Fall Faculty tables resolution table缺乏信心 in President Olsom's leadership

The Faculty Senate in its Jan. 15 meeting tabled consideration of a resolution that expresses lack of confidence in the leadership of President Olsom. At the meeting, which would be the third in the series, debate was held on the resolution, including the above entitled, on a pie chart by Maryann Rossi. The chart has been extended to 10:30 p.m., 10:30 p.m. and includes the views of other departmental chairmen. The faculty Senate was "willing to be the judge" whether the issues concerning the President and faculty determine to support the action, many by students by surprise.

"This is a serious business, so we were not expecting this kind of reaction, so we are not going to be more than one word," said one observer concerned. It was a new resolution that there was not a resolution in the advance that there were not the resolutions on the agenda.

"I do not see a good situation, that there was not a resolution in the advance that there were not the resolutions on the agenda."

Commentary

Editor, the Mentor

Speaking on behalf of the board, I am sure by this motion (presented and passed) that the Faculty of the University of Bowling Green has been so ably represented that it was present in Dr. Obcince’s absence. I cannot say strongly enough that the board of trustees has made an outstanding proposal. After eight years of the depression, there exists a necessity for education, academic freedom and shared governance. These things are a matter of public policy, and I suggest that the motion is voted against.

ASC hears shuttle service report: discusses committee structure

The University's Shuttle Committee met last week to discuss a number of issues and make some changes in the operation of its service. The changes included a proposal to add designated visitors to the shuttle service, as well as a request for additional funding. The committee also discussed the structure of the shuttle service and made some recommendations for improvement.

Dr. Gary Albritton, the Director of the University Union, was present at the meeting and received a response. He discussed the importance of the shuttle service in providing access to the University Union and other campus facilities. He also emphasized the need for additional funding to support the shuttle service.

The shuttle service is currently operated by the University Union and uses a fleet of three vans. The vans are staffed by University Union employees and are available to any member of the Bowling Green community. The shuttle service operates on a regular schedule and covers the entire campus.

The shuttle service is a popular means of transportation for students, faculty, and staff. It provides a convenient and cost-effective way to travel around the campus and to access campus facilities.

Faculty/Staff grants

Contact the Office of Academic Affairs to learn more about grants available for the Faculty and Staff of the University. The Office of Academic Affairs provides funding for faculty and staff research, creative work, and professional development. The University has a number of grants available that support these activities.

Faculty/Staff recognitions

The University will recognize outstanding faculty and staff members at the annual Faculty/Staff Recognition ceremony. The ceremony will be held on April 1st, 2023 at 3:00 PM in the University Union. The ceremony will include presentations of awards and recognition for faculty and staff members who have made significant contributions to the University.

Faculty/Staff news

Visit the University's website for the latest news and updates about the faculty and staff of the University. The website provides information about upcoming events, research opportunities, and other news of interest to the faculty and staff.

Williams from the past

At the same time, he thinks the number of people interested in the Williams story is limited. "There's a lot of interest in the Williams story," he said. "We have to keep the perspective that it's a university story."

He also said that he would see this as an opportunity to introduce new programs between the various colleges on campus. "We need to be very careful that we don't lose sight of the big picture," he said.

Emich from the past

After realizing the savings in the program, the University decided to issue a reminder to all students about the idea of the Share of Savings initiative. It was found that there was no need to worry about the idea of the Share of Savings, as it was a nice surprise. "She said, "We're making a lot more money.""

Chris Schoen, chair of the Share of Savings committee, suggested that the group would be interested in exploring ways to expand the program for the foreseeable future. "We know that there are no limits on this," he said. "We're going to keep it going."

A joint event between the Shockey Foundation and the University of Bowling Green. "I am surprised by this motion." (Presented and passed)

Hess to deliver Distinguished Research Lecture

Dr. Hess is a well-known researcher in the field of psychology and his work has been published in numerous journals. His research focuses on the areas of cognitive development,ocial cognition, and decision making.

Submit proposals for development grants

Faculty members are reminded that February 15th is the deadline for Faculty Development Grants. These grants are available to faculty members to support their research, creative work, and professional development. The deadline for proposals is February 15th, 2023 at 11:59 PM. Faculty members are encouraged to submit proposals for these grants to support their work.
Editor, The Mentor

Speaking on behalf of the board, I am surprised by the recent (presented and passed) amendments that were proposed at the December meeting. The amendments that were proposed threaten the autonomy and academic freedom of the faculty. It is encouraging to note that the vote was 90 to 10 in favor of retaining the autonomy of the faculty.

The university has a strong tradition of academic freedom and autonomy. The amendments proposed would limit the ability of the faculty to engage in research and teaching activities that are not aligned with the administration's goals. This would be a significant setback for the university's mission of providing a high-quality education to its students.

I urge the administration to reconsider these amendments and to work with the faculty to ensure that the university's academic freedom and autonomy are protected. The faculty plays a crucial role in the success of the university and its students. It is important that their autonomy and freedom are respected.

ASC hears shuttle service report; discusses committee structure

The University's Shuttle Committee has heard a report on the shuttle service and plans to discuss the committee structure at its next meeting.

The shuttle service has been characterized by frequent delays and cancellations. The committee has discussed the need for better communication and coordination between the shuttle service and the administration.

The shuttle committee will meet again in the near future to discuss the committee structure and to address concerns raised by the shuttle service. The committee hopes to work with the administration to improve the shuttle service and ensure that it meets the needs of the university community.

The shuttle service has been operating since 2015 and has experienced a number of challenges. The administration has committed to finding solutions to improve the service.

The shuttle committee has also discussed the need for a more formalized structure to ensure that the committee can function effectively.
