Candidates are needed to run for CSC seats

Claire Jonas, head of the CSC, is looking for candidates for the 1989-90 terms. The last elections were held in the spring of 1986. In an effort to increase student involvement in the university, Jonas is urging students to vote for candidates in the upcoming election.

According to Jonas, "the key to winning a seat on the student governing council is to be active in student affairs." She also noted that "more students need to become involved." Students interested in running for the council should contact Jonas at the Student Union, Room 201.
