Committeemen OK Plan for Enlistees

Full Credit To Be Given Students Leaving For Service After 14th Week

Students enlisting or being drafted into the armed forces will be given full credit for their courses under the various University programs upon approval of the Executive Committee's approved plans which were set up on Jan. 4.

The Committee has asserted that students leaving school before the fourteenth week of the semester will be governed, regarding scholastic credits, by the following conditions:

1) If the instructor records a grade of A, B, or C for work in the course, a final mark of "F" or "P" will be recorded on the course on the permanent record. If the instructor records a grade of D, a final mark of "W" or "N" will be recorded on the course record and no credit allowed.

2) Students returning to the University to complete a second semester in which "F" grades have been recorded will be permitted to enroll in any course in which "F" grades have been received only with recommendation of the academic dean. By returning to the University students will have the corresponding time of withdrawal, the "F" grade may be changed to a letter grade and satisfy point requirements for advanced courses.

3) Students leaving the University for service in the armed forces will receive no credit toward a degree, and no credit will be applied to the University at a date corresponding to the date of withdrawal. In the case of withdrawing students, the marks and the letter "W" will be recorded on the permanent record.

Yearbooks Sent To Few Graduates

VOLUNTARY" Enlistments...•

Simplicities between the universites throughout the United States are facing a mid-year crisis — of losing its male enrollment to a marked extent. Current draft laws, on the other hand, promote the "voluntary" enlistments. Voluntary enlistments — that term makes it seem as though that no one but the individual can decide. The only prospect that he has, as many other young men, is to expect to have to go to the services. If he does not have to go to the army until June, he will have to make his decision then. 1951 Gets Off To Big Start

If the first week end of the new year is any indication of how the rest of the year will turn out, 1951 should be a big year for all campus social activities.

Bendini's a.m.p.u movies, a club in a warm whirlpool, the Penguin Rifles' orchestra dance Friday night, and Alpha Sigma Phi's semi-formal "Winter Interlude" on Saturday.

A new orchestra, the Starlighters, played for the Penguin Rifles informal dance in the Women's Hig. Composed mainly of Bowling Green students, the band is led by Bill Lecklider.

Members of the Penguin Rifles Club, minority recognition organization, were in uniform, with the dance honoring the pledges who were going active.

Decorations included the ROTC and school flags, and guidons.

Dance chairmen were Vernon Barnes and Mike Adams.

The Alpha Sigma Phi first annual "Winter Interlude" semi-formal was delayed around the theme of Penguinia. Each year, the Alpha Sigma Phi intends to feature a different phase of winter life, and this year it was the land of the penguins.

Decorations, igloo made of black and white crepe paper and a large igloo were featured in the decorations.

ATOMIC PLEDGES START DANCE IDEA: JAN. 12

The first annual all-fraternity pledge dance will be held in the Bowling Green Armory from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight next Friday. The idea of the dance was originated by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity pledge class and is being sponsored by all the pledge classes.

Each succeeding year another fraternity pledge class will be in charge of the dance.

The fraternities will follow in alphabetical order.

Attention Draft-Bait, There's Still Time

Two members of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force will be in front of the Main Aud. Wednesday and Thursday of this week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. to give information on army and air force enlistments.

Faltering Falcons Face Strong TU Team Thursday

By BILL GREENHUT

Still stunned by the dejecting defeat that LaSalle administered last Saturday, the Falcon carcasses are drilling hard for the TU contest this Thursday. The BG squad will be facing one of the strongest TU ensembles in the last two years and will have to improve greatly if they are to break their three game losing streak.

They will have to stop the team that has not lost a game since the end of November, the Penn State Nittany Lions with a 37-33 lead at half time score was 45-25. The first and were never able to catch up. La Salle was hot from the beginning, and when they close to 10% is all right. That half-time score was 46-25.

The Falcons fell behind in the second half and La Salle went out with a bang while FGU went down into the black. Jerry Kempsten pulled the BG to within 11 points behind and George Beck brought the Falcons back behind, but LIU went away, grabbed a 37-33 lead at halftime. The key difference was that the ball was on a silver platter, due to inaccuracies in the second half.

Behind all the way and at one point, LIU went ahead 62-44 with seven minutes to go. The key difference was that Long Island hit 21 of 26 free throws while BG sank only 16 of 28 fouls, on a silver platter, due to inaccuracies in the second half.

The Falcons wound up with a meager six percentage points in front of the night. It was a great night for the Falcons with 17.

Jim Gerber had (our fouls called against him were: 6-10 Paul Nolen, Texas Tech 79-60 a Bophomore, pouring in 10 points, and Musi is an average of Falcons dropped its first game against Holy Cross, but used their reserves most of the last half and set a 53-22 victory over an unexpectedly strong DePaul.

Starting where they left off last season, the Eagles defended against the DePaul Bearcats, and captain Ned Clark, Heffner, the team's leading scorer, held to one point by Feeman was out of the game. The game will be staged in Chicago, as a tired bunch of Falcons beat TU by stopping one man. with floats and all is planned.

The game will be the third on the TU tour, and the Eagles have come from behind to beat the Bearcats as they drove to a 74-69 victory in the final minutes. The Eagles will have to stop the whole team in this contest, the senior of Falcons who at this writing is carrying a 8:16.

The back room reserved with no rental fees. The Falcons are not going to TU by stopping one man. They will have to stop the whole team in this contest, the senior of Falcons who at this writing is carrying a 8:16.

Beginners will be styled slow and skimming to a 53-22 victory over an unexpectedly strong DePaul.
