inside the news

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.

Adjusting state must pass bills in the Ohio Senate to enter into such agreements.

"It takes two in order to agree for Ohio to have a plan," University Vice President Richard A. Edwards said.

"It would require the Michigan legislature, the Illinois legislature, the Kentucky legislature and the Pennsyl-

* student government associations and adjoining states regarding tuition and student aid.

The states would, in effect, trade full-ride scholarships for dollars, eliminating the search for students. Full-blooded non-Native students would have to formulate detailed data of the recipients, providing similar action in the affirmative action.
new job program
College students from low income families are almost always at a disadvantage when searching for a job. What comes as a surprise from low income families don't have the working record of many middle class students. Many of them didn't get the chance to work when they were teenagers up to a working record. Jobs in the inner city are hard to come by. Secondly, employers sometimes believe that these students have plenty of money, especially if they receive University, state or federal education loans or grants.
And finally, many local employers are not willing to design scholarships that would not involve with students' classes.
But a new program, set up by the Department of Labor under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, has a job program soon.

The program will provide about 45 jobs to area students with family incomes below the poverty level. Under federal guidelines, this means the gross income of a family of one cannot exceed $2,800 a year, with the level increasing $900 for each additional family member. This is an excellent idea.
The jobs will pay $2.00 to $3.30 to $5.30 an hour and will include on- campus and off-campus work. On-campus jobs would involve work in the university's corporation and other area businesses. These jobs will be additionally funded.

Instead of merely offering grants or aid, the government should design programs that would allow low income students whose family income is just above poverty level. Fast food jobs can be handled by most students and there will be gaining experience and job references in the community.

The News urges interested students to attend the 5 p.m. meeting today at the Student Center; Student Services Bldg., where applications for the jobs will be accepted.

You oughta lay off that coffee — it's ridiculously expensive!
guest humorists
sga hopefuls review talent

Elections are just around the corner, and the candidates will soon be lining up for you to vote. To go in order to give students a glimpse of what is in store, we questioned the political candidates about their strategies.
The first candidate we talked to was reluctant to discuss his plans, stating that he had called a secret strategy meeting for his political campaign.

"Actually," he said, "I only declared candidacy two weeks ago. I'm still studying and weighing different options for my platform."
The second candidate interviewed had a unique plan to change student life.

"I firmly believe in the student government's belief in "social and political political and constitutional where have revolutions gone?"

Social and political columnists

"I'm not sure," he said, "but it would be worth a try."

"You know, he just might have a point there."

The second candidate interviewed had a unique plan to change student life.

"Let's start by introducing a new form of social and political political and constitutional where have revolutions gone?"

Social and political columnists

"You oughta lay off that coffee — it's ridiculously expensive!"

guest humorists
sga hopefuls review talent

Elections are just around the corner, and the candidates will soon be lining up for you to vote. To go in order to give students a glimpse of what is in store, we questioned the political candidates about their strategies.
The first candidate we talked to was reluctant to discuss his plans, stating that he had called a secret strategy meeting for his political campaign.

"Actually," he said, "I only declared candidacy two weeks ago. I'm still studying and weighing different options for my platform."
The second candidate interviewed had a unique plan to change student life.

"I firmly believe in the student government's belief in "social and political political and constitutional where have revolutions gone?"

Social and political columnists

"I'm not sure," he said, "but it would be worth a try."

"You know, he just might have a point there."

The second candidate interviewed had a unique plan to change student life.

"Let's start by introducing a new form of social and political political and constitutional where have revolutions gone?"

Social and political columnists
C. Morton, who called the Wright, Morton said. The research center, under the chives from the library to the responsibility for the ar-change administrative third to the fifth floor of the library but also would set the settlement of the Middle East conflict, as celebrating the silver Jubilee of his reign. The opportunity to establish personal contact pay a two-day visit to the U.S. starting President Carter. Informed sources in vestigating committee and refused even to bring him before the Watergate Grand jury. The White House said Carter and Wright and has been sub-will help alleviate space shortages, he added.

Liddy's term commuted; eligible for parole in July

A lawyer for convicted Watergate influence Liddy yesterday morning that President Carter has commuted to eight years Liddy's prison sentence. Liddy will be eligible for parole in July. Federal law permits a prisoner to be eligible for parole after he has served one-third of his sentence. Liddy was the mastermind of the Watergate burglary in 1972. He conceived the plan, he proposed it for approval to John Mitchell, the former chief of Richard Nixon's reelection committee, and recruited the only man who took part in the part. Liddy and James McCord, one of the six men who actually went into the residence, due trial. The other five, including E. Howard Hunt, pleaded guilty.

Liddy was convicted of six counts of burglary, conspiracy, perjury, perjury, and false identification. Federal Judge John Sirica in a term of 15 years, eight months to 15 years, eight months to Bywater.

Liddy steadfastly refused to talk about his role in the matter and went immediately to Washington, D.C., to bring him below the Watergate Grand jury under questioning. Even then, Liddy kept quiet.

Liddy also went before a House investigating committee and refused even to answer his name, much has given any stories.

For that, Liddy was found in contempt of Congress, but no additional time was added to his sentence.

U.S. to give $13 million to Zaire for non-lethal aid

The State Department said yesterday the State Department has approved a $13 million sale of non-lethal aid to Zaire. The aid consists of radio equipment, spare parts for airplanes and vehicles and aircraft worth about $9 million. The rest of the aid to Zaire for 'non-lethal aid' the situation and protect its borders. The spokesman indicated that combat operations had been suspended.

Jabou and James McCord, one of the six men who actually went into the residence, due trial. The other five, including E. Howard Hunt, pleaded guilty.

Liddy was convicted of six counts of burglary, conspiracy, perjury, perjury, and false identification. Federal Judge John Sirica in a term of 15 years, eight months to 15 years, eight months to Bywater.

Liddy steadfastly refused to talk about his role in the matter and went immediately to Washington, D.C., to bring him below the Watergate Grand jury under questioning. Even then, Liddy kept quiet.

Liddy also went before a House investigating committee and refused even to answer his name, much has given any stories.

For that, Liddy was found in contempt of Congress, but no additional time was added to his sentence.

U.S. to give $13 million to Zaire for non-lethal aid

The State Department said yesterday the State Department has approved a $13 million sale of non-lethal aid to Zaire. The aid consists of radio equipment, spare parts for airplanes and vehicles and aircraft worth about $9 million. The rest of the aid to Zaire for 'non-lethal aid' the situation and protect its borders. The spokesman indicated that combat operations had been suspended.

May we 'cure cancer without your help, but don't bet your life on it'.

The way it stands today, American cancer will someday have cancer. That same means, we will see him, I will seek him, we will give him, we will help him. And to expand our detection program and techniques, and we will expand our detection program and techniques, and we will expand our detection program and techniques.

The so-called Leglonnaries' Disease is a New York disease link New York to see whether the deaths of three elderly residents of a care center in New York to see whether the deaths of three elderly residents of a care center... The new law retains a special com-mission to make recommendations in the President on pay raises for Congress and other top officials. The President will decide whether to submit a pay raise recommendation to Congress. Then, both the House and the Senate will have to approve the increase by a roll-call vote.

Under the old law, an increase automatically went into effect unless vetoed by either house.

Recently a 3% pay increase for Congress, federal judges and other top officials went into effect, without any vote on Capitol Hill. It raised a public outcry and led to passage of the new law sponsored by Congresswoman Leo. Kerns said several trustee* will be participating in University functions in which they are specifically interested. One trustee will attend the flying club meeting and another is expected to be present with a University police officer.

A question and answer period will be held between the trustees and 40 student leaders in scheduled for 8:45 a.m. at WAGTV and WAGTV. It will be broadcast live on the channel campus station and will be the digital multimedia system in the University's Computer Center. Ending the viewing period will be an information session where the Trustees will meet with University officials and student leaders.

In answer to the many requests, there will be a tryout practice for walk-on's. Mon. Apr. 18th at 3:00 p.m. at the stadium.

Come prepare for physical activity and report to Coach Beckhalt.

NOW LEASING

New York disease link

The National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta has sent out one of its reports to the doctors describing three elderly residents of a care center in New York. The three men, ages 65 to 80, were found to have cancer. Six others from the care center have been reported, though all report it to be elderly men with respiratory ailments. A New York City radio station interviewed the three men who died and could have had a continuous malaise and respiratory complaint, but additional that there is a possibility the men reported some of the same substances. The investigators have known that cause this disease can be confirmed. And to expand our detection program and techniques, and we will expand our detection program and techniques.

Service open to students in the evening, including Campus Police and the University Union. Corps and student trustees will be participating in University functions in which they are specifically interested. One trustee will attend the flying club meeting and another is expected to be present with a University police officer.

A question and answer period will be held between the trustees and 40 student leaders in scheduled for 8:45 a.m. at WAGTV and WAGTV. It will be broadcast live on the channel campus station and will be the digital multimedia system in the University's Computer Center. Ending the viewing period will be an information session where the Trustees will meet with University officials and student leaders.
Can you be good at something you don't believe in?

Yes.
You can be good at passing tests that are meaningless to you.
You can be good at selling encyclopedias that you know are inferior.
Ultimately, you can even be good at a profession that you don't really believe in.
You can be good. But for some people, being good just isn't good enough.
For the people who brew Busch beer, it isn't good enough. That's why, at Anheuser-Busch, we persist in brewing Busch beer just one way—the natural way.
We frankly believe that's the best way to brew beer.
And when you believe in what you're doing, you just naturally do it better.
Try a Busch.
We believe you'll agree.

BUSCH.
When you believe in what you're doing, you just naturally do it better.
Production set for end of month

'Romie and Juliet' cast reheares

PREVIEW BY DAVE ROSEBY

Most cast members wear costumes resembling those worn in Shakespeare's original production of "Romeo and Juliet." The director, Victor Farkas, has insisted on the authenticity of the costumes, even to the point of having actors wear their costumes for the entire day, not just during the actual rehearsals.

Blood donors needed

For an insight into the entertainment world, read the Perspective page in every Friday's News.

WINTHROP TERRACE
NORTH AND SOUTH
NOW TAKING DEPOSIT ON APARTMENTS FOR SUMMER & FALL OCCUPANCY
SUMMER RATES FOR NEW TENANTS AS FOLLOWS:
- 175/mo 2 people in 2 bedroom 2 bath
- 160/mo 2 people in 2 bedroom 1 bath
- 150/mo 1 or 2 people 1 bedroom 1 bath
SUMMIT TERRACE:
- 165/mo 2 people in 2 bedroom 1 bath
- 155/mo 1 or 2 people in 1 bedroom 1 bath
FALL RATES START AT 67.50/PERSON
OFFICE AT WINTHROP SOUTH
400 E. NAPOLEON ROAD
OPEN SATURDAY APRIL 16 9-12 AND 1-3
OPEN 9-12 & 1-5 MON-FRI
EVENINGS BY APPOINTMENT

BYRNE GATE CLUB
MINI CONCERT PRODUCTIONS
STRICTLY ROCK AND ROLL - NO DISCO - ALWAYS THE BEST IN LIVE ENTERTAINMENT

CONCERT 9:30 P.M.

ELLIOIT BLACK BAND
APRIL 18-23

MAY 9-14

I-475 to Airport Highway - East to Byrne - North to Byrnegate Plaza on right - Just past over pass - South of Hill Avenue
If you find yourself falling asleep when you are reading...
If you have poor comprehension because you daydream while you read...
If you can't concentrate on the material you are reading...
If you can't keep up with all of your assignments because you read too slowly...

You should plan to look into the famous Effective Reading Systems, Inc. program. You know how important reading speed is in studying...classroom work or on the job...and with the high cost of education if you can't keep up...

You may be wasting your time and money and future, too!

The course runs (8) weeks consecutively!
Do something constructive this semester—you've got nothing to lose and everything to gain!

— Don't Wait — Limited Enrollment —

KNOCK OFF A WHOLE SEMESTER'S READING IN ONE-THIRD THE TIME...AND USE THE REST OF THE TIME FOR FUN, FUN, FUN!

Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics
(Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics’ Instructors)

© Copyright Effective Reading Systems, Inc. 1976. All rights reserved.
There’ll be something—or somebody—waiting when the Falcon women’s track team heads to the second annual MAC Indoor Championship in Youngstown.

Promising athletes Larry, Shavy and Hitchcock worked to meet the rising standards of the team.

Male athletes were also on the rise, with a number of athletes setting personal bests and breaking records. The team was looking forward to the Indoor Championship and hoped to continue their success.

Women host pentathlon

Football

The Falcon football team had an impressive showing against a tough opponent, winning 34-10. The team played well defensively and Offensively, with quarterback Tom Smith leading the way. The win set the stage for a promising season ahead.

Pentathlon

The pentathlon was a great success, with standout performances from both men and women. The overall event captured the imagination of the crowd, and the athletes displayed their skills and determination.

Gillian Quits BG squad

Women host pentathlon

The Falcon women’s pentathlon team had a strong showing at the event, with several athletes posting impressive scores. The team worked hard to prepare for the competition, and their efforts paid off.

Healthy Storm paces Falcon thinclads

Healthy Storm, a key member of the Falcon thinclads, captured the 100 and 220 yard events with 3,479 points. His powerful performances were a highlight of the meet.

Gill quits BG squad

Gill, a standout athlete, was ruled ineligible to compete. He had been a key member of the team, and his absence was felt.

Warning to Mid-American

The SU News, a leading university, firm specializing in business recruiting, is preparing for Armco’s visit. The company is working on how to get the best person for the job, and they have a job fair planned for next week.

Environmentalism

-It will muddy those waters.

Environmentalism will be a big issue in the upcoming election, with voters demanding action on climate change and pollution.

Plain Talk about Pollution

We’re going to need another 10,000 jobs here in the country by 1985. These days the average job is only $20,000 to $25,000. So a lot of people are going to have to work longer hours. And the next 10 years, we’re going to need a lot of new jobs.

We can’t depend on one person to do all the work, she said.