Political Rally Tomorrow Night

Elections Thursday
For Senate Offices

An old-fashioned political rally, complete with speeches and music, will take place tomorrow at 8 p.m. in front of the Men's Gym as ten candidates vie for the post of Student Senate officials.

Unlike the former popularity contests, the candidates will be able to use and hear aspiring officers' statements, as well as platforms for the positions of president, junior, and treasurer.

There were no candidates for the position of senior officer. Election day will be Thursday.

Assistant Business Manager Bob Taylor will be the master of ceremonies.

A final decision will be made on Saturday night with a banquet at the Commons.

Applications are now available for the positions of editor-in-chief, business manager, and features editor of The News. Applicants can also be of any rank. The final decision will be made by the Editors-in-Chief.

Political Rally

Something new to this campus occurs tomorrow night. Under the auspices of Student Senate, the Elections Committee is staging a political rally.

This is undoubtedly a good move. At this campus where the student body have been shown by complaints that they desired a better and stronger student government, this rally is a little too small to reach those goals.

Elections in the past have, by and large, been little more than popularity polls and the temporary grouping together of communications into conditions for holding the office of the student government. Under such a system, the average voter had no way of knowing who was the most qualified candidate. All campaigns emphasized, and still is, to a large extent, based upon personal traits of the candidates before the voting public.

Little beyond vague references to the candidate’s ability was mentioned. A voter marked the ballot knowing little more about the candidate than the social affiliation and possibly that he or she had lived in the same community.

During the rally Thursday, if the student body doesn’t respond by a hundred or so those who long for real spring weather.

BG Trackmen Conquer Broncs; Meet OU Today

Dashman Bill Jordan faces Falcons Here

Coach Dave Matthews, the Bowling Green Falcons' track coach, fresh from a Saturday triumph over Western Michigan, takes his protégés to Athens today for a meet with Ohio University.

The Bobcats stand in the way of Bill Jordan's second win of the season after the Falcons' win last week and a second-place finish at L-C.

Willie Jordan, BG speedster, is shown sprinting across the finish line Saturday in his meet. His time for the 100-yard dash was 10.2. Finishing second behind Jordan is Ernie Jackson.

The Falcon baseball team dropped its second game in as many starts last Friday as Kent State won 2-0, behind the three-hitter of Russ Stahlman.

The Falcons were limited to five hits, four by Bill Stough and one by Dick Cooper, but Kent put two of those hits together with a couple of Falcon errors in the sixth inning to win.

The Falcons' defense will make its second attempt at stopping a team from Michigan. The Bobcats have hit the ball 102 times in the first two games of the series.

Dayton Tramples BG In Scrub Game

Bowling Green's football team found it was a bit too early in the year to play the University of Dayton last Saturday. The Falcons, allowing their spring training drills, dropped a 21-6 contest to the Flyers.

Pete defense, one of Bowling Green's strong points, was at its best level. Four of Dayton's five TDs came through the air with Frank Riggins doing the throwing. Bowling Green drew inside of Dayton's 8-yard line twice, but was unable to score.

Richter Pont, Fred Durtig, and Bob Deitl showed some promise in the Falcon backfield, but lack of experience was evident. The work of Freshmen Jim Ladd at end and also was pleasing to Coach Bob Whitaker.

Johnny Vuketic, former Illinois defensive end, scored two of the Flyers' touchdowns. From Riggins. Riggins also hit Dick Betthead and Jim Corr with scoring aerials.

Don’t test one brand alone...compare them all!

Unlike others, we never ask you to test our brand alone. We say compare PHILIP MORRIS...match PHILIP MORRIS...judge PHILIP MORRIS against any other cigarette! Then make your own choice!

TRY THIS TEST!

Take a-four and any other cigarette. Then, here's what you do:

1. Light up both.  Take a few puffs and hold—hale and hearty let the smoke come through your nose.
2. Now do exactly the same thing with the other cigarettes.

Notice that PHILIP MORRIS is definitely less irritating, definitely milder!

Money Spent On Campaigning Inspires Reporter's Question

BY PAT OSBORN

Do you think a financial limit should be placed on election campaigning at Bowling Green?

As election season gets into full swing here, it is beginning to seem that bigger and more elaborate campaigns are being put on by every group, fraternities, little speakers, and others. Many students have appeared in professorial rhetoric about the necessity of a limit on the money that can be spent and the necessity of a limit on the amount of time that can be spent in campaigning, but not everyone seems to be interested. The limit on money spend seem to be the most popular.

Robert Krger, freshman, Coral casa, N. Y.: "Yes. Each student should be put on election expenditure or not. There should be a limit on how much money they have to spend, and a definite limit should be set, the top being determined on the campaign they're running for."

Luis Rowles, freshman, Coral casa, N. Y.: "I think the campaigns are too elaborate for any good use."

Dick Kolczewski, freshman, Eric, Pa.: "Since the fraternity system spends an equal amount of money each year, there should be a limit on how much the fraternity should vary with the office."
