Artists Series Committee In Quandary; Seeks Advice

The Artist Series Committee is in a dilemma. Members of that Committee are asking the help of students, faculty members, and administration for a question concerning today's News.

The problem confronting the Committee is that of finding a location large enough, yet not too large, and small enough, though not too small, in which to host the programs. For obvious reasons, only two locations are feasible—the Men's Gym and the Main Aud. Last Sunday, the questionnaires went

Dancing Returns To Prom; Senate Corrects Mistake

by JOHN RADAURA

Dancing instead of sitting will again be the practiced policy at the Anniversary Prom.

Tuesday night Monday night reversed its previous decision and decided to have Charlie Spivak instead of Gene Krupa. This change had to be forthcoming if the Prom Committee hoped to have a dance rather than a march.

A much needed change, it was done.

Paradox of the week occurred in Tuesday's issue of the News. A certain columnist was perturbed about the stones in the basketball world. He pointed out that football was often criticized for having no brains in the basketball world.

This column was unexpected, and due to the parochialism of many students, this column did not appear in the Tuesday's issue as it was written.

gan high school 175-pound state champion, and Koz Konig registered the only pins for the Falcons in their array with the Ohioans. Mike Lenzing, Bob Balin, and Jerry Ry- liis totaled the points by grappling for decisions in their matches with the Findley varsity.

VARSITY HIGHLIGHTS

By BILL GREENE
II WILL BE A LONG time before anyone will forget Wednesday's game with TU. BG fans will never forget how the boys caught fire right from the start and built up what seemed to be a comfortable lead. No one will forget how that lead disappeared and where BG was down by 16 points, and where the Falcons made a come back. Nevertheless, the Falcons still reached a 76-69 defeat and went into the lead 42-42. It was too close to all in the stands while the Rockets were dumping in 30 points which were notching only 17.

BEFORE THE GAME, JERRY RUSH, Rocket Coach, was quoted as saying that he had some new ideas to work with in the game. We don't know whether letting us get a 20 point lead was it, but whatever it was it worked. YOU SAW THE GAME ONE IN PARTICULAR during the game. Despite what happened to the Falcons hit three league opponents in a row. As you all know, while theTu's were trying to beat us, we were trying to beat them. The Falcons never gave up and won 69-47.

DEPAUL UNIVERSITY'S star guard State Gardner is Blue Demons' leading scorer. He will be one of the stars tonight in the Chicago Stadium.
