Debaters Set For

High New Season

University debating teams are formulating plans for a banner year. The planning of strategy began the first day Bowling Green opened its doors.

Although this is a big year as far as events are concerned, it is hardly to be expected that the squad will be able to measure up to the excellent record they set last season.

In the actual competition of the coming season will be the National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament which will be held in Chicago in late November or early December.

Last year the squad captured the Ohio's Men's championship of the Pi Kappa Delta Province, and the Ohio New Year's. Members of the team are finishing their junior and senior years.

Bowling Green was one of five teams invited to participate in Ohio's Men's championship at the West Point National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament last year. They were ranked as one of the top ten best teams in the country.

The team's business section is arranged in customary order. There is an additional column section for the past year. A discussion about experienced women debaters is included.

The team is led by Pat Swinehart, president of the local Pi Kappa Delta chapter. She attended the West Point conference.

Other veteran debaters include Pat Luhman, Vondra Szakacs, Marilyn McClintock, Adelle Khilken, Doris McCartney, Lois Wright, Jean Conner, and the Cleveland Little Symphony.

Tryouts for the orchestra will be announced later.

The musical production will be directed and designed by Gordon Beck, will be presented for three weeks starting around Thanksgiving. Work on it around Thanksgiving. Work on it.

Miss Ludwig's script won the prize for best new play, set at the West Point conference. The Nest loses over 1 cent on a cup of coffee which is provided charge a nominal fee for small cream and sugar which is provided.

New associate professors are: Elmer R. Conley, director of business, education.

Eveline Hedstrom, professor of Art.

kie; Deese, Jay C., psychology; Eastern School of Psychology.

The following are the changes in the Senate constitution which will be made to affect an and a number.

(1) The president would not necessarily have to be a senior. The elections for the president of the University of Buffalo.

(2) A canvassing vote of the present 20 requirements.

Korean War Postpones Building

The Korean outbreak has sharply curtailed the proposed building plans for the University, according to a release from Pres. Frank J. Prout. Immediately after the crisis began in the Far East, President Prout suspended all building loading of which the University was to have received approximately 33,000 square feet.

Plans called for an addition to dormitories and a Kohl Hall addition to be built from the sources of appropriation.

The intention of the administration is to get rid of the frame-type buildings as quickly as possible.

Other construction already un under way is going on at scholars.

Two of the three buildings in the old plant have been tested. Plans call for the abandonment of the old plant behind the Ad. Bids, on Oct. 20.

The smokestack will be taken down after the new plant has been proven satisfactory.

The Marion Bldg, located between Williams and Central Halls is expected to be completed and ready Thanksgiving. Work on it has been held up pending the receipt of a quote of marble at the plant.

War Breeds Confusion, Changes

Hazing Activities Initiate Frosh To Bog Campus Life

By ANGIE PALERMO

Two bewildered freshmen men, properly equipped with beanie, appeared at a group meeting with the upperclassmen, tried to smile and were caught.

"Hey, John, don't take a come here and sing the Alma Mater."

And to the tune of "Finlandia" 80's Alma Mater afloat through the morning haze.

Meanwhile another hazing attempt, on one end of the School Hall, to put the Ad Edit, to another with the faculty, and some new. Finally, be moisturized enough courage to say, "Hi, John."

The last stand first on foot and then on the wall and started out that he would appreciate it if the junior would give better location of the nearest necessary room. The "understanding" junior gave him detailed directions to the PA Bldg. The freshman dashed off in one big hurry.

In the further down the street from the campus four freshmen costs amounted along eagerly discussing what they would buy to make their rooms more comfortable. Two senior women saw them and they were stopped and asked to sing "Ally-Biggy-Booze."

Recently two freshmen workers were sent to the county jail in the outbreak of the war. The jail was very courteous and the workers may play since that they are "doubtful" at present since these are "doubtful" at present since.

All those incidents are part of the "hazing" scene in the freshman's life, the spirit of college and the thrill渔民d the excitement. Most freshmen saw a few jokes, but the upperclassmen should be observed that some incidents that will cause any uncomfortable or embarrassing situations.

To have a successful period of social cooperation between the upperclassmen and the freshmen should be patient into the thing with the right attitude.

Wearing of beanie is a sign of showing school spirit. Freshmen are expected to wear beanie to show that they belong with the school. By complying with this rule the freshman have a "mixed-up" feeling getting accepted.

"Freshmen who are to be continuous to upperclassmen and show willingness to go along with the few ridicules things they may happen.

All halls are governed your favor.

The hazing period ends with the final examination day. The freshman-run Campus War Breed Confusion, which is quite young and not as experienced as the upperclassmen. The words are, "No freshman can have any other person in the college who is satisfied with the war experience." The freshmen will try to conform to the attitude.

One final thing to remember; hazing can't last forever.

- Cordially yours,
- J. PRCCUT

Experimental Plan Becomes Permanent Training Phase

The "Bowling Green Plan," an experimental system designed to provide future teachers with a semester of full-time participation in activities related to teaching has become permanent.

Last year a few departments changed over to the new system, but others, including the business administration dept., failed to do so because of schedule conflicts.

The "Bowling Green Plan" marks a wide departure from general practices in student teaching, though the idea is not unique. The four-phase plan includes preparatory, supervised teaching, off-campus teaching, and evaluation.

Orientation will occupy the first two weeks. A six week period will be divided into class work and individual conferences, as well as observation of the work of experienced teachers.

For seven or eight weeks the students will instruct in secondary school, thereby gaining practical experience.

The last three weeks will be off-campus, possibly in the student's hometown.

WRSM Starts Year in Swank New Quarters Beneath Main Aud. Stage

Campus radio station WRSM, an affiliate of the International Broadcasting System, has moved into new studios beneath the Main Aud. stage.

The new quarters, completed this summer, compare favorably in design with those of many commercial stations of this area, according to Prof. Sidney Stone, associate professor of speech, who directs the station.

Included in the new layout is a large and comfortable reception room, two studio designed for all types of programs, and two control rooms.

Bowling Green's radio activities began to send weekly drama shows when Professor Stone's students began in earnest several years ago. Since then WRSM was established as a "wired wireless" station serving the campus with a variety of radio entertainment.

Plans have been made for a more extensive program and wider coverage from the new studios this year.

Browns Show Top Form
After Leaving BGSU Camp

Despite the loss of Captain Lou Sabin, Lee Horvath, and Edgar Zone the Cleveland Browns set the new National league afire by breezing through five straight exhibition victories.

The Browns paid Bowling Green a great compliment this year when Coach Paul Brown elected to bring his team here for pre-season training. The team faces one of the toughest schedules a professional club has been called upon to meet.

Ever since Coach Brown decided to bring his first professional team here five years ago Bowling Green has been rated among the top communities for their pre-season drills. The Club arrived here in mid-July to begin a five-week toughening period. They were quartered in the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house and ate their meals in the student cafeteria.

Gym Roof Used
For Ball Field

Kent State won't be as handi-compared to Bowling Green for measuring capacity at basketball games this year. Contractors are building a new $75,000 dollar Physical Education building on the campus.

But the contractors have come across an unusual problem.

The Western Reserve Construction Co. of Warren recently had to hire a watchman to guard the building after hours. It seems the youngsters in the neighborhood of the campus were using the flat roof of the huge building for a baseball diamond.

The gym measures 230 by 380 feet and covers more than one 10,000 persons for basketball games.

Cagers Play Tough
25 Game Schedule

A State University Tournament at Kent State University highlights the 25-game basketball schedule for 1950-51, released by Harold Anderson, BGSU athletic director and head basketball coach.

Reduction of the schedule of 25 games follows the preferred policy of the University Athletic Committee. The Athletic Committee must also pass on any post-season participations in post-season tournaments.

Bowling Green will perform in Madison Square Garden, Philadelphia's Convention Hall, Cleveland Arena, and in Milwaukee, Chicago, and Detroit, and will make two appearances in the Toledo Sports Arena.

The home schedule includes two games in the Men's Gym, plus two encounters in the Tailed Sports Arena. Western Kentucky will meet BG in the Toledo Arena, Feb. 13, while the Pots and Net will be played in the Toledo Arena on Feb. 21, also at the Sports Arena.

The State University Tournament is scheduled for Dec. 22 and 23 in Kent's new million-dollar Physical Education Building. Pairs will be made for the first night's play with winners and losers meeting the following evening.

Ohio State, Miami, Kent, and Bowling Green will fight it out for honors in the tournament, the event to be held in Ohio. Kent's new building will seat about 10,000 basketball fans.

Student athletes are to vote for schools hope that the event will be an annual one.

The CBRA has been booked for the event and on one occasion. The Falcons meet the Crusaders in Cleveland, Dec. 23, then go to Boston Garden for a return tilt, Feb. 12.

The Peace Pipe game will go Dec. 12 in the TU Field House. The Rockets captured the trophy last season.

Three new foes are listed for the 1950-51 slate. Texas Tech, Arkansas State, and College of Education will contest with Bowling Green for intercolle-

Coach Dave Matthews welcomed seven veteran cross-country runners to early practice this week, and immediately starting pointing his charges for the upcoming meet with Allison here Oct. 2.

Frank Kilgore and Lee Pate are the brightest stars of this year's group. Kilgore capped the state 4-mile event last year, and Pate was second in the state 5-mile run.

Backing them up are Nelson Detering, Martin Centers, Larry Hall, Bruce Oliver, and Bob Micklin. All are lettermen from last year.

Attention Frosh!

Eligible students interested in the freshmen football squad who did not attend the meeting yesterday are requested to contact Bruce Ballard immediately in the basement office of the Physical Education Bldg.

But according to Jim Whitaker, assistant coach who moulded Rider recently, Bee Gees must not enter the game with an overconfident attitude.

Use Same Line-Up

Though Rider lost to Geneva, Ill., recently, they gave a good account of themselves and will know-how against a bigger team.

Rider will use the same line-up.

Silvani Ackerman which faced the Falcons last year, now back Ed Stansbury, who since has joined the Pittsburgh Statemans. Top man in Rider's backfield this season will be Jim Over, a neat half-backer, fine passer, and exemplifying of the lillie-wei-T football.

Coach Whitaker has had to find replacements for all Ohio Fullback.

Jack Woodland, End Bob Schentrup, and Lineman Ed Silvani will be taken care of by Willie Bower, and Backs Rod Lash and Pete Schmidt.

Four Soph Start

Four sophomores have been named to the starting offensive line-up by Coach Whitaker. Bob Gwin, sparkling 165-pound half.

Basketball Schedule

BOSTON'S CELTICS of the Basketball Association of America recently were defeated when Charlie Stove (pictured above on the teams courts), Bowing Green's #1 all-American center switched his plans and joined the Bostonians. Originally, Big Charlie's plans called for a contract with Waterloo, Ia., of the NIRA.

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about? I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny—but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days.

One puff of this brand—one sniff of that. A quick inhale—a fast exhale—and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout—for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette.

After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
