Displaced BG Whale Shows Need for Campus Museum

By FRANCES COR

Yes, there's a whale on campus. You've never seen it! Well, don't cry, not very many tears, but it's here—somewhere. Since it's not in condition to be viewed, according to Prof. Everett C. Myers of the biology department, whereabouts have not been disclosed. Even if it were fit to be exhibited there's no place on campus large enough for such a display. In order to receive full benefits from such a display, Moving Green needs a new museum.

The only trouble is that an adequate museum building with appropriate funds would amount to a half million dollars. Professor Myers feels that it will take a lot of work but eventually we will have it.

He also asserts that too many people have the wrong conception of a museum. He claims a museum is not just a place to store things and let them get dusty. It's a well-equipped museum in this area could maintain a circulating department to take exhibits to small schools in the surrounding country. If such a museum could present art, biological, and historical exhibits for visiting groups such as sports clubs who would be interested in logical, and historical exhibits for small schools in the surrounding area.

Bickering Senate...

At the start of this school year, Student Senate gave indications of accomplishing its annual performance. Apparently this was a group packed with talent and led by a president who had discerned plans for better performance, and the ability to see these realized.

In the past, Senate has not lived up to its expectations. It has gained only after hours of diligent work, Dr. Kennedy and Co. can justifiably feel proud of the reception awarded them.

Herb Semper, Kansas Ace, Has Best Time, But Balanced Michigan State Squad Wins

Bowling Green's cross country team finished its 1960 season Monday by participating in the National Collegiate Athletic Association meet at East Lansing.

Penn State won the meet while Michigan State, Wisconsin, and Kansas took the next three places.

Herb Semper, a junior from Kansas, took first as Warren Drisko, Michigan State, was second, and Kansas' junior, Dave Allison, third. Semper's time for the one-mile course was 4:31.7, nowhere near the record.

Bushing in over six inches of snow for the 6k contest from 20 odd universities throughout the country finished the course in 34:07.5. Marv Crosten and Lee Pate were the only contestants entered for the Falcons, who did not run a complete team in the meet. Crosten holds the varsity record.

Junior from Wooster College, Ohio, and Kansas took the next three places. Medals were presented to team members with 21:67 behind Army's Dick Shea who was favored to win the season Monday by participating in the National Collegiate Athletic Association meet at East Lansing.

• • • The 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed.

The Sports department would like to call our duty upon to the 1960 Falcon football team. As Bill Greenhill last week reviewed the season in his column, "Varsity Highlights," he implied that the season was at an up and down one for Bowling Green, which it was. In some games, the Falcons would have given any team in their class a mighty rough contest, but on other days, they just didn't have it.

Regardless, the Bee Gee News backed the team from the start. We had no criticisms, some of our selections may have been wrong, but all were designed to be of constructive nature. Not that we regarded ourselves asuttle experts or top notch coaching material. But our point of view throughout the grid season was and will continue to be that of observation and interpretation.

Frequently, we strongly criticized the student body for its failure to support Coach Whittaker's team, but that has been overcome. If these "mature" individuals can't take a hint, well, let's hope the basketball team enjoys a much more active crowd.
