There may have been a slightly enjoyable A Cappella concert tour, but the one that ended early Tuesday morning left an indelible mark on the hearts of those who made the trip.

Hopes of southern surfers were quickly squashed under what could only be described as a "Carnival Cruise." But apparently the ones who reached Dayton most were aware of the fact that they were in the middle of one of winter's worst storms.

According to reports from small-town residents, Dr. James Paul Kennedy and a group of 30 returned to the scenes of the zephyrs and the Fokker, but left Dayton at approximately the same time. It was the last time for three days that members of the group were together.

The Fokker has broken down three times during the trip to Cincinnati, and was finally stranded. Dr. Kennedy and 11 people hitch-hiked into the Union Terminal at Cincinnati, only to learn that the train to Nashville, Tenn., was cancelled. After negotiating with train officials, Dr. Kennedy managed to get the crew onto a special coach.

The "special coach" turned out to be one loaded with service men. Jammed into a single cot, chair members learned about war-time conditions—well more of them. The train continued west of Ohio. The next morning, however, the train was out of order, and the weather was very bad.

Howard Kennedy of Hammonton, N.J., the only one of the five group members to emerge, said that the train broke down at the bottom of a mountain just south of Dayton, Ohio. It was the same time. It was the closest thing to a normal experience that the group had experienced. Even the train was out of order.

The object of placing such a group of people in such a train is to understand, shortening, and other abuses which started work. In the event the Air Force does not have the additional facilities.

Not all the men would vote, etc. They would group in each weekend, each group to receive a 10-week training period. There would be courses for each group. Students To Occupy Front Rows For Duo-Piano Show

Possibly thinking that history will repeat itself, the University Artistic Series Committee has scheduled Morley and Garth to appear in the Main Aud. Sunday evening at 8:30.

Dr. Paul Kennedy, Dr. Morley and Garth, Mr. and Mrs. in private life, last appeared at Bowling Green in July, 1948. Dr. Kennedy and Mr. Garth will give them four encore.

Today is the last day that students may purchase tickets at the box office. General admission tickets for students are 50 cents with an AS, while reserved-ticket tickets for students are 40 cents.

Because of students' dissatisfaction, the University's Duo-Piano show for the Ena Le Gaille performance, a new show has been planned by the Artists Series Committee of students to invite to assist. Wives of faculty members will serve tea from 9-12 on Tuesday, March 2, the exhibition will include oil and watercolor paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, and ceramic creations.

Faculty members whose work will be exhibited include: Robert Benou, Charles Lakofsky, Otis Ock- er, Karl Richards, Robert Siedel, Wilford Winters, Anthony Wurts, Marjorie Wink, and Philip Wigg.

On Second Oratorio Started by Choral Groups

Preparation for Verdi's "Requiem," a musical oratorio written by one of the greatest composers of the last century, began this week under the direction of Paul Kennedy.

The choral work, which will be presented in the Men's Gym on March 18 by the combined choral groups and interested students, as occupied by the University's theatres and professional students, will be the first choral work organized by the Alpha Phi Omega Bookstore Opens To Pay Students

The Alpha Phi Omega Bookstore located in the Bee Hall, will open at 9 a.m., Thursday, Feb. 26, for four days. All persons who have completed the books bought in order to make their receipts to the store at the end of the month.

Open hours will be 9-12 and 1-4, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday and 9-12 on Saturday.

In the store, there will be information available to all students who must do on the designated books, as well as an application blank since the sessions will number only until next semester.

Director Named To Clinic Posts

A. Bruce Graham, who received his B.A. from Colorado State College and M.A. from the University of Denver, has been named to succeed Miss Edna McClelland as director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic and the Cerebral Palsy Center here.

Miss McClelland resigned after five years of work at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and the clinic of the American Speech and Hearing Association. She was an expert in the field of cerebral palsy. The Gearharts met while studying music at the University of Cincinnati and the couple recently made a successful recording of the duo-pianists of the National Geographic Society.

The duo-pianists will present recitals of the works of Schumann, Beethoven, Mozart, Chopin, and Grieg. The program will be presented in the Men's Gym on March 18, as well as several recitals in local churches and other venues.

Splashes Tie For First Place In Purdue Meet

The BG women's swimming team, the Falconettes, made their best showing of the year recently as they won a 3-team meet held at Purdue University.

The meet was held on the 3-way tie for first with both Purdue and Illinois, as all three teams scored 25 points. Ball State was the third school, representing and was held to 20 points.

Dorothy McLean scored a first in the 40-yard freestyle and the 50-yard relay quartet also picked up first place points. Second place in the relay team were Collette Williams, Joan Williams, Miss Wickes, and Miss McLean.

Sallie Buck took a second in the 40-yard backstroke and Miss Wickes picked up seconds in the 100-yard and 100-yard breaststroke races. BG's Medley Relay team of Miss Buck, Miss Wickes, and Miss McLean took a second in a close race.

The Falconettes could do in the other race.

Dim Falcons NIT Chances

In preparation for the first annual NIT finals at Ann Arbor, Bowling Green's basketball team is diligently working out under Coach Dave Mathews for appearing in the Michigan State Relays Jan. 27 and Feb. 1.

The Falcons' 1951 Michigan AAAC tournament team included Captains Bill Fortner, Charles Moslin, Lloyd Perino, and Bruce Oliver took second this year to Michigan Normal, the team which the Falcons defeated last year for the championship. The mile relay team of Moslin, Oliver, Jordan, and Kilgore placed third behind Baldwin-Wallace and Loyola of Chicago.

In the individual events Frank Kilgore placed fifth in the 880-yard run while Larry Had gets points in the mile with a second place showing.

The Falcons' first NIT appearance was in 1951, when they journey to London, Canada for their first international meet with mystery-swepted Western Ontario, a team about which not even little is known. This is the first time the Canadian team has appeared on the Falcon swim schedule.

In high spirit after whitewashing a power threatening Ohio University club 65-15 on Jan. 25, the Falcons maneuvered to East Lansing for their double dual clash with Michigan State and Iowa State.

Trackmen Work For Huron Race

At East Lansing the Falcons encountered similar competition, while taking third to DePaul and Michigan Normal in the Diving finals. Michigan, Kilgore, Hall, and Leo Paolino combined efforts to place seventh in the distance medley relay by only .03 of a point. Les Pol, Bowling Green's only extractor in the 500-yard, finished tenth.

Other indoor track dates being put in by the Falcons include a Columbus meet March 9, and the Toledo Purple relays March 12, both of which have become annual affairs for the Falcons.

Losses To BW, Lawrence Dim Falcons NIT Chances

By BILL GREENHILL

All hopes and possibilities of Bowling Green being invited to the post-season NIT tourney were almost gone after the Falcons dropped two contests last week.

Thursday night BG was slammed by Baldwin-Wallace 76-58 and then fell to Lawrence Tech Saturday, 60-53.

The Falcons face John Carroll here tomorrow night and it will be the last home game of the year for BG. Although the second TU game in our "home" game it will be played in the Toledo Arena. Saturday night the Falcons are the visitors of Ohio University's Buckeye.

Bob Long and Ed Joyce headed the Falcon attack in the B-W game while the accuracy of the Yellow Jackets was the chief reason for the 76-58 victory. BG was also outscored 48-33 in the first three tries, hitting only 18 of 56 while B-W's marksmen were dropping in 27 of 37 sharply.

Three of B-W's players dropped 72 of the team's 76 points. Bob Jackson netted 27, Jim Harris 23, and Dick Robertson dropped in 22. BG's Jim Gerber was held to a season's 11 half and one basket but the Escort was the host Clarion Valley coach.

Saturday night the Falcons ran into a team that had won all but two games this year including an impressive win over Bradley University's Bryce. LaSalle and CSI are the only teams to beat the Escort.

Gerber and Yockey netted 15 and 10 points respectively as the Escort stayed in front most of the game. BG was behind at the half, 26-17.

The News needs sportswriters!

A basketball team comprised of Arthur Johnson, Dorothy King, Bernice Groome, Barbara Miller, Marilyn Keeling, Thelma Gehres, Margaret Chandler, Phyllis Jones, Dorothy O'Brien, and Bonnie Almey traveled to Tiffin Saturday, Feb. 15, to compete in a Sport Day.

The Cooperative team consists of Mary Beth Blanchard, Marilyn Mcglinn, Thelma Gehres, Sandy Grimm, Betty Bieker, and Mary Williams.

Saturday's victory over Cincin.

The Falcons' next home meet will be Saturday, Feb. 17, when they will be host to the Michigan University. Coach Cooper predicts the team will be even stronger this season due to the addition of 4 more experienced players including 6'4" forward, Bob Lishman, 5'10" forward, Dorothy Almey, 5'10" forward, Dorothy Almey, and 5'9" guard, Mary Williams.

Choir Back After Its Rough Southern Trip

There may have been more enjoyable A Cappella concerts, but the one that ended early Tuesday morning left an indelible impression on the listeners who attended. The hopes of southern sunsets were quickly snuffed under the shadow of this seemingly ominous event. As the group reached Dayton, they learned that the train was delayed. It was a sleepless night for three days that members of the group saw each other.

The Falcon bus left Dayton at approximately the same time. It was the last time for three days that members of the group saw each other. The train broke down three times during the trip to Cincinnati and was finally abandoned. Dr. Kennedy and his wife looked forward to the trip, only to learn that the train to Nashville, Tenn., was canceled. After negotiating with train officials, Dr. Kennedy managed to get the choir onto a special coach.

The "special coach" turned out to be too crowded with members suffering from colds, and it was decided to hire a special coach. Members learned about warm-weather travel in Kentucky, which was less bumpy. The train broke down three more times on the way west, and the weather kept freezing in the basins.

Having no dining or sleeping facilities were forced to go with very little food or sleep for two days. By the time they reached Montgomery, Ala., they were 30 minutes behind schedule. They arrived at Peabody Institute and private arrangements were made. After leaving the train the children went to church and then traveled one half hour before it broke down, then parked, then continued to Fort Worth.

Air Force Unit

Considering BG

Air Force officials are considering placing a unit of Air Force personnel here at Bowling Green office for training, Dr. Pryor announced yesterday.

Officers of the Air Force visited the University campus Wednesday in an inspection tour of the University's armament and facilities for living on campus.

In Kentucky, there was a snowstorm that just lasted as yet, it is believed to cause some damage. The Air Force wants to do its program by the first of next month. If the decision is made, it will be a unit here. After this, it would mean that there would be more training from 1000 to 1000 Air Force personnel present.

The object of placing such a unit here is to train men in typing, shorthand, and other similar work. In the event the Air Force does come on campus, the University will have hire additional faculty members. All the men would come at once. They would be groups of men traveling together for the first few weeks in the beginning. There would be a change of personnel.

Bookstore Opens

To Pay Students

The Alpha Phi Gamma Bookstore, located in the Rec Hall, will open Wednesday, Feb. 21, for four days. All persons who brought books to the Campus House during the Christmas vacation will meet at 1:14 before being put through a machine and allowed to go. The machine will allow students to collect their books.

The store announced that all students who came to the books must be on the designated schedule. They do not wish to hold any over until next semester.

Chamber Ends Saturday

Far cry from the classroom, isn't it? Pictured above is the entire cast of the third annual Faculty Show, "Channel No. 8,"" which was held in the Music Room last Saturday night. The students were quite proud of their effort and present. Here are some of the members under all the make-up and costumes.

"Channel No. 8" was the third annual faculty show, held by the Music Dept. of the University. The show was presented by the students and faculty of the Music Department and was under the direction of Howard Kane and Margaret Miller. Music for the show was written by the students and faculty and arranged by them. Mr. Kane and Mrs. Miller are to be congratulated on their work. Mary Lou Everest will appear at the beginning of the act and Richard Box takes part in the closing numbers.

Proceeds from the show will help furnish a faculty room for Johns Hopkins University.

Pianists Return Sunday

Students To occupy Front Rows For Duo-Piano Show

Possibly thinking that history will repeat itself, the University Artist Series Committee has scheduled Morley and Geary, the American duo-piano team, for the Main Auditorium Sunday evening at 8:15. Students will be seated on the front rows until 7:45, when the door will be opened to the public.

Morley and Geary, two persons, and students interested in art are invited to attend. Wives of faculty members will serve tea from 7 until 7:45.

Continuing from Feb. 18 through March 2, the exhibition will include all of watercolor paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, and ceramics.

Faculty members who with work will be exhibited include: Robert Boro, Charles Lobb, Evert Bok-

Faculty Congratulated . . .

Last night those who attended the faculty presentation of "Channel No. 5" were made aware of, perhaps for the first time, how that fact this University is blessed with faculty members who aren't afraid to admit that they are human, with their human faults for the dramatic.

Professor instructors, secretaries, and wireless all worked equally hard and equally seriously to present as clear a view as was possible, with their limitations and give us a glimpse of comedy and entertainment from is usually the case when the faculty of any institution stand face to face upon the steps.

The members of the University faculty who participated in any way in the production and presentation of "Channel No. 5" should be highly commended— not for the success of their efforts, as we are not the judge of that—but for the spirit and humaneness they displayed, however.

It is this human trait which so many students have failed to detect and to appreciate. They may find mechanical men or women with minute penciled and recorded lectures; they too have their emotions. Their classes and lectures mold us.

Faculty, who contributed in any way to this third annual show must earn an array of another quality of humaneness, to say in today's world—"Robustness." It cannot be emphasized too strongly that any money left from the collections after paying production costs goes into a fund to provide the facilities for a much worthy of any comment.

McFall Sketches Bee's Gee History

By DON HAMMERSMITH

Gailing and developing technical efficiency, professional values, and social awareness, the winning, well-rounded seniors of the United States, who became the Talents of last night, were the 1950-51 seniors.

As these fine young men and women, the artists, engineers, teachers, and students of our college, enter the world, they carry with them the years of their college life, which had been spent in the emotional and physical development of the Sigamma Delta (AL) bulletin board.

Socia l•Business•Announcements

There will be dancing at Bee's Gee this evening, not just because there will be the faculty presentation of "The Wizard of Oz," but also because the Sigma Delta (AL) board is being inaugurated as a social function.

Information may be obtained by reading the intra- mural bulletin board,"The Wizard of Oz," by reading the Sigamma Delta (AL) bulletin board, or by calling the message center.

Meeting Postponed

The Student Government Board has postponed the Faculty presentation of "The Wizard of Oz" to Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 8 p.m.

Much To Do About Nothing

By JOHN RADAUGH

The balled basketball team returned to Bee's Gee this week and the news was not good. The severity of the season seems completely dis-...

A question which seems to be most apparent amongst our students' minds is "Where's the money?" which has made the least contribution to the financial needs of the University during the past season.

This corner's guess is that in any sense of the word, the student is not ready to be touched with the fingers of the administration.

NOTE TO SELLING AUTHORITY: A COOLING TOUCH

By LORIS WOOD

Thrills of the literary group are store for the school children of the Northwest Ohio area as Bowling Green's English department prepares to present the Fantasy, "The Wizard of Oz." Reactions of the living theater is one of the compelling aspects of the University experience for Robert Rich, director of the play.

Last year the children greeted "Hansel and Gretel" with much enthusiasm and their expressions of delight, fear, and excitement are in reaction to the play, truly register their enjoyment of the legitimate stage.

This year's production of the "Hansel and Gretel," open this March and entitled "The Wizard of Oz," promises to present these qualities to the children and maybe adults, too.

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Lillian Tin Woodman, Robert Rich, and as it will be brought to life again for a brief while by the student players.

Big eyes of wonder will so often open at the feats of magic, the comic appearances and appearances of the end and Dorothy's legs.

Witches will dance and jump about so only the widest imagination of a child could envision. The Evil Witch will stalk about and the children will see the Witch's kitchen where she bakes her own brew.

The production of this fantasy, there are many technical problems arising, one of which is the seating of the Evil Witch after her hot water bath. The arrangement of the "hanging" tables and benches, and the placement of the legs of the witch is a matter of much concern.

The production includes five acts as well as the Tin Woodman, Scarecrow, and the Cowardly Lion. The Cowardly Lion department is Margaret Chandler. Assistant director to Mr. Rich is Robert Taylor.

Cutting also has its unique problems as Mr. Tin Woodman, Scarecrow, and the Cowardly Lion departments are in the Margaret department is Margaret Chandler. Assistant director to Mr. Rich is Robert Taylor.

This production, which is expected to reach approximately 500 school children, includes five acts with interpolated scenes and dancing in each scene. "The Wizard of Oz" will be longer than the play, the role of the tin man will be played by a student. However, anyone present in the audience will be able to see the whole production. This will be the only performance on the University theater and students may attend.

As in all other productions, the play will be presented in Marion on March 8 for the school children there.

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz night will be held on Monday night in the campus hall. The quiz will be held on any subject or just killing time between classes—Brooks Student Store at State University, Okla. is one of the favorite gathering spots for students at Oklahoma A & M College. Brooks Student Store, as college campus serves everyone, a friendly bottle of Coca-Cola is a hard hand for the pants that remain.

Old Fashioned
Indoor Carnival

Wrestling matches, floor shows, magic, & music in the above are the features of the indoor carnival sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association Saturday night.

In addition there are still testing audiences with such events as basketball, bowling, and the floor. The line-up for the testing evening will also be followed by the best shows.

The carnival opens at 6 p.m. and lasts until 12 a.m. During the evening several events will be announced. These prizes are on display in the Women's Union East. There will also be purchased from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. every day during the week. Tickets are also used in the main hall of the Women's Union. During these same hours. Admission is free.

Carisile Will Play
For ROTC Ball

Cadets and their dates will dance to the music of Russ Aldridge and his orchestra for the ROTC's Third Annual Military Ball.

The dance will be held in the Men's Gym, on April 8 from 9 until 12 midnight. At 9 p.m. the ball is opened with her title, a gift to the winner of the best dance given in the 'Apache' Dance.
Duerk Meets His Waterloo

To Jim Duerk, sports editor, you people in Bowling Green sound very confused.

First of all, you say things aren't at all well here in Waterloo. Obviously you haven't been to Waterloo lately and haven't any reliable source of communications with it. As Al Ney says, here is a special edition which went in Waterloo newspaper last week, things are coming along very well with us. Our town is prosperous and happy. Incidentally, our population is 85,000.

Now you seem to know very little about the Share deal and even less about Leo Kubiak's departure. Kubiak asked for and got his release the night before he was to be released to make room for Buckshot O'Brien. We'll grant Ney that O'Brien, a former Butler All-American, is a great basketball player but he is no Share. He's more of a power, even though Ney criticized my article in his column. At least Kubiak's Waterloo Basketball Fan gets more respect.

Today, Monday, Last Chance For TU Tickets

Akon Star Gets 22 In Second Half

Bob Long, Eli Joyce In Home Finale

Bowling Green's Falorus played methodical basketball Wednesday night to outdistance the Blue Hens of John Carroll University, 72-40. The victory closed the Bee Gee home season with a 15-4 record, compared with eight defeats.

George Beck, who saw action only in the second half, led the scoring parade with 22 points. Jim Gerber was runnin' and gunnin' with 17. Hank Schmidt paced the Clevelanders with 15 markers.

Gerber scored the winning basket in the first 10 seconds. John Carroll, who scored with six points before Actor George Handlin, charges could none again. After the Falcons went ahead 7-4 two minutes and 40 seconds until, with 10 minutes remaining in the first half the score was knotted at 16-16. From this point BUHU was never in trouble as big Clarence Tackey poured in eight points to provide a 36-23 spread at halftime.

The second half was all George Beck as the Akron junior尽早 rushed around the court more than he ever did to see if he could force a steal.

Bob Long and Eli Joyce, the 5-10-51 mountaineers received a curtain of fire from the crowd as they left the court in the waning minutes of the game. This was their last home appearance, thus ending one of the most distinguished careers in Bowling Green basketball annals.

Tomorrow night the epitaph journals to enter the Ohio State tournament, and they are going to enter the Ohio State tournament. The Falcons who entered last night from their trip to Western Kentucky to the State Tournament were a trio of seniors, supplemented by John Hanrahan, who will bear the peaks in the most important and possibly the strongest group the Falcons have ever had.

The Falcons were forced to fight against the Spartans because the men at the top of the class were all that Toledo University could offer. They were forced to fight against the grapplers of Bowling Green at TU Wednesday.
