Ergyen To Discuss

Facts and answers to questions pertaining to draft laws and the selection of students for military training will be discussed at open assemblies Wednesday and Thursday afternoons in the Mess Hall, University registrar, will lead the discussions.

Mr. Bond will attempt to explain the University's policy governing deferments. The policy is expected to be utilized as a defense lease sometimes today.

One of the major points to be decided by administrative officials is where to draw the line above which students will be enlisted to finish college and below which students will be drafted into the armed forces.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be information regarding the registration for 1951-52 years, which will be held May 26 and June 16.

To be voted on and ready for presentation to the University on May 26, June 16, and June 24 are:

1. The recommendation by the Veterans' Association that a registrant may be considered for any particular class if he is an eligible male student.

2. A recommendation that whether or not a registrant is considered for a local draft deferment from military service as a student will be decided by the Veterans' Association on May 26, June 16, and June 24.

In order to take this examination, students are advised to keep an up-to-date and detailed list of information, which will include the student's grade point average, the number of credits he has completed, and his name and address.

Applicants will be notified by the student's grade point average and the number of credits he has completed, and his name and address.

A large audience hears Star

The words "She had the listeners in the palm of her hand..." said by the New York Times music critic of Nadine Conner could appropriately have been repeated following her concert Sunday evening in the Men's Gym.

Miss Conner is sincerely charming, both on and off stage, without being theatrical.

This, added to her excellent voice, caused the near-capacity audience to call for six encores and a number of curtain calls.

Eligible Petitions Signed By 78 Students

Students should remember that only one petition per class, but will be open for 20 hours every week, either in the Student Activities Office or in the office of the Student Activities director.

Further, they encourage students to sign the petition, which makes it possible for students to be considered for a local draft deferment from military service as a student.

They shall be submitted at the time of the election for all-campus elections pertaining to the coming year.

The election for all-campus elections pertaining to the coming year will be held on Wednesday, April 24, at 7 p.m., in the Student Activity Center, and will be open to all students.

Dedication Speaker Tells About Future Of Science

By DUANE ZUMBRUNN

War and its effect on the future of science was emphasized Friday by Dr. Ernest H. Wylie, former president of Williams College. Speaking at the dedication of the new Science Library, he recalled that World War II created the need for research by both students and scientists in many fields, and that the program of research which had been initiated by the armed forces had to be continued in the post-war period.

Dr. Wylie pointed out that the need for additional research has not been overcome. He said that the Navy feels that by extending the life of the current program of research, more problems in Europe.

One of the greatest problems in the mind of the speaker concerning the future of science is the need for research by both students and scientists in many fields. The program of research which has been initiated by the armed forces has to be continued in the post-war period.

Official Announcement

Girls now using Williams Hall for housing are invited to the dedication of the new Science Library on Friday, April 13, at 10 or 11 a.m. in the Methodist Church.

The speaker for the evening is Miss Bell Greve, International Secretary of the Cleveland Rehabilitation Center, Cleveland, Ohio, where she has obtained the occupational therapy and physical therapy programs.

Miss Greve traveled extensively during World War II and observed rehabilitation problems in Europe. She was in refugee camps in South America and worked there for a time.

The Navy feels that by extending the life of the current program of research, more problems in Europe can be solved.

The program of research which has been initiated by the armed forces has to be continued in the post-war period.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Three Cheers! The editorial in last Tuesday's "News" clarifying the head situation is a definite step toward better feeling.

It has seemed in the past that "News" editors were overly critical of some of our groves on campus, but this accomplishment of the trials that accompany service to show that people usually do their utmost and are motivated mainly for the sake of their work.

While this incident continued, only the Board of Publications has the power to do so. So I say again, hurray for this more understanding attitude.

Sincerely,

Dick Daley

Stellermen Out For Revenge Today

As Ohio State Invades 8G Campus

Baseball Mentor Warren Steller has nominated Lou Jones, Falcon hurler, to start today's game with Ohio State. It will be the first home game of the year for BG. The Buckeyes dropped the Falcons 2-0 in Columbus Saturday. In all probability, the same lineup that faced the Bucks in Columbus Saturday will take the field today for Bowling Green.

Saturda's game was a hard one for the Falcons to lose. Except for a little spot-ty fumbling in the infield a couple of times, the Falcons couldn't have played much better ball.

Ray Hegstrom, starting the game and went all the way, allowing three hits while striking out five.

These problems, of which, the majority of Bowling Green students are unaware, lie in the hands of our active Athletic Committee. But each and every student should be vitally concerned, especially since he has helped directly to bring about the existing situation.

This crisis severely threatens not only Bowling Green's national athletic prestige, but also the functioning of the entire athletic program. Individually, it threatens the enrollment of the University, because in a fact that much of BG's prestige has been gained by the accomplishments of its athletic teams.

It is the fact that the enrollment must hereafter follow such World War II because of these main elements.

Midterms Fail To Interfere With Campus Social Life

By ANGIE PALEOMI

In spite of the pressure of midterms, social activities have not been overlooked this week. Students took time from their books to give parties and entertain dinner guests.

Phi Mu entertained the Kappa Sigma at a Rodeo Party Friday evening. The guests were kept busy rolling their own cigarettes, lassoing the "Phi Mule," and looking for a "needle in the haystack." A prize was awarded to the couple dressed with the closest resemblance to the Zeta Beta Tau "Twins" Party Saturday night.

Several times took to entertain freshmen this week-end. The Alpha Xi Delta gave a party to the Alpha Sigma Phi's Sunday afternoon, while the Alpha Chi Omega's entertained the Pi Kappa Alpha Friday night.

Pledge parties are beginning to appear on the calendar; the Alpha Xi Delta pledges party Friday night, while the Alpha Tau Omega's held their party Saturday afternoon.

Kappa Sigma's from Kett State are entertaining the Gamma Phi's Sunday night, while the Alpha Xi Delta's gave a party Saturday night.

Sigma Alpha Eta Installs Officers

Margaret Bums was installed as president of Sigma Alpha Eta, speech and hearing honorary, when the group elected officers on March 21.

The new officers, installed by former president, Susan Whitter, include Phyllis Robbins, vice president; Maryln Rutledge, recording secretary; and Emily Foster, treasurer.

Next meeting of the group will be held at 11 a.m. on March 26 in the Gore Smith Building.
