AFROTC Unit To Hold Annual Air Symposium April 24

By RON BLASE

"Ohio has made a greater contribution to the Air Force than any other state in the nation," says Lt. Col. Carl G. Arnold, professor of air science. To point out the achievements made through progress, the Bowling Green Air Force ROTC Unit will present its first Annual Air Symposium April 24.

"According to the Wright-Patterson Air Force Research Center at Dayton, Ohio, says Col. Arnold, "this is the first time that an organization within the ROTC units has undertaken such a project. The purpose of this symposium is to relate the phases of aviation and its contributions to society,"

1. Development of Civilian Transport System, which will show the progress the United States has made in air transportation from the beginning of powered flight to the use of aircraft capable of reaching the speed of sound.

3. Major Air Commands. A Strategic Air Command, Tactical Air Command, and Air Defense Command, all primarily concerned with our country's defense.

4. Air Force. Some of the duties and techniques used in the protection and rescue of personnel and citizens.

5. Aircraft Propulsion. A discussion of modern aircraft such as jet engines, which will be described.

6. The Air Academy. This exhibit will cover the essentials of flight training, and the curriculum, and other important aspects of academic life at the Academy. The symposium will depict our country's future 1--7 leadership needs.

7. The Air Force ROTC. Some of the requirements for ROTC officers are B.S. degrees. A discussion will be held as to how graduates are trained in conjunction with university training courses.

8. The Air Force Association. A nationwide organization, which is primarily a civilian orientation, dedicates itself to the promotion of the understanding of America's Air Force for the benefit of the organization.

9. Air Force Reserve. A display will demonstrate the organization of the Reserve and how it is a ready source of trained, qualified and dedicated personnel. The Reserve will demonstrate the worth of its operation and its usefulness.

In Our Opinion

Intellectual Freedom

Friday’s meeting of the University chapter of the American Library Association Professors with the main title, "Intellectual Freedom," merited unusual interest because of recent developments in the national organization concerning academic freedom. The gathering was held in the lecture hall of the University because of the absence of faculty members by themselves for discussion reasons. The meeting was well-attended and the discussions were remains silent while under fire for possible Communist conspiracies.

The University of California, Ohio State, Rutgers, Temple, Oklahoma, St. Louis University, North Dakota Agricultural College, and Philip’s Jefferson Medical College were promptly censured after the organization, the previous meeting, had been held. The censure was voted on because it was decided that the only grounds for the censure was because of a “lack of scholarship, lack of leadership, lack of cooperation, and use of the classroom or of academic prestige, gross personal misconduct, or conscious participation against the government.

The special committee which made the recommendations said that the censure should not be lifted. Their decision means that a school would not have the right to fire a faculty member who admits to being a member of the Communist Party, unless he was proved guilty as a fellow member.

The reaction of the censored schools was varied with some walking out, and most bitterly attacking the AAUP. Professor Bixby of Antioch College will discuss intellectual freedom Friday before faculty members, and the occasion might give the faculty chapter an opportunity to study the actions of its national group which censured the University.

Approval of Ballots; Proposed Amendments

The third car did not start just after midday on Monday. The reaction of the censured schools was varied with some walking out, and most bitterly attacking the AAUP. Professor Bixby of Antioch College will discuss intellectual freedom Friday before faculty members, and the occasion might give the faculty chapter an opportunity to study the actions of its national group which censured the University.

The News’ advisor, Robert A. Steffen, was recognized for his services to the association, and, justly so, as a retiring member of the board of directors. The recognition came as an opportunity time, for Mr. Steffen will do postgraduate work next year outside of Ohio, where he also plans to spend some time with OCN at a temporary base.

University Faculty Holds Sr. Vice-Presidency

The charter of the University Faculty Association, a group recently formed to represent the professional and administrative personnel of the University, was accepted by the University, as an advisory body, on the advice of the vice-president of the group.

The members decided to enter the University Faculty Association by participating in the convention starting April 14, and that the group of sponsors would be numbering the an all-sports golf tournament. It would bring out a suggestion in the faculty’s circumstances, had the University Faculty Association.

Falcons Lose To Redskins, Moorehead Sets New Record

The Falcons won eight of the fifteen events, but Miami swept the 880, mile, and two-mile for twenty-seven points, and the meet. Speaker Ford Lennox was the only double winner for the Falcons, winning the 110 in 10.8, and the 220 in 23.6. Lennox also teamed with Bob Smith, Larry Kent, and Jerry Sue to win the mile relay in 3:36.3.
