Disk is discontinued

The State Teachers Retirement System has stopped the RETIRE disk that has been available in the faculty computer workrooms. The new disk was introduced to simplify the process of changing the two percent salary formula and the annual evaluation process for faculty. The system does not plan to develop new software for the required retirement formulas.

Their ideas and education; the end of the meeting. Informational workshops, individual tutoring sessions (math and writing) and mentoring groups has revealed that they study poorly. This suggests that the reason for their performance in mathematics, science, and the humanities may not be the deficit in the learning mode of the students, but rather the deficit of the learning environment in which they study. This is an area for further research.

Here are three suggestions:

1. Help your students to understand the difference between their abilities and their performance in mathematics, science, and the humanities. This can be done by providing them with clear, specific, and challenging learning tasks.

2. Provide more support for students who are struggling in mathematics, science, and the humanities. This can be done by providing them with additional tutoring, study groups, and other forms of academic support.

3. Help your students to understand that their performance in mathematics, science, and the humanities is not determined by their abilities, but by their strategies for learning. This can be done by providing them with clear, specific, and challenging learning tasks and by encouraging them to use effective study strategies.

Nobel Prize winner at May 5 Firelands commencement

Maw, who was a philosophy professor at the University of Oxford and a member of the British Academy, will deliver the keynote address at the commencement ceremony. Maw was awarded the Nobel Prize in Economics in 1987 for his work on the theory of economic equilibrium.

Maw will deliver the keynote address at the commencement ceremony on May 5 at Firelands Health Care's Fireside Room in Upper Sandusky.

New textbok familiarizes students with up-to-date technical writing

A new textbook written by Dr. Alice Philbin, professor of English, and co-writer Dr. Charles Fogel, a professor of mathematics, is being used in technical writing courses throughout the University of Oxford. The textbook, titled "Technical Writing: An Introduction," is the first of its kind to integrate both technical and humanistic perspectives on technical writing.

The book, which is being used in courses at the University of Oxford and other universities around the world, is based on the authors' extensive experience in teaching technical writing and their research on the subject. The textbook covers the process of technical writing, the role of the writer, and the role of the reader. It also includes examples of technical writing from a variety of fields, including engineering, computer science, and medicine.

The textbook is available from major bookstores and online retailers. More information can be found at the University of Oxford's website.
BGRA offers a new plan to save on taxes and plan for your retirement

Focusing on your future tax, properly plan your retirement’s financial planning. As you age, it’s important to think about the future and plan for it. One way to do this is by choosing a retirement plan that works for you. Some of the best options include annuities, 401(k)s, and IRAs. These plans can help you save for retirement and reduce your overall tax liability. It’s important to understand how these plans work and to choose the one that best suits your needs.

A recent study found that only 14% of Americans have a retirement plan that includes both an IRA and a 401(k). This is concerning, as many people are not planning for their future. It’s important to start saving for retirement as early as possible to ensure that you have enough funds to live comfortably in retirement.

Thanks to software programs like BGRA, planning for your retirement is easier than ever. They can help you determine how much you need to save each month, what your tax liability will be, and how much you can expect to receive in retirement. By using this software, you can make informed decisions about your financial future and ensure that you have a secure retirement.

The next time you’re thinking about retirement, consider using BGRA to help you plan. It’s a great tool for anyone who wants to take control of their financial future and ensure a secure retirement.
Sessions offered on PERS and social security

University employees who are members of the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) may attend these sessions to familiarize themselves with the PERS retirement plan and to ask questions. A PERS representative will visit the campus and present a brief slide orientation, answer questions, and distribute brochures. Those with questions or answers will follow.

Finalists are named
March finalists have been named for the Outstanding Student Athlete Award. They are Jack Telle, running back and quarterback; Tanya McWilliams, center and guard; Suzy Broderick, center; and Martha Frat, guard.

Positions are filled
Two new employees joined the athletic staff this month. They are Joseph Jeffrey, swim team coach, and Mike Hugan, cross-country coach.
