Student Vote On Union Fees Called

Student Union fees are up to you! You will find the times and places where you will be called to meet with your Student Senate Representatives to discuss how you want him to vote on the same presented below.

These meetings will be called by your representatives for all groups on campus represented in Senate so that everyone will be given a chance to express his opinions, and finally, before the meeting ends, to vote in a group and show the representative how to vote when the issue is to be voted on at next Thursday in a special Student Senate session.

Four items compose the whole situation. They are:
1. That $400,000 will be needed by the University as a guarantee on the needed loan of $400,000.
2. That fees have been raised from the present five dollars to 10 dollars.
3. That you, as students now, will probably have to raise from the present five dollars to 10 dollars.
4. And finally, that there is now a balance of $30,560.01 in the fund.

If the fees are dropped, which is highly improbable, it will mean bad conditions, poor buildings, a great or less for the structure. To float a bond which carries with it the need for a large down payment is the only way the project can be financed.

The Student Union is a structure of the future; yet the raise in fees brings the actual construction date closer.

Never has an advancement been achieved when people are not willing to give up something today so that others can have the benefits tomorrow.

Even though students on the campus may never have the actual use of the union buildings, they will benefit from them. For the status of the University will increase if better recreational facilities is a step in the right direction than the value of the dollars be increased for a diploma is only worth as much as the University from which it comes.

Many times students have visited other universities only to return home with the utmost disappointment. They will find campus life is lacking in many respects. What they fail to realize is that the other institutions are doing what they can to obtain the facilities they have.

Unfortunately Bowling Green has many programs in comparison to many other institutions of higher learning.

Opponents to the raise in fees think that only five dollars a semester will come from day to day. Opponents to the raise in fees think that only five dollars a semester will come from day to day. And they are right, but the present fee will be raised to ten dollars a semester.

The Student Union fee will increase from $4.50 to $5.00 a semester.

Scenes from "Reine and Juliet" and "A Streetcar Named Desire" will be displayed by Elena Le Gallienne, who has appeared on Broadway, and in her company in the fourth presentation of the Artist Series Jan. 14, in the Main Aud., at 8:15.

Miss Le Gallienne studied acting at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in England and made her first stage appearance at the age of fifteen.

Soon after she came to New York and became well-known on the Broadway stage.

The repertory theater is first in Miss Le Gallienne's heart. She founded the Civic Repertory Theater and has fulfilled the roles of leading actress, director, and producer. With the Civic, she has produced The United States presenting "Tobacco," "Three Days," and "The Seagull." The first is an Americanization of Gorky's play, "The Cherry Orchard," and Gorky's full prize-winning "Alice's Restaurant." Miss Le Gallienne believes that every community should have a People's Repertory Theater presenting examples of International dramatic art where people can find creative and mental and spiritual stimulation.

Among the many honors Miss Le Gallienne has received for her work in the theater are honorary degrees from Tufts, Russell Sage and Smith Colleges, and she also was the first woman to receive the gold medal of the Society of Actors and actresses. She is the author of an autobiography and also a text book for children's books.

The members of Miss Le Gallienne's company are Reed Kendall, Clinton Towers, John Weller, and Ethel Johnson. Miss Le Gallienne has directed and produced a number of distinguished Broadway actors and actresses and has made tours with other companies.

Besides scenes from "Romance and Suicide" and "A Streetcar Named Desire," Miss Le Gallienne will also present excerpts from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," Henrik Ibsen's "Ghost," and "The Seagull" with Donald Grose and "The Ibsa Girl."

Strees added that Dr. Fruea signed the constitution for the Student Senate. Under present conditions of student representation, there is no known way in which the union policy will be decided by the students. He said that the students will be on the governing Board of Overview and will have two vice presidents and one president. Possible Improvements of Next Year's Senate program include possible improvements of it, Earl Par- son, member of the Student Supply Committee, reported that Dr. Fruea had appeared in favor of a suggestion to obtain new furniture.

Accounting students graduating before next fall are invited to make use of the Forestry Science Reference Service.

This service, established by the Bureau of Crop and Forestry Reference of the American Institute of Foresters provides a liaison between accounting and graduate forestry students to make adjustments in such classes.

There are several requirements that the student must have fulfilled first. One is that he is graduating before next September, and the second is that he has taken the American Institute of Foresters' Achievement and Certification Level I test.

The reference service expects to distribute its first one card series of accounting firms in March, with a second distribution following during the fall.

A candle-light initiation ceremony recently held by the Women's Residence Association installed thirty-six new members in the group. Ronnie Nichols, Nancy Tank, Mary Lou Bardway, Gayle Browning, Thomas, and Pat Wallace are the newly elected officers.

The only requirement for new members in WRA is to participate in one or more of the club's various activities.

The WRA recommends that students join the organization to make new friends, to have fun, and to get involved in campus life. New members are always welcome to join. For more information, please contact the WRA office at 121 North Main Street.
