SACHON (AP) - South Vietnamese troops under a U.S. air support launched a drive in the central highlands yesterday against North Vietnamese forces who have been on the attack there for 12 days.

In a push through the jungle-covered mountains, the South Vietnamese were trying to track down and destroy a regiment of North Vietnamese regulars on the southern sector of the highland front.

With several fresh battalions thrown in, the South Vietnamese combat force in the highland sector rose to 4,000,000 men.

THEY WERE backed up by an array of U.S.-fought-bombers, fast-rocket helicopters and long-range artillery.

Opposing them were elements of four North Vietnamese regiments estimated variously from 1,000-2,000 men, and probably backed up with reserves across the border in Laos and Cambodia.

The fighting sectors stretch from 200 miles north of Saigon to about 300 miles north of capital near the Cambodian and Laotian frontiers.

The new South Vietnamese drive was launched on the southern sector of the front near Fire Base Lonely, where the fighting下半场 resumed by North Vietnamese forces. Lonely is 80 miles south of Fire Base 4, where the enemy launched his offensive.

no other casualties on either side.

A force of two infantry battalions as in the area for the North Vietnam forces without taking contact, but reported finding bodies of 17 enemy soldiers and 12 enemy killed by air strikes and artillery fire.

DR. ELSASS HOPES to teach at least 12 new students on the drafty Shanghi Wan Gym.

The nine-uniformed, red-star adorned faces of the army members are the students for the moment.

They may be dressed differently, but the students of the first match in Peking were not different from the students of three American universities who kicked off the match with scenes against other Chinese players.

The U.S. players were Tom Baggen, of Oberlin, N.Y., Dick Hillen, of New York City and George、Hofman, of Chicago.

The American side played with six of them, 65, but only six players were used on the court.

Of the three only Mien won, 65, but only had 65, but 65, but six only won, 65, but six players were used on the court.

The crowd was pleased to smile or laugh to hear the Americans feel wanted.

DR. ELSASS BELIEVES that this is one of the changes occurring in the role of teachers. The teachers are being taken out of the classrooms, and are becoming more active in the areas of health, and the other areas at school.

"I want to take a clinical approach to student teaching, composed of more field experience," he said. Most apt to come first is an internship program, instead of the student's four years of college study.

A number of evaluations at the university, planned for the Board of Trustees at a meeting next week.

"The voting for student representative to the Board of Trustees in the drafty Shanghai Wan Gym, the Associated Press photographer Neal Ulevich reported that the Vietcong current and a supply station in the base northwest of Fire Base 6, a drive in the central highlands...It's a long fly to deep left...It's off the drainage...Johnny's the thrower...he's into third from the warning track...Well, not really, friends, but those two "ball players" seemed to be acting out the role yesterday morning.

I feel we should institute a more flexible grading system during one's tenure at the presidency in a landslide vote and Mark Kruse was elected student representative to the Board of Trustees in Wednesday and Thursday's student body elections.

Robert Slaybury, the Vietnam War candidate for the post, finished last with 427 votes in his favor.

Elections are to be held by the Board of Trustees and by the political scene. AVERAGE, in an uncontested election were Stephen Toalston, Hoffman and Sprague, as well as the eight newly elected Student Council.

"The REST of the ballots in the vice presidency were cast for a variety of write-in candidates, none of which were counted last night, because of computer indisposal limitations.

"Out-going student body president Roger Coate said it was his first time voting in the student body elections, but he did not do a good job in his new position because of his experience in student council, in the presidency.

President Hoffman and Sprague, as well as the newly elected Student Council members will be installed in the vice presidency in a landslide vote and Mark Kruse was elected student representative to the Board of Trustees in the drafty Shanghai Wan Gym, the Associated Press photographer Neal Ulevich reported that the Vietcong current and a supply station in the base northwest of Fire Base 6, a drive in the central highlands...It's a long fly to deep left...It's off the drainage...Johnny's the thrower...he's into third from the warning track...Well, not really, friends, but those two "ball players" seemed to be acting out the role yesterday morning.

"I feel we should institute a more flexible grading system during one's freshman year. Student teachers are graded on a 4.0 basis and this has no bearing on the student's performance."
week of weeks

Starting tomorrow at 11 a.m., the week of weeks will begin to compete with the nice weather and spring frolics that seem to occupy the majority of students this quarter. The News recommends that students actively participate in the events scheduled during this April 18-25 week of weeks. Those graduating in June will find the week of weeks the last opportunity to compete with the nice weather and spring frolics. agnew is back on "beat the press"

By Arthur Huppe

Vice President Agnew is sure to come at the press. Again.

What troubled Mr. Agnew’s wrath was a New York Times’ headline saying a Gallup Poll showed 12 per cent of the American economy would rather live in another country.

"Mr. Agnew has scrupulously avoided attacking the press. His restraint in not attacking the press. Again. The trouble here is that for 24 of the last 48 hours," it began, "other FEATURES in the Gazette suddenly took over. As you know, the Gazette is often referred to as the “Safeguard of Human Rights.” The only issue that Mr. Agnew has ever been interested in is the safety of his family. He is not concerned with the safety of the citizens of America. And why, he wanted to know, couldn’t these rallying subheads of reactionary headline that smiting news instead?"

WASHINGTON (AP) - Both the Republican and Democratic parties are already at work on devising a strategy to win support of the 3 million Americans eligible to vote in next year's presidential election.

The early stage parties are still thinking national but the political arithmetic of possible outcomes in the rollercoaster that is the presidential contest is already weighing on the minds of those who do the Democrats are feared by selected to I.

This Democrat National Chairman Lawrence J. O'Brien talks in terms of registration drives, while his Republican counterpart, Jon, Robert J., Dale emphasized the need to sell young people on the GOP.

"We've ALMOST a comprehensively new deal in 1971, " Dale said in an interview. "Why going to do everything we can to register young people in really northern and our hope is that they're side with us."

"You've got to go after them," Dale told an interviewer. "We recognize that it can be a gold mine in a dry hole, in the all industry vernacular. We won't get it off the ground but we can't afford to let the wind knock it down."

"They could turn over, assuming the voters in the four states in Georgia, Kentucky, Alabama and Florida went to the polls in the 1970 off-year election, but only 30 percent of those between 18 and 20 voted."

Some candidates are already trying to recruit them. Connee Bureaux shows, for example, that 50 percent of the voters in the four states George.

Although the completion of these forms is not required, it is highly recommended for all seniors.

EVENTS AND INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS, FACULTY, STAFF

announcements

WORLD PREMIER OF PLAY

"Ride a Black Horse," by Bowling Green's playwright-in-residence, John S. Scott, will premier Wednesday night at 8 in the Main Auditorium of University Hall.

Already commanding national attention, the play was presented as a staged reading at the 1970 Summer National Playwrights' Conference in Waterford, Conn., and the Negro Company of New York City has selected it for production off-Broadway at St. Mark's Playhouse in May.

Mr. Scott is actively involved in a consulting capacity for both the New York and Bowling Green productions of his play, which concerns the problem black men must face in deciding what kind of actions to take to relieve depression and further understand "one's self."

Directed by Allen Kepke, associate professor of speech, the cast includes two guest professional actors, Roger Robinson and J. A. Preston.

"Ride a Black Horse" will run Wednesday through Saturday (April 21-24), with performances beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets, 25 cents for University students, 50 cents for high school students and $1.50 for adults, are available at the University Union ticket office.

ANN ARBOR FILM FESTIVAL

More than 60 films from the 1971 Ann Arbor Film Festival will be shown in seven programs Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Each showing is different.

Union Activities Organization will present Ann Arbor films at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, in addition to a midnight showing Saturday of the best films, in 210 Math-Science Building.

Tickets for individual programs are 75 cents each, with tickets for all seven programs priced at $4. Tickets are available at the University Union ticket office.

WBGU-TV POLLUTION PROGRAM

Channel 70 will present the final program in the series, "The Wonderful World of Pollution," Thursday from 7-9 p.m. The week's show, entitled "I Hear You Talkin'," features local, state and national legislators who will discuss environmental legislation.

The public is invited to the television studios for the show, or those unable to attend may watch the live broadcast at 8 p.m. on Channel 70.

The series is sponsored by the Northwest Ohio Health Planning Association, the University Environmental Studies Center and the Office of Continuing Education.

EUROPEAN TOUR

Reservations are now being taken for a 17-day European tour, June 23-July 17. The tour, which is open to the public as well as the University community, includes visits to the Netherlands, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

Air transportation, provided by Trans World Airlines, accommodations in European hotels and guided tours in each country are provided. The tour price is $797 round trip from Detroit, Mich.

For complete information contact Jerry Martin, program director, in the Union Activities Office, University Union, or phone 372-2343.

MARIA ALBA TO APPEAR SUNDAY

The Artist Series will present Maria Alba and her Company of Spanish Dancers at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Main Auditorium of University Hall.

Since the company made its New York debut, they have toured extensively. The group has appeared for three consecutive years at the Jacob's Pillow dance festival, has performed at Cleveland's Blossom Festival and Grant Park in Chicago, and has been seen on numerous television programs including the Mike Douglas Show.

Admission to their Bowling Green performance is $1.25 for students and $1.50 for adults.

REICHERT TO LECTURE

The fourth in a series of eight lectures on "Alternatives" to the crisis of values and problems of contemporary society will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in 115 Education Building.

Dr. William O. Reichert, professor of political science, will speak on "Michael Bakumin on Freedom and Power," a consideration of certain aspects of anarchist-libertarian thought.

Sponsored by the Office of Experimental Studies, the lecture is free and open to the public.

Three Weeks in One

Three weeks of events will be packed into one April 19-25 when Earth Action Week, Journalism Week and International Week are all scheduled.

EARTH ACTION WEEK

Earth Action Week was kicked off with a sidewalk march through downtown Bowling Green last Saturday. The march was designed to attract attention of the Bowling Green community to the events of this week.

The activities are sponsored by the campus organizations known as LIFES (Living In a Finer Environment) and OPIAG (Ohio Public Interest Action Group).

Events for the week include a film, entitled "Multiply and Subdue the Earth," to be shown at 7 p.m. today (Monday) in 230 Math-Science Building.

On Tuesday evening, Dr. Ernest Hamilton, associate professor of biology, will present a lecture entitled "What Is An Ecosystem?" It will concern the relationships between man, plants, and animals, and how they effect each other and the natural supply. The lecture is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in 112 Life Science Building.

James Ridgeway, author of "The Group of Fifty," will lecture on the same topic Wednesday at a public appearance in Anderson Arena. Mr. Ridgeway will be on the campus all day, speaking at various seminars and classes. His appearance is sponsored by the University's Student Government.

The Education Committee of LIFES will present a slide program entitled "The Earth" by LIFES members, called "Our Ravaged Environment." At 7 p.m. Thursday in 112 Life Science Building the slide presentation covers area ecological concern such as the population explosion, air pollution, pesticides, strip mining and other earth problems. Another slide show, demonstrating the different types of Eco-Systems, will be shown Friday at 7 p.m., also in 112 Life Science Bldg.

The slides program has been prepared by University graduate students, headed by Willard Mc-Cartney, of Perrysburg.

The week will culminate in an Earth-Rock Dance, to be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the University's Men's Gym. "Snow" will be among the local bands expected to provide music for the event.

All Earth Action Week events are free and open to the public. Those attending the Saturday evening dance will be asked for a $1 donation for OPIAG, however.

The campus group is one of several university, high school and community groups in Ohio staging fund drives in the hopes that a state-wide organization of lawyers, scientists, media experts and community organizers can be established to work for citizen causes such as environmental, quality worker health and safety, corporate responsibility, and efficient use of government supply.

Fund raisers are working toward a state-wide goal of $1,000,000 so that such an organization could be established and Ralph Berrie and Professor Neisner urge community residents to assure reservations.

Hayer F. Gu Skiibbe has proclaimed April 19-25 "Earth Week in Bowling Green," and has asked community residents to assist in the efforts to organize and fund OPIAG.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Tuesday's events include a panel discussion, entitled "Third World in International Relations," to be held at 7:30 p.m. that day in the forum of the Student Services Building, with Dr. Shock as moderator.

An international talent show is scheduled for Thursday in the Joe E. Brown Theatre. The show, which begins at 7:30 p.m., features songs and dances from various countries, Neil Olson, junior from Werburg, England, will serve as master of ceremonies for the show. It is expected to be a part of International Week activities. A soccer meet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, on the University soccer field. Bowling Green's international students will take on the international students from the University of Toledo.

The annual International Dinner will climax the days of activation Sunday dinner will begin at 5 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Bowling Green. The dinner will feature dishes prepared by the international students.

Tickets for the dinner are $2 per plate and are available at the Office of International Programs in Johnston Hall. Tickets must be purchased by Friday, April 23, to assure reservations.

All other events sponsored by the International Center this week are free and open to the public.

JOURNALISM WEEK

Journalism Week, which begins Monday, will be press conference for Dr. Moore at 1 p.m. in the Alumni Center. The conference is open to area news reporters and journalism students.
