Monitor Newsletter April 17, 1989

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/965

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Sessions offered on PERS and social security

The social security office in Bowling Green also will have a representative.

The PERS representative also will be available to employees who want to review their benefits. Employees should call 354-2747 to schedule an appointment.

Finalists are named

March finalists have been named for the Outstanding Student Athlete Award. They are Jack Hall, Female, soccer and outdoor tennis; and John Hodyck, Male, American football.

Positions are filled

Two new employees joined the staff of the Admissions Office. They are Joseph Czubaty, print shop operator, and Wayne Loney, a full-time office worker in the Information Services Center.

A join committee

 Classified employees interested in becoming a part of the executive search for the University's next president are invited to submit their names.

The search for a new president is the result of the resignation of President Thomas Stubbs, who retired in 1979.

Glenna Stubs

Glenna Stubs, 82, a retired employee of the University, died March 30 at 7:20 a.m. at the Mercy Medical Center.

She joined the University's staff in 1958 as an accounting clerk. During the years she served, she became a full-time staff member in 1979. She retired in 1984.

Stubs was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Maumee, and the YWCA of the city. She also was a member of the Bowling Green Tree Nursery Association and the University Faculty Wives Club. Her husband, one son and two grandsons also are members of the University faculty.

Glenna Stubs

Glenna Stubs, 82, a retired employee of the University, died March 30 at 7:20 a.m. at the Mercy Medical Center.

In accordance with her wishes, no services were held.

Glenna Stubs

Glenna Stubs, 82, a retired employee of the University, died March 30 at 7:20 a.m. at the Mercy Medical Center.

The following faculty positions are available:

- College of Business Administration: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Fine Arts: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Liberal Arts: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Science: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Social Science and Humanities: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Engineering: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Education: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Law: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Agriculture: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Nursing: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Health and Human Services: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

The position is open until filled.

Glenna Stubs

Glenna Stubs, 82, a retired employee of the University, died March 30 at 7:20 a.m. at the Mercy Medical Center.

In accordance with her wishes, no services were held.

Glenna Stubs

Glenna Stubs, 82, a retired employee of the University, died March 30 at 7:20 a.m. at the Mercy Medical Center.

The following faculty positions are available:

- College of Business Administration: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Fine Arts: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Liberal Arts: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Science: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Social Science and Humanities: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Engineering: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Education: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Law: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Agriculture: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Nursing: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Health and Human Services: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Education: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Law: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Agriculture: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.

- College of Nursing: Full-time, 9-month faculty member, $10,000.
Wide range of activities are planned for Earth Day

Two lectures by nationally known environmentalists, a tree-planting ceremony and a plant sale will highlight the annual Earth Day celebration on campus.

The 19th annual Earth Day at Bowling Green State University will be observed from 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Tuesday April 19 when Dr. Gary Becker, associate director of the International Society for Endangered Data, will speak in 121 West Hall.

On Wednesday April 19, students and faculty members of the Ecoscience Research Group will hold an all-campus Earth Day event from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in the Union One. The activities include information booths, an outdoor multiplex theater with a film about the environment and a coffee shop in the Union Two.

A former operations director at the Columbus Zoo, Gary Becker will give a slide presentation detailing the relationship of man and wild cats and the various reasons that animals are declawed in research centers in the wild.

The topic of Gaia's presentation is "Lions from the Ancient Forest: Earth Wisdom and Political Activism." A former American government professor at Daedalus College, Gaia became involved in the environmental movement in 1963 when she became a political activist in the California secretary of state's office from cutting the first road into Mustang Mountain in the Shasta National Forest in southwestern Oregon.

Since that time, she has founded a mountain sanctuary, when she became a conservation activist in wildlife areas in the country.

Nominations taken

Nominees are currently being taken for the Friends of the University's annual Merit Award.

Nominations can be made by any university employee or student. They may be either signed or anonymous, but must be accompanied by a written explanation of why the candidate should receive the award. Nominations must be in the Office of the Dean of Libraries and Learning Resources, Library, by the time of the award presentation opening in August.

Note class change

Course meeting times for the English 101 classes are to be changed. Professor Stephen O'Connor and Howard McCord announced Tuesday in the spring catalog that instead of meeting 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, the English 101 classes will meet 12:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m. the last two weeks of the session.

For more information, contact Mary K. Shadrick, English writing program office, 104 Hanna Hall.

Forum

The Forum is held in an informal discussion setting. The forum will be held from 2-3 p.m. in room 1207 in the Student Center.

For example, Carlson qualified an earth-friendly person under age 40 with the following comment: "They are not willing to put up with the old idea of the dirty hands movement." Carlson added that an earth-friendly person under age 40 would be one who "will work with us to bring about a major transformation of people's values."

Risky business: You still have to look both ways before crossing street

Just about every faculty, student or member can recall a time when he or she was almost badly steered by a car when using a crosswalk.

Ask any pedestrian who had the right of way and they'd say it. Ask the drivers about it and you get the same answer.

Reagan said whether pedestrians actually had the right of way or not, they are going to wind up as the at-faults in a collision with a vehicle.

According to Jean YameD, Just about every faculty, staff member or student has the problem, but that they always have the right of way when crossing a street.

However, right of way at two-lane intersections and pedestrian is an exact hit or the one who is hit is in the hit or hit it is in the car that is in the hit. Of course, if their right of way is being hit it is their vehicle that is being hit.

City Police Chief Gary Allen said if a pedestrian has stopped off the curb yet and seen approaching vehicle, the vehicle has the right of way to continue but the hit of the pedestrian has stopped off the curb, then he or she has the right of way to cross.

"There is very few that hit as bad as he has the right of way," Allen said. "It's a lot of them are hit before the automatic right to right to hit the cross road now and hit the other one across the street now.

In November there is several crossways on streets that have concerned police about the problems of where students cross from Prout Hall and the Math Science Building.

Another heavily used crossways is the one in front of the Administration building on Trousdale Avenue. Azul said the two-block area in front of the building because of the high amount of traffic and it can often travel at faster speeds.

"That's a popular time when the street crossing is crossing the street. I've seen a lot of time where the street crossing is crossing the street larger people and they leave the street crossing area," Azul said.

"The flash light gives people a false sense of security that when they cross every crosswalk is going to stop," Azul said. "I've seen people who cross even when they don't.
Wide range of activities are planned for Earth Day

Two lectures by nationally-known environmentalists, a tree planting ceremony and a center stall will highlight the annual Earth Day celebration on campus.

The 19th annual Earth Day is Saturday, April 20, at the Aquatic Center, where the celebration will begin at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 16 when Dr. Jim Beck, associate director of the International Center for Endangered Oceans, will speak at 12:30 in the Union.

On Wednesday, April 17, in the University’s Environmental Research Group will end its annual Earth Day celebration by sponsoring a series of programs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Union.

The activities include information sessions, hands-on activities, three planting ceremonies and a seafood dinner in the Terrace Restaurant.

The Coastal Zoo. Dr. Beck will give a slide presentation dealing the relationship of man to wild cats and the various reasons that felines are dangerously declining in numbers in the wild.

The topic of his presentation is "Lesions of the Ancient Forest. Earth Wilderness and Political Action." A former American government professor at Stanford University, he will give the lecture to the audience in the Environmental Center.

Nominations are currently being taken for the Friends of the University's 1989 Earth Day Awards. Nominations can be made by any concerned university employee and student. They may be either signed or anonymous, but should be accompanied by a written explanation of why the candidate should receive the award.

The University's Earth Day Committee will be at the Earth Day booths and learning resources opening event in August.

Nominations taken

The Earth Day Committee will be at the Earth Day booths and learning resources opening event in August.

Forum from the front page

For example, Caruther said an annual award is now being made to a student under age 18 as "the best junior writer," the student越过 a significant milestone in their writing career. About 40 percent of an older student's work is not covered by insurance, leaving a younger student sometimes with nothing to stop their progress.

For example, Caruther said an annual award is now being made to a student under age 18 as "the best junior writer," the student越过 a significant milestone in their writing career. About 40 percent of an older student's work is not covered by insurance, leaving a younger student sometimes with nothing to stop their progress.

ODK from the front page

State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in sociology.

She was accepted to the School of Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where she earned her master's degree in business administration.

ODK from the front page

State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in sociology.

She was accepted to the School of Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where she earned her master's degree in business administration.

ODK from the front page

State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in sociology.

She was accepted to the School of Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where she earned her master's degree in business administration. She also received a Ph.D. in business administration from the University of Illinois, where she earned her doctorate in business administration.

ODK from the front page

State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in sociology.

She was accepted to the School of Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where she earned her master's degree in business administration. She also received a Ph.D. in business administration from the University of Illinois, where she earned her doctorate in business administration.

ODK from the front page

State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in sociology.

She was accepted to the School of Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where she earned her master's degree in business administration. She also received a Ph.D. in business administration from the University of Illinois, where she earned her doctorate in business administration.
Submit names for Ferrari Award

Nominations for the 1989 Michael R. Ferrari Award currently are being solicited from faculty, staff, and students. The award recognizes exceptional contributions to the student life or the general service of the University. Criteria for selection include emphasis on the human dimension, innovation and initiation of new ideas, and relationship among the arts, sciences, and general education. All eligible faculty and staff are encouraged to submit nominations. Nominations should include a brief statement of why the individual deserves recognition for the award. Nominations should be sent to Jill Peoples, Program Coordinator, Office of the President, Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio 43403-0001.

Job Fair to be busy

A record 2,500 job applicants may take place during the annual Teacher Job Fair from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 19, in the Centennial Union at Bowling Green State University. Approximately 103 institutions from 101 schools in 17 states and the District of Columbia and nine international countries will have representatives at the fair. Teachers who have not submitted resumes may do so up to 15 interview dates during the fair.

Schools attending the job fair will include emphasis on the human dimension. The executive search firm will be available to discuss all job opportunities.

Datebook

Monday, April 17

30th Annual Undergraduate Art Show, through April 27. Gallery hours: 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on Monday through Saturday, and 1 - 4:30 p.m. on Sunday. The show will be located on the second floor of Centennial Union.

Tuesday, April 18

Classified Council Meeting, 9 a.m., Centennial Union, Room 100.

7th Annual Center for the Arts Concert, 8 p.m., Moore Musical Arts Center.

Wednesday, April 19

Campus Wide Clean-up Day, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Thursday, April 20

Bowling Green Brass Concert, 7:30 p.m., Bowling Green Band Shell, Main Campus.

Friday, April 21

Saturday, April 22

Sunday, April 23

April Fool’s Day

All 130 employees of the Bowling Green State University Information Center and entrance nearing completion; the Information Center itself will open for test runs this week. The information center and entrance of the College of Education is set to become operational this year. The center will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The center will provide a wide range of services to students, faculty, and staff, including information on the availability of faculty and staff, the location of offices, and other general information. The center will also offer a variety of amenities, such as a meeting room, a quiet study area, and a snack area.

Handicapped issues are topic of final forum

Work on the campus’ new entrance and visitors center is expected to begin shortly. The new entrance will be located on the north side of the campus. The visitors center will be a two-story brick building with a glass facade. The center will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The center will offer a variety of services, including information on the availability of faculty and staff, the location of offices, and other general information. The center will also offer a variety of amenities, such as a meeting room, a quiet study area, and a snack area.

Monitor

*Vol. XII, No. 39
Bowling Green State University
April 24, 1989

Employees from Glass Products in Bowling Green installed the aluminum framework for the spaltarum at the campus’ new entrance and visitors center. The framework is being constructed with a large scale map of the campus. Inside the building there is a reception and information desk where information about the campus and the Bowling Green community will be available.

Information Center and entrance nearing completion

Browne doesn’t just teach, he becomes a students' lives

The focus of this section is on Browne's dedication to his students' lives and the ways in which he goes beyond traditional teaching roles to make a lasting impact on his students. Browne is known for his commitment to understanding each student's unique needs and providing personalized support. He is described as a mentor who not only teaches students in the classroom but also acts as a confidant and advisor outside of the classroom. His approach to teaching is characterized by his ability to connect with students on a personal level, fostering a sense of community and belonging. This section highlights Browne's efforts to create a supportive and inclusive environment for his students, emphasizing his role as an advocate and role model.

Continued on page 3