virginia Pratt, biological sciences; Dr. John Stoddard, music; Dr. Robert Grossman, psychology; Dr. Robert Kantrowitz, English; Dr. William Wolfe, communication arts; and Dr. Dennis O'Donnell, English.

Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor was granted to Dr. Bruce Edwards, Wall; Dr. Virginia Pratt, biological sciences; Dr. John Stoddard, music; Dr. Robert Grossman, psychology; Dr. Robert Kantrowitz, English; Dr. William Wolfe, communication arts; and Dr. Dennis O'Donnell, English.

31 faculty members receive tenure and/or promotions

Promotions and tenure were approved for 31 faculty members. This included 24 new appointments, 4 promotions, 1 tenure and 2 appointments with tenure.

The faculty members were approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, professor, and chairman.

Seven faculty members were recommended for promotion to the rank of associate professor: Dr. Bruce Edwards, Wall; Dr. Virginia Pratt, biological sciences; Dr. John Stoddard, music; Dr. Robert Grossman, psychology; Dr. Robert Kantrowitz, English; Dr. William Wolfe, communication arts; and Dr. Dennis O'Donnell, English.

Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor was granted to Dr. Bruce Edwards, Wall; Dr. Virginia Pratt, biological sciences; Dr. John Stoddard, music; Dr. Robert Grossman, psychology; Dr. Robert Kantrowitz, English; Dr. William Wolfe, communication arts; and Dr. Dennis O'Donnell, English.

Candidates prepare for CSC elections set May 7

The election to fill 10 positions (seven three-year seats and three one-year seats) on the College of Education and Social Sciences Council will be held May 7. The College Council is responsible for the following:

- Budgeting for the College of Education and Social Sciences
- Compensation for the College of Education and Social Sciences
- Approval of tenure and promotion to full professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor

The College Council of Education and Social Sciences, those approved for tenure and promotion to full professor, those approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor, and those approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor will be announced at the annual meeting of the faculty.

Candidates prepare for CSC elections set May 7

The election to fill 10 positions (seven three-year seats and three one-year seats) on the College of Education and Social Sciences Council will be held May 7. The College Council is responsible for the following:

- Budgeting for the College of Education and Social Sciences
- Compensation for the College of Education and Social Sciences
- Approval of tenure and promotion to full professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor
- Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor

The College Council of Education and Social Sciences, those approved for tenure and promotion to full professor, those approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor, and those approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor will be announced at the annual meeting of the faculty.

United Way works fundraising efforts

Two faculty members have won first place awards in the third Annual United Way of Bowling Green’s Office of Continuing Education (OCE) giving campaign. The awards were given to the faculty members who raised the most money for the United Way.

Two faculty members have won first place awards in the third Annual United Way of Bowling Green’s Office of Continuing Education (OCE) giving campaign. The awards were given to the faculty members who raised the most money for the United Way.

Ugly clarifies Honesty Policy

Chairman of the Continuing Education Board and Director of the Office of Continuing Education at the University of Kentucky, Dr. Ted Edwards, has released a document clarifying the Honesty Policy of the University.

Chairman of the Continuing Education Board and Director of the Office of Continuing Education at the University of Kentucky, Dr. Ted Edwards, has released a document clarifying the Honesty Policy of the University.

“Trifling” from page 9

Increased morality, attendance, and work habits are important factors in the Honesty Policy of the University of Kentucky. These factors are important to the successful operation of the University.

Increased morality, attendance, and work habits are important factors in the Honesty Policy of the University of Kentucky. These factors are important to the successful operation of the University.

Trifling from page 9

Increased morality, attendance, and work habits are important factors in the Honesty Policy of the University of Kentucky. These factors are important to the successful operation of the University.

Trifling from page 9

Increased morality, attendance, and work habits are important factors in the Honesty Policy of the University of Kentucky. These factors are important to the successful operation of the University.
31 faculty members receive tenure and/or promotions

Promotions and tenure were approved for 11 faculty members, and 20 received tenure. Trustee Virginia Platt aban- doned a proposal that would have required 20 percent of the College's full-time faculty to be women. The emphasis of tenure criteria is placed on publication, and promotion criteria on excellence in teaching, with emphasis on new teaching methods.

In the College of Health and Human Services, 13 faculty strung a banner in the human anatomy laboratory to protest a planned budget cut that will affect all college programs. "We're concerned about the number of faculty who will be laid off," said Dr. Robert Loef, Chair of the faculty committee. "We're trying to build an environment where students can come and learn." Faculty in the College of Arts, Sciences, and Mathematics, approved for tenure and promotion to the rank of assistant professor were Dr. Margaret Smith, sociology and Dr. Dennis Dunham, art history.

Adrian Tii, art, received a promotion to associate professor. In the College of Business Administration, tenure was granted to Dr. Mark Bove, Dr. Susan Penkoski and Dr. Martha Rogers, all of whom have been tenured for several years. Approval for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor were Dr. Kenneth Cooker, marketing and promotion, and Dr. James Longno, economics.

In the College of Education and Allied Professions, Dr. Julie Lehtinen, HPER, was approved for tenure.

Dorothy Beltin, home economics, and Dr. Walter Taylor, special education, received tenure and promotion to associate professor. They were approved for tenure and promotion to professor, respectively.

Candidates prepare for CEC elections set May 7

The election to fill 10 positions (seven three-year seats and three one-year seats) on the Career Education Council will be held May 7. A majority of candidates will be nominated by the College of Arts, Sciences, and Mathematics; the College of Business Administration; the College of Health and Human Services; the College of Education and Allied Professions. The Career Education Council functions as an advisory council to the Provost on matters involving the planning and development of programs and services for career Education. The Council will meet at least twice a year.

The 10 nominees for the three-year seats are:

- Kathy Ensinger, Luis Ho, Jack Rhodes, Bruce Rutter, Kenneth Stowe, and Richard Lynn, all of whom have been nominated by the College of Arts, Sciences, and Mathematics.
- Charles Stein, Michael Myhara, and Charles L. Miller, all of whom have been nominated by the College of Business Administration.
- Dr. Faith Jackson, communication, and Dr. Robert O'Connell, education, both of whom have been nominated by the College of Education and Allied Professions.

The 7 nominees for the one-year seats are:

- Dr. Robert Loef, sociology, and Dr. Dennis Dunham, art history, both of whom have been nominated by the College of Arts, Sciences, and Mathematics.
- Dr. Margaret Smith, sociology, and Dr. Thomas M. H. Smith, education, both of whom have been nominated by the College of Business Administration.
- Dr. Kenneth Cooker, marketing and promotion, and Dr. Edward Morgan, gerontology, both of whom have been nominated by the College of Education and Allied Professions.

Tenure, promotion for all ages

Fifty-six institutions submitted candidates for the 1986-87 University-wide Contests. The awards were announced at the University-wide Contest Awards Banquet. The contest was designed to support and encourage all ages in the University-wide Contests. The contest included three age divisions: pre-adolescents, adolescents, and adults. The awards were as follows:

- In the pre-adolescent division, the winners were:
  - First place: Jennifer Brown, 11, for her paper on "The Structure of a Star." The paper was submitted to the Astronomy Contest. Jennifer is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.
  - Second place: David Johnson, 12, for his paper on "The History of the Moon." The paper was submitted to the History Contest. David is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.

- In the adolescent division, the winners were:
  - First place: John Smith, 14, for his paper on "The Power of the Computer." The paper was submitted to the Computer Science Contest. John is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.
  - Second place: Mary Brown, 15, for her paper on "The Role of the Computer in Education." The paper was submitted to the Education Contest. Mary is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.

- In the adult division, the winners were:
  - First place: Robert Brown, 25, for his paper on "The Potential of the Computer in Business." The paper was submitted to the Business Contest. Robert is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.
  - Second place: Sarah Johnson, 30, for her paper on "The Use of Computers in the Classroom." The paper was submitted to the Classroom Contest. Sarah is a student at the University-wide Contest Awards banquet.

The winners will be featured in a special issue of the University-wide Contest Awards Magazine, which will be released in the spring of 1987.
Ice Horizon glides into production

The 1983 hit horizons, the Bowling Green Skating Club's annual show featuring both and realistic tones, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 28-29 at the Ives Arena. There will also be a 1:30 p.m. Saturday matinee performance.

The show consists of 50 local dancers, the dance team of Kelly Lowery and Chip Roach, and national level competitor Daniel Goura.

Undergraduate student Design.

Exhibits, in the Arts Center, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the public to view and take part in the program.

The new Apple Macintosh is expected to be on display and demonstrated. Representatives from Apple will be on hand to answer questions.

Frazier Reams

fellowships awarded

Five University, including a major in biological sciences, the Department of Public Affairs Fellowship, and the George Frazier fellowship, a major in community and public health, have been awarded.

The fellowship will be made available to students majoring in education and social sciences.

The new director of the fellowship program is Dr. David Crooks.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.

David Crooks

promoted to director of Union

University's director of Union, has been promoted to director of Union. Crooks has been with the University for 15 years, serving as the director of Union since 1983.