Business admissions are closing April 8

By Staff Reporter

The University has announced that applications for fall's freshman class in the College of Business Administration must be submitted by April 8.

John W. Martin, director of admissions, said the closing date applies only to the College of Business Administration, and not to applications in all other colleges, including education, arts and sciences, medical arts, and health and community services, which are still being considered.

No closing dates have been set for any of these other colleges.

The April 8 closing date for business admissions does not affect applicants wishing to transfer to the College of Business Administration, nor does it affect these students enrolling simply for evening business classes, Martin said.

No closing dates have been set for any of these other colleges.

Railroad gang hits town

By Jamie Piennan

The day of the roaming railroad gang is not a thing of the past, confined to the railroad work songs and legend of John Henry.

This week a railroad gang work passed through the city, clearing old ties and marooning part of the rail system.

The gang, based in Columbus, is employed by ConRail, the government-owned railroad company formed to take over the Panic Central rail road company and its bankrupt eastern railroads.

According to Craig M. Jencio, a former gang worker, most work is done by automation.

"The railroad work gang passed through the city, clearing old ties and marooning part of the rail system," Jencio said.

During its pass through town the gang is staying in camp cars-old, converted passenger cars. A bus transports the gang to and from work every day.

"The railroad work gang passed through the city, clearing old ties and marooning part of the rail system," Jencio said.

In town the gang worked Friday and Saturday on the 200 block of Clough Street.

"They tend to give funds only to begin projects," Seda said. "They don't allow us to sponsor big events, like outdoor concerts."

Seda said if a festival is held next year, it could be sponsored by the town council or the University's Office of Student Activities.

"This is a lot cheaper than the Holiday Inn," Seda said. "It's a nice place to spend the night, with reservations made the night before."

"We have the hotel in reserve," Seda said.

Black Swamp Festival to be eliminated this year

By Staff Reporter

The Black Swamp Folk Arts Festival, which attracta exhibits ranging from local folk bands to national performers, will not be held this year.

"We have been eliminating events as the need for them has not been met," said Karl E. Vogt, dean of the college. "The festival was not popular among students."
doobies line a pain

Waiting in the UAO ticket line for the Doobie Brothers concert you might find the picture of a man. You had to be there to see the pictures.

Tickets were sold exclusively in the Downtown area on the third floor of the Union. By 8 a.m., the line outside the Union was backed up to William Street at 8:30 a.m. By 10 a.m., the line was at 12:30 p.m. At 8:30, we heard cries of "Boy, I'm hungry," "I have class in two weeks," "I have class in two hours," etc. Those who had not scored seats would not be "evened out." Those who did have seats would not give them away.

The News has a suggestion. Why not sell tickets in two campus locations? Then those who have scored the few seats available will have a chance to realize that their seats are worth more than the ones in other locations. And free reserved seating could be sold at each location.

Yesterday's Doobie Brothers line was the inspiration for the upcoming concert for many. Why not evoke UAO ticket sales? Students will "listen to the music" with less long line resentment.

apology to moore

Dear President Moore:

I am writing this letter because I feel I owe President Moore an apology, not because I was told to do so. In the attempt to apologize, any letter that appeared in the BG News was not received. I am writing to President Moore for leaving the March 5 basketball game early. Hurry up and apologize any day you can. The events that led to your setting the game aside were not my fault. President Moore, I realize that if circumstances had been different, you would have been at the game cheering the team on. But circumstances were such that it was impossible for you to stay.

I am a student of a university that has many responsibilities and am not expected to be at an athletic event.

Kurfess advocates new political outlook

By Bill Lammers, Ant. Camp Editor

Arrogating with the strident images and followings of the Democratic and Republican leadership, House Majority Leader Charles F. Percy and Sen. Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.) last night asked for a more civilized political climate.

"In the eyes of most politicians," Kurfess said that politicians remain on anti-voting business campaigns... when they try to legislate.

"In his ADDRESS, Kurfess added a change in the mechanism's law.

"We (the legislators) try to rewrite the mechanism's laws every session," Kurfess said. "We ought to wipe it off the books for a while.

If it were repealed, Kurfess said, the contractors would be able to take care of Kurfess also noted the

New home cost prices rise during housing crisis

A Provincetown Economic Association told a Senate committee yesterday that the median price for a new house will reach $90,000 by the year 1980.

Professor Kenneth Blumenstein told the Senate banking committee that the U.S. is now in the midst of a housing crisis of unprecedented magnitude. He said new

Carry your home in your backpack

By Jim Rayford

Backpacking is the only sport in which you carry your kitchen, living room, bedroom and even your bathroom on your back. Everything you need to be comfortable for an entire weekend can be carried at a weight of less than 30 pounds.

With warm weather finally approaching, students will be anxious to get outdoors. Hiking is a good sport in which you carry your own equipment, so here are a few packing tips that will make your backpacking adventure more enjoyable.

About everything a backpacker needs including backpacks, tents, stoves, food and first-aid kits, maps, food, tents, backpacks, flashlights and advice is available in most department store backpack sections.

Almost everything a backpacker needs including backpacks, tents, stoves, food and first-aid kits, maps, backpacks, flashlights and advice is available in most department store backpack sections.

Should you be packing? The answer is yes. You should be packing for your safety. A poorly packed pack will result in discomfort while walking.

There are many brands of backpacks, all with advantages and disadvantages. The IMF Consumer Buying Guide, available in public libraries, provides an excellent outline of the brands available, along with the good and bad features of each.

Thisly, wise outdoor sports shops are helpful. Most department store backpack sections should avoid them. They are not properly sized or designed for hiking. They should be avoided in backcountry packs.

Students study gerontology, field experience credit available

By Cindy NaegeU

Students interested in learning more about gerontology and ways of obtaining field experience can meet at 4 p.m. Monday, April 4, in the United Christian Fellowship (UCF) Center, 357 Main Ave.

UCF is sponsoring a project to collect information about Bowling Green businesses that provide for the needs of the elderly. By fall quarter a booklet containing all the information will be distributed to all of the seniors in Bowling Green.

Mary Sue Paquette, senior and chairman of the gerontology task force, said that gerontology is becoming a more popular major on campus as students begin to realize the job opportunities in the field.

She said that the most ideal time to enter the field because many government jobs are expected to open up within the next few years for those who have studied aging and the problems of the elderly.

JAN MOWRY, director of UCF's community services, explained that students can gain "employable experience" at the same time provide a valuable service to Bowling Green senior citizens. "This should be a learning experience," she said. "It's a chance for students to improve their interviewing skills.

Paquette added that 18 volunteers are needed to work a few hours a week on the project. Students majoring in sociology, psychology, gerontology, social work and journalism may be able to use the project as field experience for academic credit. But any interested individual, regardless of his major, is welcome.

The Monday meeting will be informal and the project will be explained. The field experience credit will be used to help students become more comfortable with their interviewing skills.

Money stressed that the meetings which will be held Monday nights will be both informative and enjoyable. Instruments will be served.

THIS SEMESTER, YOUR READING ASSIGNMENTS WILL PROBABLY REQUIRE AROUND 500 HOURS OF YOUR TIME.

YOU COULD CUT IT TO 150... OR 100. OR EVEN 50 HOURS.

If you find yourself falling asleep when you are reading...
If you have poor comprehension because you daydream while you read...
If you can't concentrate on the material you are reading...
If you can't keep up with all of your assignments because you read too slowly...

You should plan to look into the famous Effective Reading Systems, Inc. program. You know how important reading speed is in studying... classroom work or on the job... and with the high cost of education if you can't keep up... You may be wasting your time and money and future, too! How would you like to increase your reading speed 3, 4, maybe 10 times... with increased comprehension and reduced study time? You can! Thousands of students throughout the country will have the opportunity to take the Effective Reading Systems, Inc. Course including students at Bowling Green State University. Don't wait, act now! Plan to enroll in one of the many Effective Reading Systems, Inc. classes being offered on campus. You'll learn important skills for study, memory, recall and research all with the guarantee that each student must at least triple his or her reading efficiency or we will refund their tuition. (Reading efficiency is a combination of speed and comprehension, not just speed.) What's more, once you take the course, you're automatically a lifetime member, which means you can retake the course to refine and extend your reading skills any time—absolutely free. One more thing, the on campus program is offered at a reduced tuition and all faculty, staff and students are eligible.

Increase Your Reading Speed 50 to 100%.
