235 Pledges Signed
By 16 Greek Groups

A counting of the fraternity bids shows that a pledge population of 235 has been placed in groups ranging in number from three to 39.

The culmination of about 18 weeks' work became a concrete reality for those engaged in rushing. Much literature has been turned out by various fraternities in the International Fraternity Council in relation to the building of pledges.

A few surprises were witnessed by those of the Council took place and two; growth of pledges. The gues- ging the adherence of deadlines for measuring was required in- formation to the Dean's office. The IFC has announced that other violations will be dealt with accord- ingly.

Debate Team Triumphant
At Oklahoma

A third and triumphant debate team returned to the Bowling Green campus Sunday after a tournament at Stillwater, Oklahoma. The team, under the direction of Debate Coach Harold Miles, was the first Western team to sweepstakes in both the men's and women's events. The team's success was due, in part, to the coaching under the direction of Debate Team Coaches Pat Swineford and Aladar Ellingsen, and in part to the efforts of the team's members.

About The Prom Committee

It appears that at long last a band has been found for the U-A Prom. At this stage of the game the question no longer is "how good is it?" but rather "can we get it?"

Several factors made this year to cause the trouble. The Prom Committee has had to change once. The committee committed one large error, and subsequent ones were logical and had to follow once the original mistake was made. Wally Jones tried to please everyone and ended up with no one really pleased. People are just happy that it is all over now.

Jones and his committee had the power to pick any band they chose and did not have to look for Senates approval on it, for the student body wanted them. But, they went to Senate and asked for Senate and acted accordingly.

First Jann Tussey was to be approached, but a week later dates were chosen because of his high price. Gene King was next, got the bid from Senate atrow vote, but was dropped the following week because of student body instability and precedent. Carl Hulspas was the third choice, but too much time had passed and he was no longer available. Frankie Moneys was the fourth, and too be no very available.

And now DeFranco, who isn't too bad according to the professional magazines which one supposed to know something about it. DeFranco is apparently a young group, but rising fast. Also, he is popular with other schools. Moneys is reported to have him May 4 and Davis sometime later in May.

In total, it would seem that despite much extreme comeback, the Prom Committee didn't do too badly. Considering all, it did the best they could.
