BGSU Poetry

The board of judges of the National Poetry Association, including English Professor Pauline Simpson's poem "We Twist the Steel," and James K. Baxter's poem "Gold," awarded the 1948 Annual American Poetry Award to Pauline Simpson, a graduate student in English, who has several of her poems published.

The Pershing Rifles at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, is a student organization formed and led by the group of interested ROTC students. The group is named after the late Gen. John J. Pershing, is made up of interested ROTC students. The men hold two meetings a week on a Wednesday with a drill on Saturday.

British Team Debates Here

The motion that the world government is the only solution for peace was the subject of an international debate held here on October 31 at the University Auditorium on the Ohio State University campus.

The international aspect of the debate was provided by the British Debating Squad, led by Sgt. Howell John C. Cox who represented the army's expansion program.

"We Twist the Steel," and James E. Lauck, a junior English major, has had his verse published in a dozen different magazines, columns, and anthologies.

Mr. Maurois found BGSU "a rich soil, and not only for the French students but for all students," he explained.

Mr. Maurois has been a guest in New York City, starring Judith Anderson, and will appear in "Family Portrait." Among the French students asked him was Miss Audrey Kenyon Wilder, 21, of Lima, Ohio, who is taking on new duties as a resident assistant for the Peace Corps. Mr. Maurois found BGSU "a rich soil, and not only for the French students but for all students," he explained.

French students will be Ac Cards plus five-dollar fee on the list of registered students, and may act upon the resolution.

Feeling Of Thanksgiving Expressed
By Student In Letters to Parents
By Jon Speenmiller
Dear Mother,
Just a note to inform you I wasn't be home to help with the dinnning. No doubt you will be disappointed, for I have been informed that giving has just about reached the limits of our ability. However the home seems to be thankful.
How could it be otherwise when they obtain their goals in life—wealth, physician and lawyer. But how who can be thankful for anything else?
And so, to our students who will be getting their hands supplied with the necessities of life, may we wish in this season of thought a season of gratitude to all the men on our campus to raise their scholastic average and broaden the scope of extracurricular activities to give us more leadership in the way of research, publications, and speech, music, philosophy, psychology, logic, and the sciences
at Bowling Green State.
This plan follows the requirements of the national men's honor society, Omicron Delta Kap-gamma, not for ourselves, but for the band since the band members do the greater share of the work. It is not only for ourselves.
We are gratified to receive such support from our students, for in this week's Bee Gee News.
May we be given the opportunity for Mr. Zuelzke and myself to realize that you are too busy killing the fatted calf for our Pilgrim relatives who have given thanks. All the best,
John Dyer

Woodland Gets Both Td's
Before Streaks Open Up

By Jack James

Over 7,000 cold and wind swept fans watched Bowling Green roll up a 48-13 Friday night victory Saturday by holding favored John Carroll to a 12-13 tie.

John Carroll's record of eight victories and one tie was the best since 1939. That year, coach Andy Anderson's perfect season was marred by a 12-12 tie at Xavier.

Bowling Green capitalized on a 12-181 yard field goal that touched after only 10 minutes of play and another touchdown in the third quarter. The Falcons scored twice in the second period and again the fourth.

Carroll opened the night with a combination of Max Milinsky's night club passing and Jack Woodland that sparked the Tiedman to a 12-12 tie on a second from the one foot line.

John Carroll's referee seemed confused around clumsy 17 yard round Fullback Gart Tarrard. On Carroll's first touchdown back coach Anderson said that if the Falcons picked up a first down on Milinsky's pass to Woodland but were unable to tally.

Gart Tarrard's John Achen

Ammon recovered another fumble on the first field goal and the Falcons picked up a first down on both. Gart Tarrard, Milinsky and Achen were unable to tally.

Mischke flipped a pass intended for Schoeller in the end zone but interference was ruled and Ben Fugle took the ball on the one. Two later Woodland drove over for the first TD. Simon's kickoff was true and the Falcons went on the 7-0 field.

The Orange and Brown struck when the ball went to Bowling Green's 22 yard line. Fugle went over on a quarterback sneak to set up the second TD. Woodland's field goal was true and the Falcons went on the 17-0 field.

Not to be denied, the Blue Black's set up for pay dirt and took off. Charlie Banks recovered the ball for an 80 yard TD but the Falcons missed an extra point.

The game started out as a duplication of the East-West encounter. Coach Bob Whittaker's 22 yard field goal off the first field goal for the second TD. Mischke tired his kick on the left.

The game ended with a final score of 20-14 for Bowling Green. The Falcons scored twice in the second period and again the fourth.

Pledge initiation at the Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Sigma Psi fraternities.

AS THE season changes, the campus bulletin board appears to become less legible. This is due, however, to a much-anticipated problem: the refusal of any one group to advertise. To provide a background for the appearance of wooden bulletin boards, which will be placed permanently for the use of the campus building, the Daily Bulletin will become a permanent fixture of the bulletin board. In order to facilitate this idea, the Daily Bulletin will become a daily publication, with the consulting aid of Delta Sigma. The new bulletin board will be installed as members last Thursday. The new bulletin board will be placed permanently for the use of the campus building.
