1-22-1990

Monitor Newsletter January 22, 1990

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/1000

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Faculty Senate invites all members during the Senate meeting to consider a resolution of thanks to President Dr. Keith Doellinger for his years of service as a member of the faculty. Among the resolutions for Dr. Doellinger's contributions was a thought of gratitude. The Senate voted to send a letter to Dr. Doellinger to express their thanks for his dedication and hard work. It was decided to also send a personal letter to Dr. Doellinger to recognize his contributions to the university.

Lillian Gish makes fourth contribution

Lillian Gish, the silent film actress, has made her fourth contribution to the campus. She has donated her personal collection of letters and photographs to the university archives. The collection includes letters from other famous silent film actors and actresses, as well as photographs of the stars of the silent film era. This is the latest of Gish's contributions to the university, following a series of previous donations that have included a large collection of letters and photographs from other famous silent film actors and actresses. Gish's contributions have been instrumental in preserving the history of the silent film era and have helped to increase the university's reservoir of silent film materials.

Faculty tables resolve table resolution lack confidence in President Olscamp's leadership

The Faculty Senate made a resolution to express lack of confidence in President Olscamp's leadership. The resolution stated that the Senate had lost confidence in Olscamp's leadership and that the university community had no confidence in Olscamp's ability to lead the institution. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 9 to 0, with 1 abstention. The resolution was signed by all members of the Faculty Senate.

Emch wins greenback for idea using her greenbough

Emch, a member of the university faculty, has won a greenback for her idea using her greenbough. She submitted her idea to a competition, and it was selected as the winner. Emch's idea was to use the greenbough as a natural resource to be used in the construction of buildings. The greenbough is a type of wood that is found in the region and is known for its durability and strength. Emch's idea was selected from a pool of over 100 submissions, and she was awarded a prize of $500 for her idea.
Commentary

Editor, The Mentor

Speaking on behalf of the board, I am surprised by the recent presentation and lack of board participation. The board members have been consistently absent from our meetings and we are unable to make any decisions.

The University's Student Services are in dire need of improvement. Parking and housing issues are causing significant stress for students. The board has failed to address these concerns.

Faculty members are requesting more resources to support their research. However, the board has continuously denied these requests. The board's lack of commitment to higher education is concerning.

The University's financial situation is worsening. Despite record-high tuition fees, the university is struggling to attract students. The board's inaction is unacceptable.

Worse, the board has failed to address the growing concerns about sexual harassment on campus. Reports of incidents continue to occur, but the board has not taken appropriate action.

The mentor board is calling for significant changes in the current board's management style. We urge the board to commit to transparency, accountability, and student-focused decision-making.

Editor, The Mentor
Commentary

Editor: the Mentor
Speaking on behalf of the board, I am surprised by the neglect (pursued and labeled) of the University faculty. Particularly dismayed that it was not preserved or Dr. Alberson’s absence. I cannot say strongly enough that the board has failed to have an outstanding prospect. After eight years as the secretary of the board of trustees, I feel that the current administration is lacking in academic freedom and shared governance. These things are a matter of public concern and I suggest that the motion be rejected.

Warren Folk, President of the Board of Trustees

ASC hears shuttle service report; discusses committee structure

The University’s Shuttle Committee recently met to discuss the monthly parking rate change, which is due to take place Sept. 1. This is the first time the committee has met for this fiscal year.

The committee also discussed the possibility of adding a new shuttle service to accommodate students during the busy fall semester. A motion was made to purchase two additional shuttle buses, which was seconded and approved by the committee.

The shuttle service will be available during the fall semester, and additional shuttles will be added as needed. The committee is committed to ensuring that all students have access to convenient transportation on campus.

Faculty/Staff grants

The University’s Faculty/Staff Grant Committee recently met to discuss the criteria for the next round of funding. The committee has decided to award grants to five projects, which were selected based on their potential to advance the university’s research mission.

The faculty/staff grants are designed to support research and creative activity among faculty and staff members. The grants range from $5,000 to $10,000 and are available to support projects in any area of the university’s mission.

The committee is committed to ensuring that the grants are used to support high-quality research and creative work, and to promote the university’s academic and research mission.

Economic Analysis of TIAA-CREF

The TIAA-CREF retirement program is the largest employer-sponsored retirement program in the United States. The program offers a wide range of retirement savings options, including defined benefit plans, defined contribution plans, and annuities.

The TIAA-CREF retirement program is available to all employees of the University, and offers a variety of features designed to help employees save for retirement.

The TIAA-CREF retirement program is managed by TIAA-CREF, a leading provider of retirement services.

Dossiers on local and national issues

Dossiers on a variety of local and national issues have been compiled and are available for reference. These dossiers cover topics such as climate change, economic development, and social justice.

The dossiers are available in both digital and print formats, and are organized by topic and region. They provide a comprehensive overview of the issues, including background information, data, and policy recommendations.

Girls in Science

The University has launched a new program to encourage girls to pursue careers in science. The program offers a variety of resources, including mentorship, workshops, and career development opportunities.

The program is designed to address the gender gap in science, which has been well documented. The program is supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

More on the University's response to the COVID-19 pandemic

The University has taken a number of steps to ensure the safety of its students, faculty, and staff during the COVID-19 pandemic.

These steps include testing, contact tracing, and vaccination. The University has also implemented a number of other measures, such as social distancing, mask-wearing, and limited capacity in buildings.

The University is committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for all members of its community.

Gayومية رمزية

The conference on Islamic studies was held at the University of Sharjah. The conference attracted scholars from around the world, and covered a wide range of topics, including history, politics, and culture.

The conference was organized by the Islamic Studies Department at the University of Sharjah. The event was attended by a number of high-ranking officials from the UAE and other countries.

Next stop: Tmall

Tmall, the largest online marketplace in China, recently announced that it will open a new office in the United States. The office will be located in Los Angeles, and will focus on expanding Tmall’s presence in the U.S.

Tmall is a B2C marketplace that connects Chinese brands with U.S. consumers. The company is continually expanding its reach, and now serves customers in over 220 countries.

The new U.S. office will allow Tmall to better understand and meet the needs of U.S. consumers, and to expand its product offerings. The company is also looking to partner with U.S. brands and retailers, and to strengthen its relationships with existing customers.

The opening of the new office is a testament to Tmall’s global ambitions, and its commitment to providing a seamless shopping experience for consumers around the world.
Audition for the Hunton Playhouse Company
The Hunton Playhouse Company is seeking actors to perform in their upcoming season. Auditions will be held from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Main Library. Interested actors are encouraged to prepare a monologue or a song and to bring a headshot and resume. Applications for auditions can be picked up at the Main Library or downloaded from the Hunton Playhouse Company website. The deadline for auditions is February 28. For more information, contact Dr. Duane Whitmire at 372-2927.

Roundtable meets
Computer Services will hold its first Administrative Microcomputer Roundtable meeting on the second Thursday of each month. The next meeting will be held on February 25 at 3:00 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Computer Services building. The meeting will focus on the topic of office automation and will include a presentation on the latest office productivity software. All interested individuals are encouraged to attend.

Clarification noted
In clarification of a story on the campus' computing policy that appeared in the January 15 issue of the Blade, Dr. Joseph Gray, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. John Oberlander, dean of the College of Business Administration, have said that the story was not accurate. They noted that the story contained errors and that they were recommended to the privacy of their offices.

Faculty/Staff positions
The following faculty positions are available:

- Assistant Professor of Psychology: Contact Doug Nesbitt (D-359), Deadline: March 1 or until filled.
- Assistant Professor of Accounting: Contact Sue Maloney (D-359), Deadline: March 15 or until filled.
- Assistant Professor of Computer Science: Contact Faculty Search Committee, Deadline: March 1 or until filled.
- Assistant Professor of English: Contact Doug Nesbitt (D-359), Deadline: March 1 or until filled.

The following administrative positions are available:

- Assistant Director of Public Relations: Contact Doug Nesbitt (D-359), Deadline: Feb. 1.
- Assistant Director of Development: Contact President's Office, Deadline: Feb. 1.
- Assistant Director of Career Development Center: Contact President's Office, Deadline: Feb. 1.
- Assistant Director of Community Relations: Contact President's Office, Deadline: Feb. 1.

Faculty Senate officers resign; on-call meeting set for Jan. 30
The Faculty Senate has agreed to hold a special meeting on January 30 at 11:00 a.m. in the basement of the Union Building. The meeting will be held in response to the resignation of several faculty members. The special meeting will be held to consider the resignation of several faculty members and to discuss the future of the Faculty Senate. The meeting will be open to the public, and all interested faculty members are encouraged to attend.

The meeting will be held in the Union Building, and all interested faculty members are encouraged to attend. The meeting will be held in response to the resignation of several faculty members. The special meeting will be held to consider the resignation of several faculty members and to discuss the future of the Faculty Senate. The meeting will be open to the public, and all interested faculty members are encouraged to attend.

Firelands College arboretum continues to 'grow'
The original vision plan for Firelands College's arboretum was approved by the Ohio Board of Regents in 1980. The arboretum, which is the college's second arboretum and is located on the college's main campus, is designed to provide an educational resource for students and the community. The arboretum consists of several gardens and a greenhouse that are open to the public. The greenhouse is used to grow plants and flowers for the college's landscaping projects. The arboretum is also used as a teaching tool for students in the college's horticulture program. The arboretum is open to the public on weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The arboretum is located at 1000 Cleveland Road, Firelands College, Lorain, Ohio 44053-0001. For more information, contact the Firelands College arboretum office at 440-246-2222.

Black history celebrated with a variety of events
The Black History Month celebration at Firelands College was held in February. The celebration included a variety of events, including a film screening, a panel discussion, and a concert. The film screening included the screening of a documentary about the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The panel discussion was held in the Union Building and included a discussion of the civil rights movement and the role of Dr. King in the movement. The concert was held in the auditorium of the Union Building and included a performance by a local band. The celebration was sponsored by the Firelands College Student Government and the Firelands College Black Student Union. For more information, contact the Firelands College Student Government or the Firelands College Black Student Union at 440-246-2222.

Other highlights in February include a lecture by Dr. Charles Ferguson at 7:00 p.m. in Kreischer Dining Hall. The lecture is sponsored by the Firelands College Department of History and is open to the public. For more information, contact the Firelands College Department of History at 440-246-2222.