Electoral Explanation
With all the recent confusion concerning the proposed nominations and endorsements of candidates and that was originally scheduled for April 11, re-scheduled for April 23, and now postponed indefinitely, perhaps the existence of this cause can be clarified.

The original date, April 11, was changed because it was too close to final examination periods, according to the election committee.

The re-scheduled date, April 23, was dropped because of a request to hold a meeting in the Bee Hall that same night concerning concerns of information to campus organizations concerning recommendations and possible positions in policy for University social functions.

The elections committee agreed to a new date because it was pointed out that the meeting would tend to increase interest and stimulate the most qualified students.

And things might have gone well had not a clerical error made by no one connected with the election decided the question of who the candidates would be for that date and the weekly and monthly calendars.

The re-scheduling of April 23, work the election committee for the month, except that no one connected with the election decided the question of who they were.

The committees are engaged in the decision of who they think the right man for the right job. This has caused almost all committees of the several dorms under construction or planned for the future, or attend classes on the Hall of Music, but their thoughts are altogether in relation to the overall scheme. If we look at expansion from this view point, we would be more interested.

We may see the interior of the new room, a room under construction or planned for the future, or attend classes on the Hall of Music, but they are little opinions in relation to the overall scheme.

If anyone grandly imposes inconvenience, to others a hardship.

The University is expanding rapidly, and with this growth the students enrolled are making a sacrifice to all future students, but what we forego here is more compared with what others have put aside so that we might enjoy their present.

The practice of self-sacrifice is certainly not a modern invention. It is one of the common-sense ideas in the past have given us the standards by which we live, as our sacrifices will set the pattern for future generations.

Those of us who are given union, crowded classrooms and classes that begin on the half hour, in the light of the preceding. Is it necessary any more than the students do we have to sacrifice ourselves in regard to an even more dynamic future?

This is the mind, the small detours through campus, amid other less suitable conditions, because more concessions.

Expansion Changes

The University in expanding rapidly, and with this growth there is bound to be new positions, new methods and realization of time, talent and facilities. Too many of us, this seems to be more than we number will.

Now, neither date is correct anyhow, and the amount of work done by the election committee is for naught, except that it gave the students need for more proper communications among all facets of University life, and the placing of responsibilities.

The practice of self-sacrifice is certainly not a modern invention. It is one of the common-sense ideas in the past have given us the standards by which we live, as our sacrifices will set the pattern for future generations.

Frisch's Delegate To ECU?

By Richard Budd

A Bowling Green delegate, Miss Frisch, is selected for the days of the Convocation this year and she, and other girls will sail from New York City, will attend the Convocation.

The three girls are United States delegate and member of the International Student Camp of the Girl's Friendly Society, as representatives of English young women from 25 countries.

The U. S. delegates will stay two weeks in the camp in Switzerland, and spend the remaining two weeks traveling and visiting institutions among all facets of University life, and the placing of responsibilities.
