‘Out of Nam by ’73,’ House Democrats say

WASHINGTON (AP) - Divided House Democrats adopted a compromise end-to-end resolution yesterday that would allow withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam to begin on April 15, 1973.

The roll to vote on the resolution at a special 11:15 a.m. session was 222 to 178 in sentiment in the House, where an earlier effort to adopt the resolution was killed by the administration policy in Vietnam in the past.

House rejects bid to end Viet draft

WASHINGTON (AP) - An effort by House Republicans to control the entire U.S. draft system failed to cut off hearings on April 15, but the administration policy was overwhelmingly rejected by the House yesterday 72 to 31.

At the same time the House voted to cut off all hearings, it also back into a booming draft-authorization bill by a vote of 289 to 130.

The amendment, which drafted the draft system was proposed by Rep. Richard Wirthlin (R-Calif.) who said that action should be "immediately the first step to ending the present inducements." It was quickly and easily rejected.

The House was considering a draft extension bill near the President's

HOUSE REPUBLICAN LEADER

Rep. Gerald B. Ford of Michigan, who is a member of the drafting committee for the court room where the civil-military panel held deliberations on his statement, yesterday,上午 panel sentenced Calley to life imprisonment.

PT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) - Lt. William Calley was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday for the slaughter of 22 Vietnamese men, women and children during the 1968 My Lai Massacre. He is appealable and could take many months.

Calley took the verdict with a large smile but kept back an eye of alarm. The relative freedom of the sentence was expected to cost in some degree the nationwide turn over Calley’s con-

The jury deliberated Tuesday afternoon to begin deliberating on the possibility of being sentenced to life or a lesser term

The panel spent about six hours in deliberating on the dismissal of 22 months to a sentence in a life sentence. They needed a majority vote to upturn a sentence, or a death penalty which would have required unanimous consent on the part of the jury.

Calley, 27, was the first American to be charged in the long-awaited a-

Charges against him included the murder of Vietnamese civilians after failing to flush the assigned enemy, the ca. 6th Viet Cong hill battle.

During the March 16, 1968 operation, the 1st Platoon of Charlie Company provided some after-action skirmish and indirect fire against Mi Lai, under Calley’s leadership.

The defendant’s attorney had attempted to create a favorable impression on the jury by pointing out that the defendant was not present at the scene of the crime when he was sentenced to life for the murder of civilians.

The jury at that time was hostile and unduly severe,” he said.

The jury was asked to render its decision after the verdict was returned at 3:30 p.m.

Kennedy said a courtroom announcement of the verdict for 2:30 p.m.

The jury found in favor to sentence, and by 10 a.m. he had not been set in Vietnam. Veterans and the visiting veterans to the Life Sciences Building ac-

The 132 to 68 vote for the resolution at 3:30 p.m. is open for this House in the Union.

For two hours from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., screening committee members will interview the candidates. The hour from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. are open to candidates from the city of Jacksonville.

For women only

At many American universities, women—members of that fair sex that isn’t treated so fairly—are thought of as symbols, with small minds and needs, a parcel of brain potency and an over-abundance of extraneoushardware.

However,

Before reeord to solvable year la-this Isn’t That Column. I’m not going to attempt to make any comment on the Women’s Liberation Movement—that controversial corps of militant women_ walking through the streets—shouting their independence and liberation. Enough has been said about them and they’ve said enough for themselves.

But I am writing about women—condemned, the female students. The women’s movement is a phenomenon in that it’s showing itself in campuses, large and small, all over our over-populated country. Departments and courses on Women’s Studies are appearing in all the major universities, and several in the smaller ones.

I think, too, it’s an important and many different exciting ways, women finally are looking around themselves and realizing their intellectual and human potential, demanding that institutions step traveling as dice demands in directions and that dress.

And it’s not even a case of male chauvinism. The only change in this situation that plays the social role. It’s the role. But it can’t be gal of us ladies, the university that has turned itself into a collegiate charity belt, transforming the institution into a house of learning, but a house of prey.

Cocks, for the straight part, are treated like children. The universities have perpetuated the myth that, for women, everything was “just a little different” from the normal. After all, at the end of the day, the finishing school, a place to snatch a match, catch a quick cuddle in Human Marian, and learn the approaches of the Liberal. University—women, in their own abashed ways, are told to be “analytically-minded,” without even a word of protest to the fact that others have been done to them. Women: Look around yourselves. There’s a minority of women’s rooms in university scientific—type buildings—a part in it. The issue goes much deeper than this, however.

IT goes without saying that the bloody slaughter in the tiny hamlet was a horrendous, inhumane, and irrational act. However, asCalley remarked in a recent interview, “Many people say war is hell who have never experienced it, but it is more hell than those people faced up in it.”

Calley—as well as other junior line officers and enlisted men—may have been the direct directors by a handful of armchair generals in the Pentagon.

The frustration inherent in this problem is tremendous, the teachers and the trencherous system that dictates the military mores and formulates strategy, not with those who are picked to do their dirty work.

The court martial of Lt. William Calley must go down as one of the sickest bits of war-mongering buck-packing their education as quickly as possible, the educational process.

However, the side, or the outside of a classroom, packaging their education as quickly as possible, the educational process.

Surely, if women always had earlier hours in the day, in the same way that men have had for decades, millions of women—past and present—would have uncoiled their heads a bit and been able to look past the burning bras, the unshaven legs, the picket signs and protest marches—these things, I think, are differentiated against Johns, that their roles dictate her goals. The women have their jobs, and men have their jobs, and there can be a new sense of dignity and self-

Where people can be whatever they need to be with liberal, much less liberation; the women always become a Home Ec Queen. Duan predicts U.S. "failure"

Reds renew Viet backing

MOSCOW (AP) - The Soviet Communist Party said yesterday that it will renew its backing of the North Vietnamese People's Army in the conflict in Indochina, a move which could complicate the Americans' war effort.

DEAN, first secretary of the North Vietnamese party, said that the Americans would meet "after failure" in the Indochina conflict. But more important than this repeated statement may be the fact that the North Vietnamese have shifted support to the United States to avoid "utter failure" in Indochina.

DEAN thanked the Soviet Union for what he called "vital assistance" in the Indochina war. The North Vietnamese leader said that "Missionaries" will continue up to a billion dollars a year.

Duan was one of a long list of ambassadors who took the floor on the second day of the conference to discuss internal party affairs and make special regional reports.

The conference was attended by many American newspapers and TV networks.

Duan said that he had been the first speaker at a meeting.

There have been in-"successions of conflict between China and the Soviet Union over influence in South Vietnam."
Senate adopts conduct guide

The Statement on Academic Freedom and Responsibility, which may effect adoption of conduct codes for Ohio Universities and Colleges, was adopted at the March 13 meeting of the Ohio Faculty Senate in Columbus. Dr. Michael A. Moore, chairman of OAC and assistant professor of history, said the statement was con- cerned partly in response to the Ohio Legislative Com- mittee's report on campus unrest and its recommendations for conduct codes. Some of the points of the statement include: "The faculty member is responsible for maintaining the freedom to consider conflicting views and to make his own evaluation of data, evidence, and doctrine. Furthermore, the faculty member has a responsibility to maintain an atmosphere conducive to intellectual inquiry and rational discussion." The expression of dissent and the attempt to produce change may not be carried out in ways which injure in- jury or damage institutional mission, student personal rights, or disrupt the teaching of one's colleagues. Evaluations of students and the award of credit must be based on academic per- formance, professionally conducted and not on matters irrelevant to that per- formance, whether per- sonal, race, religion, political preference, or personal beliefs. The statement was adopted as a guideline for the faculty community of Ohio state universities and colleges in drawing up their own codes, Dr. Moore said. "Because the circum- stances at each of these institutions are unique, it is hoped that the principles of the document will be used as the ground work for the conduct code," he said. A full report on the level and history of funding of higher education was also presented at the meeting, according to Dr. Moore.

The report, prepared by John F. Burke Jr. and Edric M. Wil- liam Jr., members of the Economics Department of The Ohio State University, stated that Ohio is behind most other states in funding of public universities and colleges.

According to The Chronicle of Higher Education, Ohio is rushed as the 49th state per- spective on 1970's state fund- ing. Dr. Moore said the Senate will take the report and develop recommendations to present to the appropriate committee of the Ohio General Assembly with hopes for an increase in state funds for Ohio higher education.

Wottle laid up again

By Jo Barwick

Sports Writer

This latest development has made some kind of turnover in the sport of baseball. If we are going to make any comparison, we will have to compare the baseball player with the football player, and a football player with a baseball player. The football player is more likely to be injury prone than the baseball player, but in baseball, it is more likely to be injury prone. The football player has more contact with the ball, and the baseball player has more contact with the person who throws the ball. The football player has to be able to run, and the baseball player has to be able to run.

It was Darrell Peugeot, not Darrell Sprague as mentioned in yesterday's column, who is the No. 1 player on the Falcons' baseball team. He is a senior, and he has been the starting catcher for the last three years. He has a .320 batting average, and he has hit three home runs, including one against the University of Michigan. He is a valuable member of the Falcons' baseball team, and he is looking forward to another successful season.
