Student Senate Appoints Ten New Committees

Suggestions Presented To President Prout

Women Allowed To Use Taxis

On Rainy Days

A modification in the car regulations was announced Saturday by Mrs. Frank Prout. Under this new ruling, women may ride in cars to their own transportation facilities. This exact text of the new ruling is as follows:

A woman student is authorized to use her own car as taxi service for a necessary reason, such as serious weather conditions. The Woman's Self-Government Committee will consider each application for this new ruling case by case.

An investigation committee was also formed to study the car regulations, and transportation facilities of the university and town and to recommend appropriate action; this committee is composed of a law professor, Dr. Prout, student senator and two students.

Dr. Prout also appointed eight new committees Monday night to assist in bringing student problems to the attention of the Dean of Women, Dean of Men, and the proper faculty advisers.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As an appealsman we are aware of the difficulties encountered in respect to our study in the residence halls. As a result of the reports of proximity between students, dormitories on Kent State's campus are located at least a few feet apart from each other, providing a necessary separation. This separation is designed to help prevent any diseases or illnesses that might be transferred from one person to another. However, it has also led to an increase in the number of students who report feeling isolated or disconnected from their peers.

We suggest that the administration consider implementing additional measures to promote social interaction and foster a sense of community among students. This could include organizing more events and activities that encourage cross-dorm interactions, such as sports games, dances, and community service projects. Additionally, the administration should consider creating more common areas or public spaces where students can gather and socialize in a relaxed environment.

In conclusion, we urge the administration to explore ways to balance the need for social distancing with the desire for social interaction and community engagement. By doing so, Kent State can continue to provide a safe and supportive environment for its students.

Sincerely,

-- A Concerned Student

Falcons Head Southward

by ED JENNINGS

Bowling Green's Falcons will take to the road for the first time this season when they tangle with the Golden Eagles of Marquette University at Charlotte, Va., Saturday.

This will be the second meet- ing between Bowling Green holding the nol decision as was the case when Bowling Green was defeated on the home ground by the Eagles last year by a 48 to 6 margin.

Coach "Edie" Rick will have a bulk of experienced talent back from last year's squad as 23 of his team have returned to receive pay where they left off last year. The Eagles have doubtless depended upon the services of All-West Vir- ginia Conference Harlan Schmucker for the big part of their offensive punch.

With Scrogg will be teammate Burt Mattson who will join the back field running and passing assign- ments.

Fans anxious Hubbard and Binnie will give Bob Gen- caso definite outside corner for- cing.

Fox no possible injury Coach Whitaker's charges will be in top condition for the tilt. The Falcon's first rate backfield trio of Bell, Schaffor, and Tesnow, snowed in the past, will be available to this year's squad.

Whittakermen Nosed Out By Rockets
TU Squelches Last Minute Threat To Preserve Lead

by BOB MARSH

Bowling Green's string of undefeated football games came to an abrupt end last Saturday night as the Toledo Rockets nose out the Falcons 20-19 in a game that was jammed full of more thrills than a three ring circus.

The loss was the first of the 11,000 fans gasping for their breath throughout the entire 60 minutes, was a grueling battle back and forth, a test of the outstanding fighting football of both teams.

A photo finish, usually found only in horse races, was practically the way the game ended, as Bob Greo took possession of the football on the Toledo 19 with the clock showing just two minutes left. A long pass from Frank to Schabel gave the Falcons a first down on the Toledo 13.

The 22 yard field goal put Toledo ahead 19-16 with just 25 seconds left, and the Falcons were within two points at first and thought they had won.

However, the play which completely spoiled the entire Rocket team, proved useless as the ball thrown from Neil Pohman boomed out of the hands of end Johnson Woodland smashed through the Rocket interference and brought down the ball carrier.

Twice he was carried from the field with injuries but came back each time and still literally "pound" on his feet continued to play "blind" football and one of the best games of his career.

Postmaster Urges Correct Addresses

Harry Bass, Bowling Green postmaster, requests that all students, particularly those living off campus, inform correspondents of their exact addresses. A stack of letters to be sent to return addresses is growing daily, simply because the addresses do not specify East or West, or other such possible situations.

The only way to be sure of getting an eagerly awaited letter or check is to inform family and friends of a correct address.
