Folklorist To Discuss "Lincoln's Myth Tonight"

Francis Lee Utley, a renowned folklorist, will speak on "The Myth of Lincoln's" in the Dogwood Suite at 8 p.m., tonight in a program sponsored by the folklore program, Books and Coffee Club, and the American studies program.

Dr. Utley, a member of the English Dept., at the Ohio State University, has been awarded three Guggenheim Foundation fellowships. He has recently been a Fulbright lecturer in Italy, Sweden, England and Finland.

Dr. Utley will examine Lincoln and the traditions and tales which are told about him. Using the criteria formulated by, Gerald Haslam in "The Hero," Professor Utley contends that President Lincoln is only a bit of American, and that his traditional identity is no more real than King Arthur, Moses, or other national-cultural heroes.

Dr. Utley is president of the American Folklore Society.

International - recognized filmmaker Gregory Maropoulos will present a collection of prize-winning experimental American films here April 30 and May 1.

Mrs. Maropoulos won the Silvestri Award for experimental films and the Pioneer Award for overall contribution to the film industry at the Chicago International Film Festival last year. His "Twice A Man" won a top prize at the International Experimental Film Competition in Belgium in 1963, and apparently were speaking of the same plane.

He will lead a discussion, April 30 on six short films which represent the "New experimental Cinema" movement, according to Dr. Daniels. He said the film is "a novel way of representing the stream-of-consciousness technique of James Joyce."}

Red China Claims U.S. Plane Downed

The forecast for today is variable cloudsiness with a chance of scattered showers during the afternoon. High 42-52. Mostly cloudy and mild with scattered showers tonight.

TOKYO (AP) - Red China claimed yesterday its air force shot down an American military plane on the Chinese mainland. A broadcast by the official New China News Agency reported here described the aircraft as an A-3B attack plane.

In Washington, the Defense Department said a U.S. Navy tanker plane, a modified A-3B known as a KA-3B, was overdue on a flight from the Philippines to South Vietnam.

The Defense Department did not refer to the Chinese claim. Both Peking and Washington said they have nothing to add about the loss of the tanker. Apparently they are speaking of the same plane.

The KA-3B normally has a crew of three, according to the Washington Post.

Peking said the plane was shot down by Communist fighters over Kwangsi Province, which faces North Viet Nam across the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon said the tanker plane left the Philippines yesterday for the South China Sea, which is called the "Spratly Hawks," which is cruising off South Viet Nam. It did not indicate whether the tanker was armed.

Washington sources said if the tanker did cross Red Chinese territory, it probably was due to a navigational error.

A second Peking broadcast charged that on April 7 four U.S. planes attacked Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin, killing two fishermen and wounded 15.

Peking said the strongest possible protest has been made and also called the sending of "a heavy military plane" into air space over China's mainland "an open violation of China's sovereign rights."

SAIGON (AP) - Two Americans were killed and 34 wounded in a pre-dawn mortar attack on Saigon's giant Tan Son Nhat air base yesterday.

The air base, located just outside the city, came under attack yesterday afternoon as mortar explosions ripped through the base and destroyed two Vietnamese C-47 cargo planes and touched off the field's fuel dump. Other planes, American and Vietnamese, were damaged.

A witness said the attack started about 15 minutes after midnight. The barrage seemed to be a spray attack that took in various buildings.

One U.S. airman reported he heard more than 30 explosions.

Armed helicopters took to the air immediately after the first mortal shell struck. They reported hitting the area where the attack was coming from, but made no estimate of Viet Cong casualties.

The resulting fire caused by the mortar attack and subsequent explosions of the airfield's fuel dump cast a huge glow that could be seen for miles.

The airbase is about four miles from Saigon, and is one of the main air installations for the capital, handling Vietnamese and U.S. military aircraft as well as civilian airliners.

Maintenance Man Killed In Accident

A University maintenance worker was killed yesterday as a tractor he was driving on Poa Road overturned and crushed him to death. The dead man was identified as Dilly Lissian, 30, of Route 3, Dunbridge Road, Bowling Green.

According to the police, Lissian was driving east on Poa Road and turned south into the golf course drainage channels. As he was crossing the bridge, the bridge, he apparently lost control of the tractor and he was pinned underneath. Lissian was pronounced dead at Wood County Hospital.
Low AND High

The announcement by Dean Taylor just before vacation that University organizations may now purchase "low beer" for their off-campus activities, for example of the forward-looking, progressive attitude the University Administration has assumed. Now for the first time fraternities and sororities may use their own funds to buy beer for their off-campus activities.

The News recognizes the approval of this proposal as an advance in University policy, but feels that the limit to just 3.2 per cent is somewhat less than desirable. Regardless of its definition as a "non-intoxicating liquor," 3.2 beer can be just as intoxicating as "high" beer. If one is permitted, beer can be just as intoxicating as "high" beer. If one is permitted, 3.2 per cent beer should also be erased in time.

It is interesting to compare the mid-directed national efforts to similar mid-directed efforts at the University. Our University police would rather concentrate on usually meaning less important accelerator's excessive use, that really cause more accidents, This doesn't sound like a consistent effort.

The News recognizes this proposal as an advancement in University policy, but feels that the limit to just 3.2 per cent is somewhat less than desirable. The reason for these actions against the U.S. troops is that the support of the Ky regime is free of or relatively free of international disunity, there is little that U.S. troops can do for that fraction is somewhat more important than desire to have a military government removed in favor of an elected civil government.

General Ky has so far insisted that it would be impossible to hold elections at present, but that is possible to declare elections by the end of the year. The weak promise does not satisfy the rioters.

Meanwhile, the U.S. troops are among those on the receiving end of the demonstrations fury. A number of U.S. soldiers have been beaten by mobs, U.S. property has been destroyed in the riots, and U.S. soldiers have been evacuated from areas which they occupied since expelling the Viet Cong.

The situation in Viet Nam is becoming more obvious. A civil war. Congressmen returning from Viet Nam last fall made a number of statements to the effect that the war was a civil war because most of the Viet Cong participating in the military action were born in South Viet Nam.

One wonders what fraction of the total population of South Viet Nam actually support the Ky regime, indications are that that fraction is somewhat more than half, but somewhat less than desirable.

The current wave of riots and demonstrations against the Ky regime intensifies the split in the South Vietnamese people.

The reason given for the demonstrations is a desire to have a military government removed in favor of an elected civil government.

General Ky has so far insisted that it would be impossible to hold elections at present, but that is possible to declare elections by the end of the year. The weak promise does not satisfy the rioters.

University Dropouts

Six hundred and forty-one students left Bowling Green State University last semester. This staggering number represents only a handful compared to all those who leave the University over a period of years.

Recently a questionnaire was mailed to several of these students to determine how they feel about their study at Bowling Green and what they do after leaving the campus.

Thirty former students received questionnaires and 15 answered.

These answering said they left Bowling Green for a variety of reasons including low grades, dissatisfaction, lack of money, and poor health.

Two of the students who left for reasons of discontent expressed their ideas regarding improvements they felt should be made at the University. "The freshmen year is not specialized enough," stated one student. This student's feeling was expressed by all those who answered the questionnaire.

He went on to explain, "I feel there was too much introductory material. At the end of the year, I had no idea if the major I declared was the course I would really enjoy doing in my free time, or understand that there are certain courses one must complete, but I strongly feel one should be able to become acquainted with one's chosen field in the first year so that if one wishes to change his course of study he is able to do so quickly and to his benefit," he continued.

"This is the main reason I left because I did change my mind and found I couldn't complete my new course in the remaining time."

Another student put it in a different way by saying he "believe there should definitely be more freedom of judgement and choice. Bowling Green has been too often I was forced to take courses I didn't want because of others were closed."

Many of the students expressed the fact that they were "lost and unsure" of themselves while here and that they really weren't sure what they wanted to do with their lives. "All high school graduates are expected to go to college these days," stated one student, "and I was one of them. Young people of today are forced into colleges and some of them don't belong.

Less than one half of the students said that they had disliked Bowling Green while here, but all of them said they were sorry they weren't here now. "Yes I miss Bowling Green because most of my closest friends are here," stated one student.

One of the questions asked of these students was, "What, if anything, did you gain while on your study at Bowling Green?" The answers showed a definite 100 percent of those questioned saying they had gained much from the experience.

One of these questioned stated, "Yes, I definitely gained much knowledge, not only academically, but also in social life."

"By being exposed to so many different types of students and courses I gained confidence in myself and what I want from life," another said.

About three fourths of those questioned are planning to come back to Bowling Green. Most of these have already registered or are making definite plans to do so soon.

"I was lost and unsure," one student said to his benefit, he continued. He went on to explain, "I feel I didn't want or need be- come a teacher. I felt I was forced to take courses I didn't want or need. I had no idea if the major I declared was the course I would continue." He strongly felt one should be able to become acquainted with one's chosen field in the first year so that if one wishes to change his course of study he is able to do so quickly and to his benefit.

"I miss Bowling Green because most of my closest friends are here," another student stated.

"The personnel in the training program are really hard," Miss Albright said. "Although it is rather concise."

Marsha Albright is leading another life at the University. She is enrolled as a junior in the College of Business Administration while being one of six United Air Lines Campus Stewardess Representatives in the United States.

This position not only enables her to recruit interested students for United Air Lines but also gives her many exciting experiences and career training.

As a campus representative, Miss Albright is available to give talks on the United Air Lines program upon invitation.

"The response on campus is good," said Miss Albright. "I've given about 10 talks on campus," said Miss Albright, "and they have been successful in addition to these talks, Marsha gives preliminary interviews to those girls who are interested in the field. After that the student is sent onto airlines personnel for a second interview."

Basic requirements for stewardesses include being 20 years old, between five feet, two inches and five feet nine inches in height, and meeting a basic eyesight requirement. Otherwise, the girls may or may not wear glasses. Miss Albright said, "Anybody who is interested, may contact me to set up an interview or get additional information about the program, she said.

Living Deadline For B.G.S.U. Is April 15, 1966

United Air Lines is coming to campus in April to recruit new students. They will be interested in talking to those students who already have had their preliminary interview with Miss Albright and have been approved by her.

Anyone who is interested, may contact her to set up an interview for additional information about the program, she said.
Officials 'Deeply Worried' By Viet War Developments

SAIGON (AP) -- U.S. officials in Washington say they are "deeply worried" by recent Viet Nam developments but most see no way out except to sit tight and hope for the best.

Politically speaking, some officials draw comfort from the fact that the Buddhists and supporting factions in the country's current political turmoil are strongly anti-Communist.

In the stormy jungle ground war yesterday U.S. troops had a rough day. A First Infantry Division Rifle Company was badly mauled by a Viet Cong battalion in five hours of jungle battle some 40 miles east of Saigon.

First reports indicated one third or more of the company killed or wounded by the superior Communist force. A rifle company usually has about 175 men.

In the air, B-52 bombers dropped hundreds of tons of bombs on a strategic mountain pass in the North. The eight-jet strato-fortress hit in the North after more than 200 raids on Viet Cong targets had been staged below the 17th parallel.

No report on the amount of damage done by the bombing has been released as yet.

In the capital city of Saigon, there was news of more terror-ism as one Vietnamese soldier was killed and two were wounded when a terrorist bomb exploded in a Vietnamese ranger company's camp area. The bomb was hurled from a speeding auto.

Netters Win 3 On Tour; Dayton Invades Today

By BOB BRUCKNER
Assistant Sports Editor

The Falcon tennis team returned to Bowling Green from their Southern tour with a 3-2 record, as many victories as they accumulated all last year, and will host Dayton this afternoon at 3.

The netters opened their tour at home on April 1 with a 6-3 victory over Eastern Michigan, and followed this initial triumph with wins over Ohio University and Marshall before falling to Morehead and the University of Kentucky to conclude the trip.

Coach Robert Keefe praised his team as doing "better than expected for a young team without previous varsity experience, I was especially pleased with our victories over OU and Marshall, since they are in the MAC," said the coach.

The Falcon's starting six has been Ron Carroll as the number one man, followed by Bob Lemper, Roger Newman, Trevor Weiss, Dean Snyder, and Bryant Evans. Newman, a letterman, is the only experienced player on the team.

In the two major victories over OU and Marshall, Coach Keefe gave much credit to sixth man, Evans. "He won key matches in both contests."

The netters tripped OU 6-3 and then moved on to Marshall and ground the West Virginiaan's with a 7-2 win. "The Marshall match was much closer than the score indicated," said Keefe. "Seven of the nine matches went into three sets, and when they're that close, they can go either way."

The tennis squad moved on to Morehead, where they met their first defeat, 7-2. "They have completely revised their team since the last time we played them," said the coach, "and they also used freshmen."

The University of Kentucky made the Falcons glad their Southern trip was over by whitewashing BG 9-0. "They had already played over a dozen matches," said Keefe, "and were therefore better prepared than we were."

The coach said that his number one and two players, Carroll and Lemper, "did very well," both compiled identical 3-2 marks during the tour.

Golfers Win 4 On Tour

By TIM CHURCHILL
Sports Writer

The Bowling Green golf team completed its 1966 southern tour Saturday by dropping matches to Ohio State and Marshall and downing Indiana. The linksmen collected four victories while suffering three defeats on the tour.

The golfers kicked off their 16th season with victories over Transylvania College and Cumberland College at Lexington, Ky., April 6. They downed both opponents by identical 14 1/2-12 1/2 scores.

Sophomore Mike McCullough led the Falcons with a 77, and shut out his two opponents by 3-0 scores. Ron Whitehouse, who bagged an 81, also blanked both of his opponents 3-0, as did Ed Thels.

The linksmen moved over to Richmond, Ky., where they squeaked by Eastern Kentucky 14 1/2 - 12 1/2. Again it was McCullough who took medalist honors with a round of 78. Whitehouse. The Falcons blistered the Ohio Staters with a score of 99, 22 shots in front of Miami.

The Ohio Stateans compiled a combined score of 932, 47 strokes to Lexington where they dropped Marshall. Bowling Green was right behind with a score of 985, 22 shots in front of Miami.

McCullogh led the Falcons at Ohio State with a score of 158 on rounds of 80 and 76.
Baseballers Breeze Through Spring Tour

By TOM HINE
Assistant Sports Editor

Those expecting the 1966 Mid-American Conference baseball race to be a sprint between Ohio U. and Western Michigan had better do some reconnoitering.

Bowling Green is on the move. The Falcons, behind sophomore righthander Dick Young, rambled to six straight victories over the spring break, with four of the runs being scored in the Falcon attack, going four and five innings, respectively.

Their sixth consecutive win, this one a thrilling 7-6, 10-inning decision, came against the Flashes home diamond, and Tom Perlioni led a 16-hit attack. Mike Weger collected first in the infield, but Perlioni and some sticky-fingered defensive play, backed up by another outstanding performance by the Falcon defense, beat back both Titan drives and allowed both Titan safeties while walking four and striking out five.

Burkle and Bill Becker and some dependable hitting helped map a fresh Falcon mark of 4.11.9.

Beaverston captured third.
