McDonald Calls Union Heathstone

By GEORGE DUNN

Before speaking to 1,000 persons attending the dedication luncheon for the University President, Ralph W. McDonald dedicated the $2,750,000 structure to the students of the University. After the dedication speech, the President stated, "I believe Ohio must develop its public education, its basic education, its secondary education, its elementary education. We must develop its high school education, its university education, its community education, its adult education, its vocational education. We must develop our educational system, our educational institutions, our educational facilities."

The speech was the highlight of the luncheon which began at 12:30 Saturday afternoon. Following the dedication program began at 1:00 when the luncheon was served. Dr. Robert D. Gordon, Dr. Robert D. Gordon, who is the son of the late Dr. Robert D. Gordon, who is the President of the University, was the guest speaker. Dr. Gordon is the Director of the Department of Languages and Literature.

The luncheon was held in the University Union, and the speeches were made by the President, the President-elect, and the President-elect-elect.

The luncheon was attended by a large number of guests, including the Board of Trustees, the faculty, and the alumni. The speeches were well-received, and the atmosphere was friendly and harmonious.
Speaking

Time Will Tell

The long awaited opening of the University Union has come and gone and the actual happenings and their significance are now only of historical interest. In the archives of the University, we can objectively see what, if anything, is missing and what needs to be accomplished for future Union plans.

However, we must not forget that the multi-million dollar structure is not yet fully functional. It is not only the time for everyday association with the Union, but also for the long-run. In this context it would be ridiculous for us to assume that everything we want to achieve in the Union will be perfect and operate to perfection in every degree, we must not lose sight of the fact that the human element is involved in such things.

Yet, we, as members of the University family, must be willing to be patient and tolerant until we can clearly and objectively see what, if anything, is missing and what needs to be accomplished to attain this perfection.

The teachers, the students, and the guests must understand that in the respect we must not make hasty decisions based on the past three days of actual Union operation. If we take the time to analyze and evaluate we will bring forth sound and constructive thinking which, in the long run, will enable the Union to reach far greater heights than we ever thought possible.

An Aquatic Anthology is Swan Club Theme

By SHERRY CARSON

The narrator rides the music start, and the Spanish matadors, 56 in all, march to the edge of the pool to open the 16th annual Swan Club water show, "An Aquatic Anthology," which will be presented three nights, April 17 through 19, at 8:15 p.m. in the Natatorium. The matadors, complete with red mantillas, 36 in all, march to the edge of the pool to open the show.

The show will climax over two months' work on the part of the United Christian Fellowship Bowling Crew Station, WFIN, The Republican, Ohio Oil Co., the Findlay radio stations, WHIS, the Bowling Counter, and the Findlay Enquirer.

ARCHERY CLUB

There will be instructions for three meetings during the period from April 14 through 19 for members of the Archery Club. The range will be open every day, Monday through Friday, weather permitting, from 3:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.
Dances, Luncheon, Academic Convocation Highlight Union Opening

JOHN W. HUSS, director of residential and plant operations, leads the student faculty procession past the Union in the Massed Procession to the academic convocation. During the convocation, which took place on Saturday, four honorary degrees were conferred.

THE GRAND BALLROOM of the University Union was officially unveiled last Friday evening when an estimated 1,800 persons filled the floor to dance to the "swinging music this side of heaven." In all, an estimated 4,500 persons attended the two dances in the gigantic ballroom which constitutes a third of an acre of first space enclosed by columns.

THE FIRST FAMILY of the University, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald, spend a relaxed few minutes talking with the first family of the State of Ohio, Governor and Mrs. C. William O'Neill, in the banqueting room of the Union.

Only a portion of the more than 1,000 persons who attended the dedication luncheon are pictured in this view taken from the balcony of the Grand Ballroom. Entire students, faculty members, alumni, and friends of the University the multi-million dollar structure was officially turned over to the University by the contractors and state officials.
